Winning or losing

is still going strong. Fifty years have passed and through all the ups and downs the cat has come back. The proud, undefiable, and determined Cougars have made this ...

The Year of ... The Cat.

The students, every one a

keep El Dorado High School going on. With pride and love the Cougars have become number one in The Year of The Cat.

What a QUACK!

The students were thrilled as

came alive at the Homecoming Rally. Other skits proved to be a little wet but unable to dampen anyone's spirit.

1. Left to right: Bobby Cleveland, Terry Tuttle, Tony Yurkovic, and Paul Goyette portray KISS. 2. Chris Delfino, Andy Heuser, and Armando Samaniego receive a soaking from Kathy Kenworthy and Cathy McIntire.

Spirit Week colored the world of El Dorado with Monday as

Day, Tuesday as Hat Day, Wednesday as PJ Day, Thursday as 50's Day, and Friday as Blue and White Day. Imaginations soared as each student tried to outdo the other in originality. In the end, the Juniors came off winners in class competition by having the most students dressed up (or down) during the week.

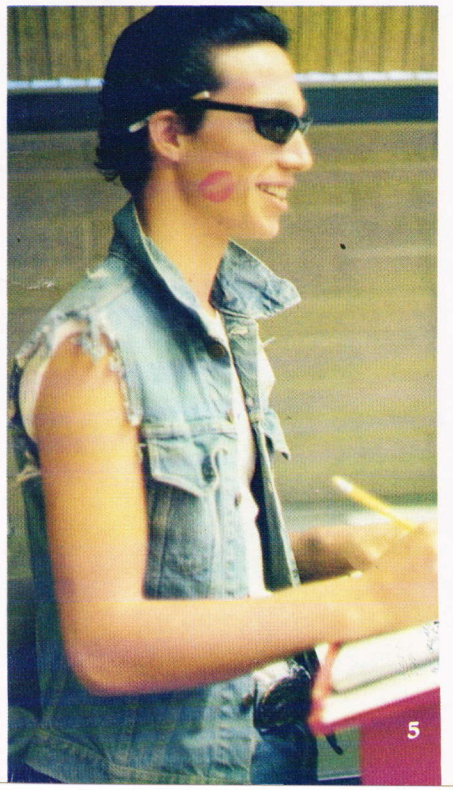

1. Jim Harris stops to admire his reflection in the window. 2. Monique Van Den Dungen Billy and her friends compare PJ's and stuffed animals. 3. The new SMOOCH group deigns to pose for a picture. 4. Jennifer Loving, Rachel Hoover, and Jennifer Ludlam enjoy the early morning sun in their warm PJ's.

1. Cindy Turpin suddenly realizes that she forgot to get dressed. 2. Janeane Wilson smiles at her Panda bear and holds him close. 3. Cheryl Baierski finds juicy words to put in her letter. 4. Tiffany Rolston proudly displays the hottest in hats. 5. Brian Beard is "Joe Cool" in class as he takes roll. 6. Kirsten Larusson glares at anyone who dares to make fun of her new hairdo.

STEVE,
THANKS FOR ALL THE HELP IN FRENCH. IT'S BEEN FUN THIS YEAR AND ALSO IN FRENCH BELIEVE IT OR NOT, CUZ WE HAVE A GOOD CLASS BUT AN ICKY TEACHER! WELL, IT'S BEEN FUN. I HOPE I SEE THIS SUMMER & NEXT YEAR. IF YOU ARE EVER AROUND THE TUBS, DROP BY AND SAY HI! YOU'VE

BEEN SO SWEET TO ME & HELPFUL IN FRENCH. SO WHAT IF YOU JUST TOOK A FAST-ACTING LAXATIVE AND SOME CLOWN IN A MINI-CAR SNEAKED UP BEHIND YOU AND BLEW HIS HORN! SO WHAT IF YOU MIS-TOOK THE HAIRSPRAY CAN FOR YOUR DEODORANT, AND NOW YOU CAN'T RAISE YOUR ARMS. WELL, LIKE I SAID BEFORE YOU'RE REALLY A SWEET & NICE GUY. FRENCH IS ALOT OF FUN WITH YOU, MARC WADE, & JIM IN IT. WELL, I BETTER GO NOW & I'LL TALK TO YA LATER,

KIM BEAULIEU '78

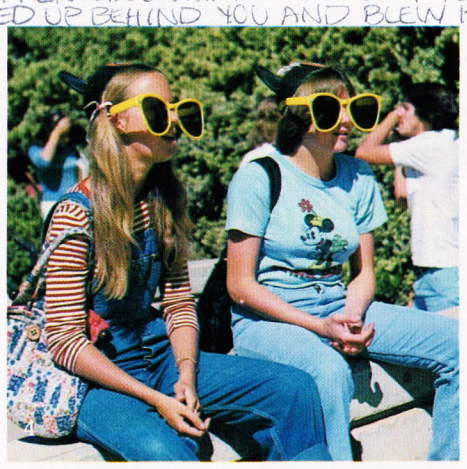

At last Spirit Week ended, and the students recovered their inhibitions and looked eagerly to the Homecoming events. Friday culminated in a colorful parade through town.

1. Lisa Willweber, in deep thought, writes to a secret lover. 2. Lenore Domingas and Kim ~~Ballow~~ BEAULIEU listen to an authority on the 50's fashion fads. 3. Chris Delfino asks Lou Ann Sleep if she'll be his Raggedy Ann. 4. Lou Ann Sleep asks Becky Ward, "Do you see what I see?" 5. Tracy McClintock tells Greg Bullock that he can't have her "Teddy." 6. Trista Miller lets the sun shine in.

The band, in their new uniforms,

started off the Homecoming Parade on Friday. The floats followed, and the procession ended with spirited students cheering from crepe paper-strewn trucks. At the Homecoming game, the Senior float won first place; the Sophomores took second; Juniors, third, and Freshmen, fourth.

1. The Sophomore float strangles Marshall Wildcats. 2. The Seniors anticipate a win. 3. Mark Woolman and Phil Oakes trombone it down Canal with the band. 4. The Junior float kicks off back in 1928. 5. Freshman float belittles Wildcats.

The Homecoming Dance was a gala affair, culminating the theme, "The Way We Were," with everyone in semi-formal attire. "Mystic Wine" hypnotized the audience with rock, and as El Dorado had won the game, everyone's high spirits showed as originality began to creep into their dancing.

1. Kay Conley and Scott More demonstrate the Bump. 2. Lori Bach shows off some fancy steps to the dismay of Marty Adamson. 3. Russell Reichard and Karen Kern take a breather between dances.

The Advanced Drama and Drama II classes presented their Fall Production, "Here, Now, Then, There" the 10th, 11th, and 12th of November.

Colored

with their own ideas, make-up, costumes and lights, the Drama class production evolved into a dazzling combination of talent. Punctuated by humorous blackouts, the acts set a fast-moving pace varying from Lisa Gibson's lipsink of Betty Boop's "I Wanna Be Loved by You," to the finale, "Here, Now, Then, There," dramatized by the entire cast.

1

1. Cathy McIntire, Heather Hamilton, Kim Meschi, and Cynthia Franklin debate on their sexes. 2. Tawnya Schudy and John Frendendall perform "Love Will Keep Us Together," with the amazing likeness of Captain and Tenille. 3. The Android Sisters, Jody Lehman, Kerry Cashwheeler, Chris Montalbano, croon.

1. Lisa Barnes and Marci Angus create "Pickin', Foot-Stompin' Poetry". 2. Cynthia Franklin displays her talents in ballet with daintiness. 3. Scott Moore asks John Thelin the question, "What are you in for?" 4. The entire cast takes a bow as "No Business Like Show Business" plays in the background.

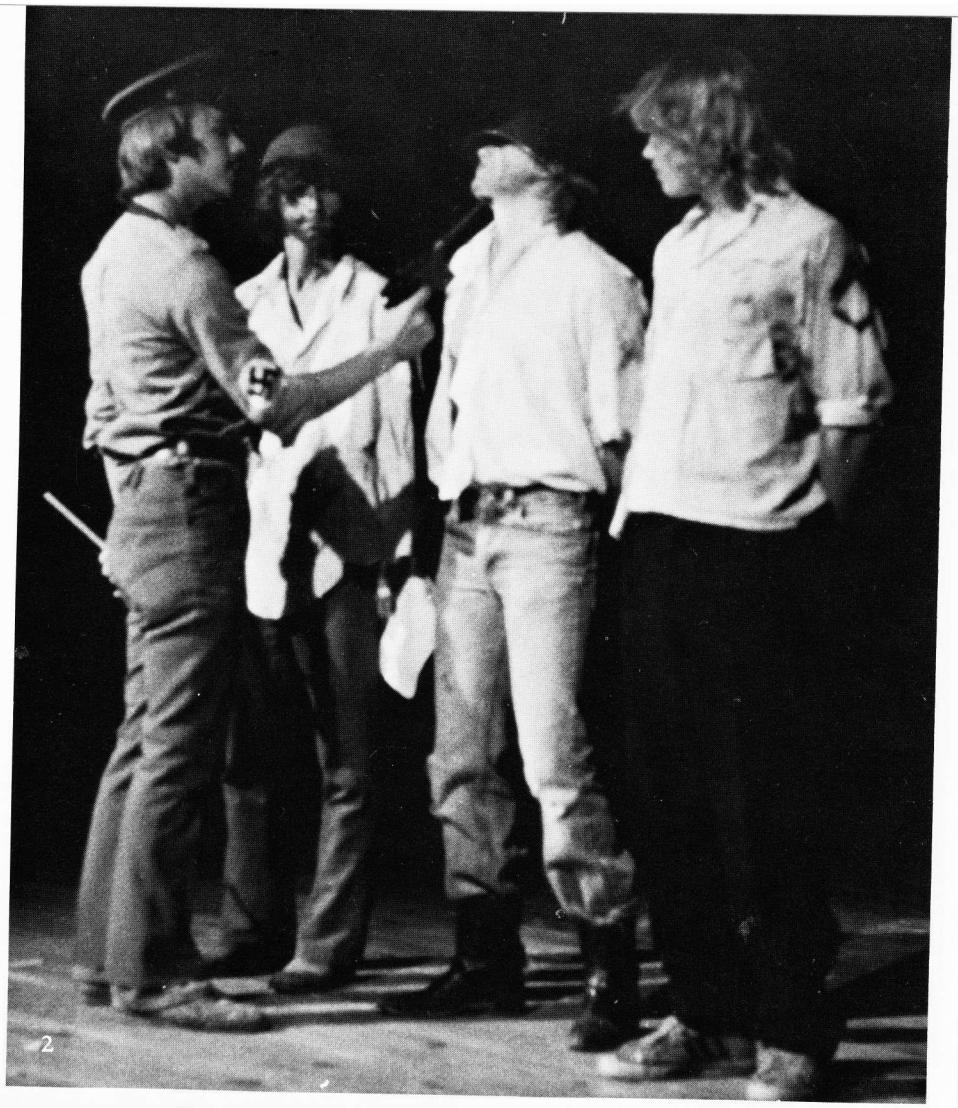

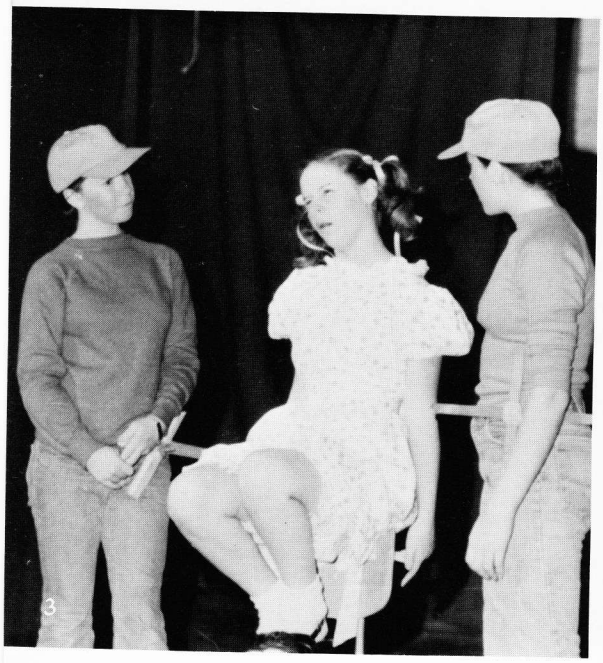

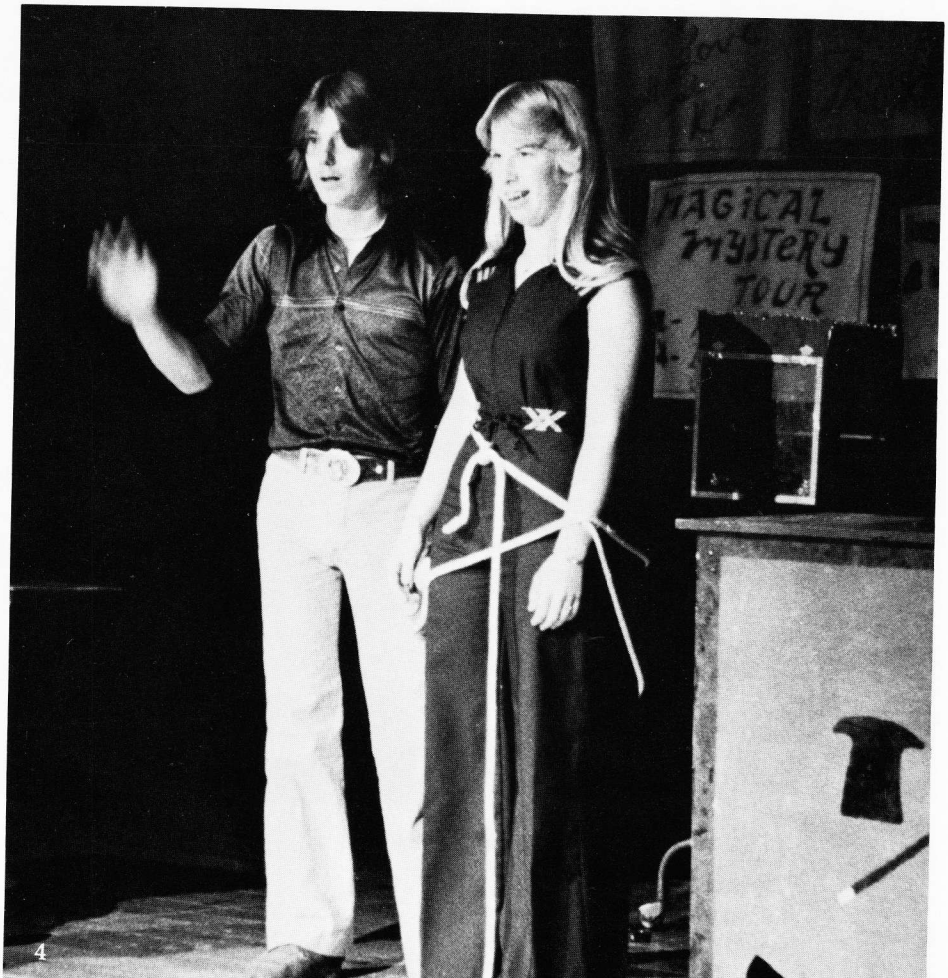

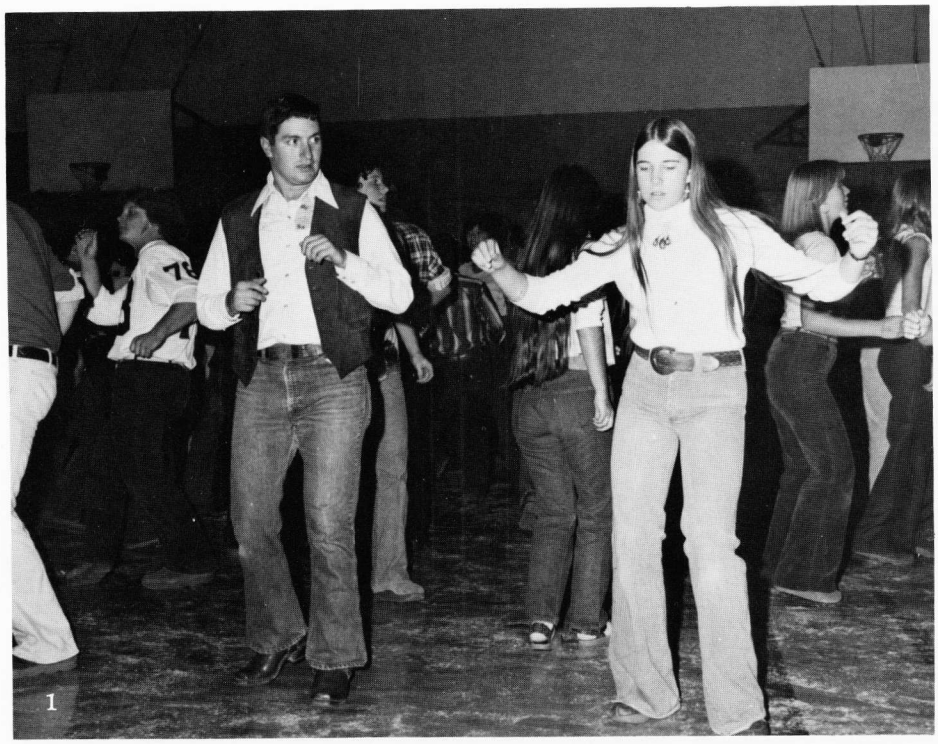

1. . Lisa Gibson tries to feel the cold wind and snow riding her bobsled in "Chi Chi" at Improv Class. 2. Scott Moore threatens his prisoners for refusing to "tock". 3. Beth Perry plans her adventures with her Musketeers, Michelle Begg and Toni Conley. 4. Henry Laird waves his hand to magic as Julie Hamner is untied.

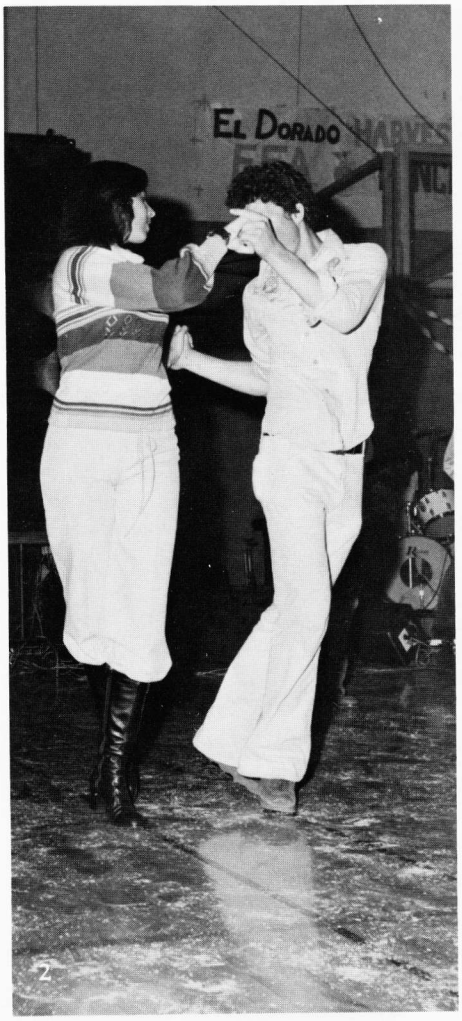

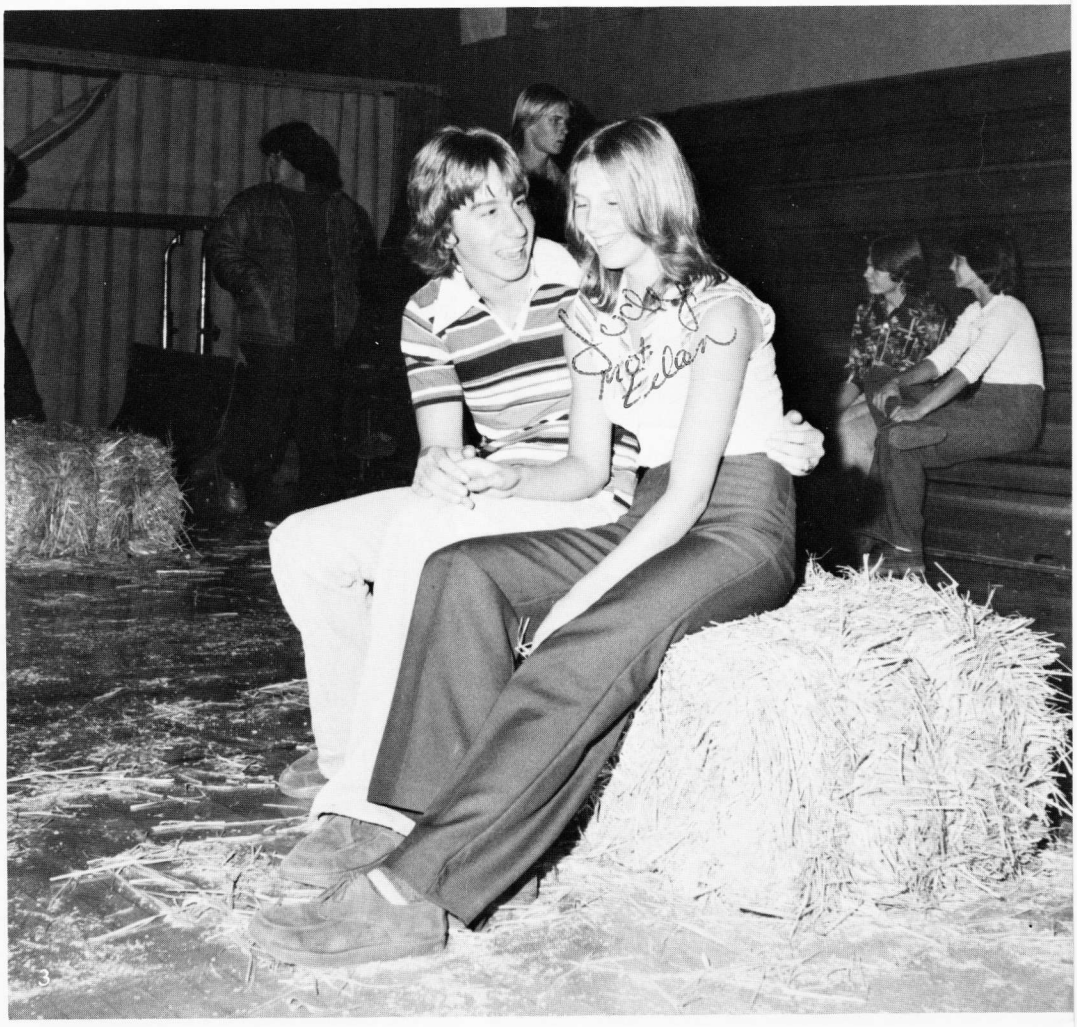

FFA produced an enjoyable Harvest Dance this year, featuring the popular band, North Star. Students took in dancing to its music and conversing cosily on bales of hay, until the climax when Queen Stephanie DeGray was crowned.

1. . Mark Huston and Toni Conley display their terpsichorean—(tûrp'sĭ-kō-rē'ăn)—talents. 2. Lori Patterson and Brian Beard cavort about the dance floor. 3. Brian Christof seems taken with Eileen Mosbacher.

The choral part of the Christmas Concert delighted the audience with renditions of traditional and new

The Girls' Glee sang first, with such songs as "Sleigh Ride," "Christmas Song", and "A Shepherd's Carol". Later the Chanson group offered some less well-known, though not less beautiful, carols. These were "Tan, Tan, Tan", Mary's Little Boy-Child", and "In Excelsis Gloria."

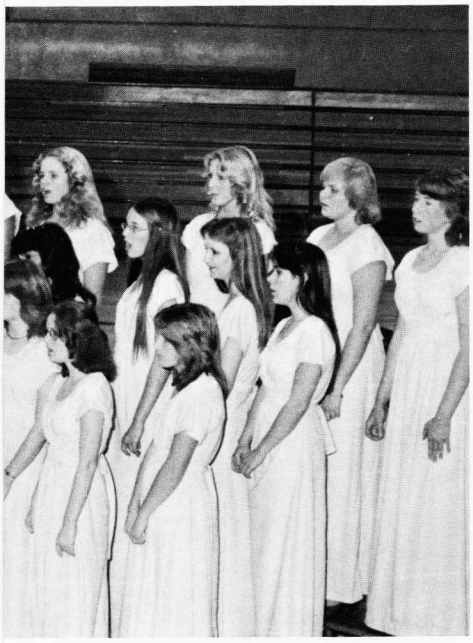

1. The Chanson choir carols with all its might. 2. A quartet sings part of "In Excelsis Gloria". Left to right: Bruce Bredeson, Tenor; Holly Pinegar, Alto; Sue Patterson, Soprano; Rick Nelson, Bass. 3. Mr. Green supervises as Wendy Payton accompanies the choirs.

1. Mrs. B. McGaughey announces the Girls' Glee choir. 2. Mr. Green holds the bowl while Mr. McCormick, from Montgomery Wards, who donated the stereo for the choir's raffle, chooses the winner—F. B. Barry.

The orchestral portion of the program favored the listeners with music from two different bands. The Concert Band played first, then the Symphonic Band—a group of the more experienced musicians.

Both groups played medleys consisting of about three Christmas carols each. The concert ended with a fine feeling of Christmas spirit as the audience sang various carols, with the help of the combined choirs and bands.

1. Phil Oakes and Dario Borelli belt it out on their trombones, while Wendy Payton keeps up with her french horn. 2. Kay Conley, Brian Yates, Robin Goforth, Robin Wills, and Russ Reichard shine in the saxophone section. 3. The clarinets are serious about their Christmas caroling. 4. The band accompanies while the combined choirs sing carols with the audience.

1. Dan Bridges makes his trumpet talk. 2. The Concert Band plays a Christmas medley.

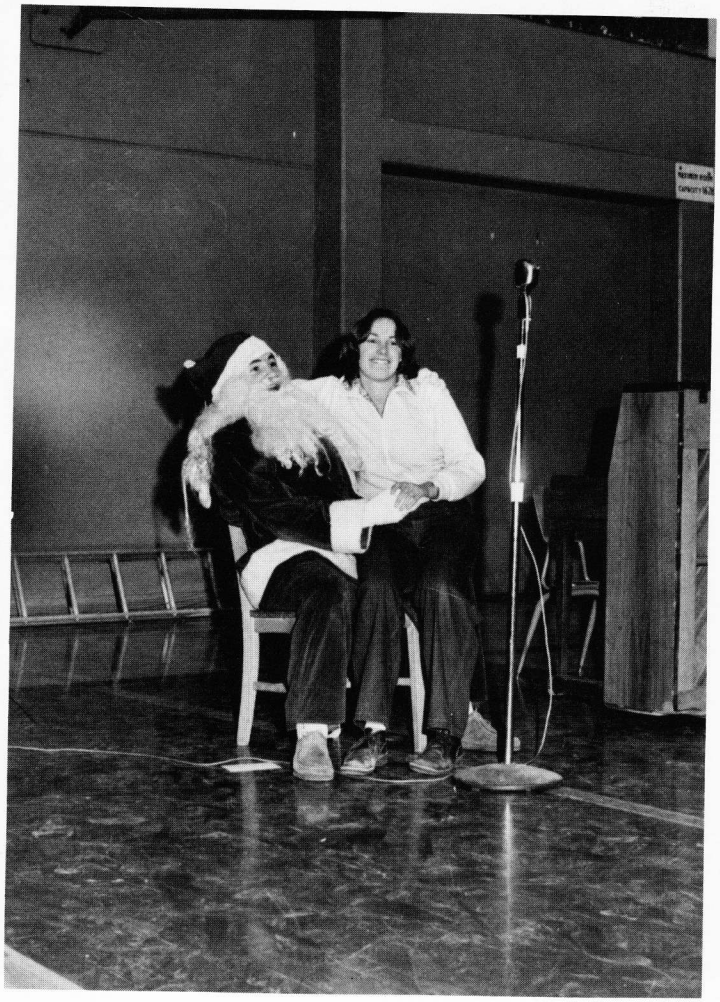

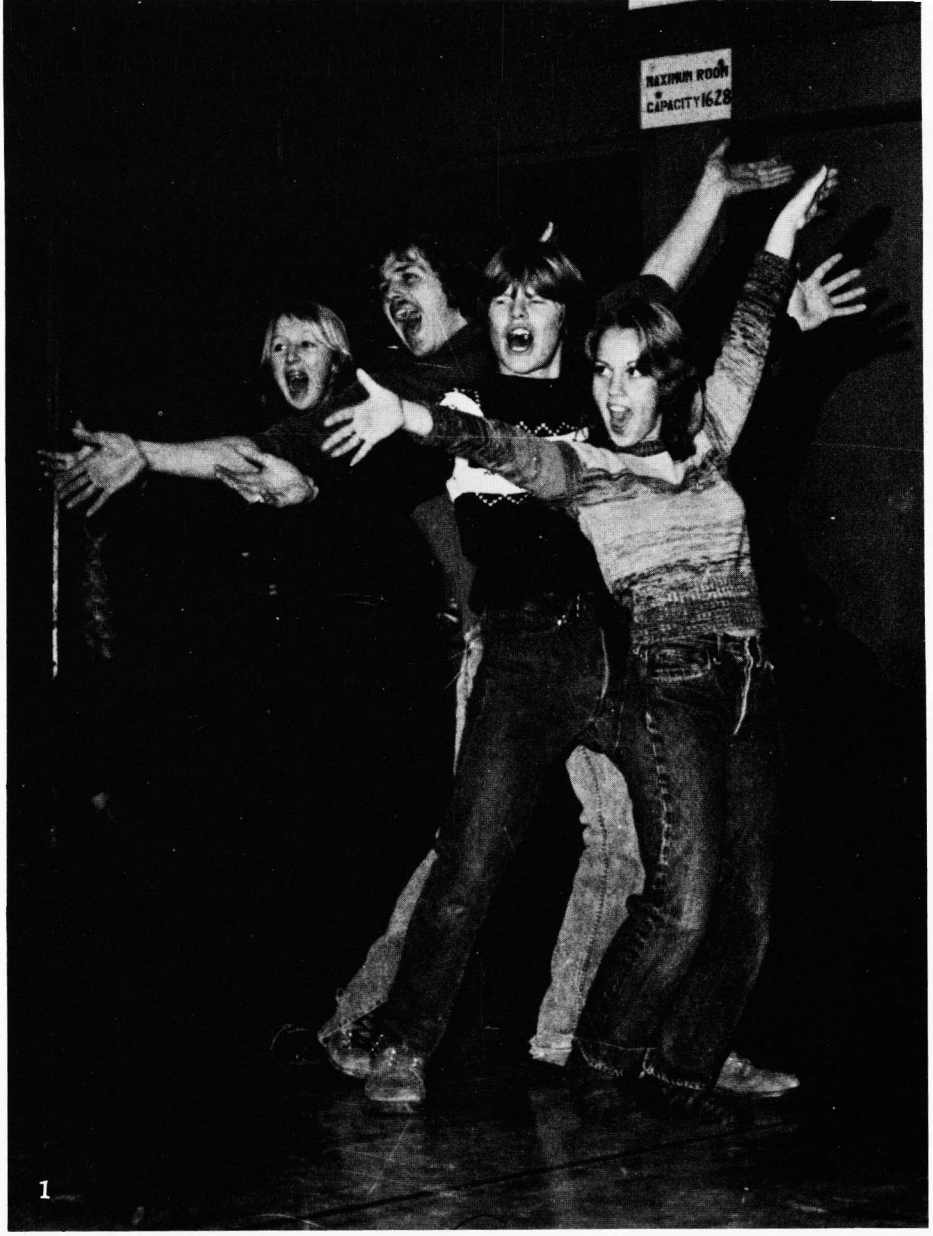

1. Seniors go wild as Santa awards them for their unbeatable yelling. 2. The Drill Team performs??? 3. Songleaders snap to the music. 4. Becky Smith tells Santa what she wants for Christmas. Opposite Page: 1. Jill Brown, David Baker, Mike Beckett and Sandy Humphrey tell the life story of a red-nosed reindeer named Rudolph. 2. Sandy Humphrey sends for the clowns. 3. The Big Blue Music Machine plays Christmas carols.

The Christmas Rally livened up the last day before vacation for students. Sandy Humphrey pleased the audience with her beautiful rendition of "Send In The Clowns". The band played another of its Christmas medleys, but with the appearance of Santa (alias Andy Stroud) things really picked up! After receiving kisses from prominent young ladies, the "jolly old elf" favored the student body with his own special

Christmas

Cheer—for which he is to commended, considering his pants had an aversion to staying up. The Senior class won the Competition Yell—which meant sugarplums from Santa. Becky Smith, our foreign exchange student, gave her farewell address, and the Drill Team made an attempt at the well-known song, "The Twelve Days of Drill Team"—which we will not discuss. The songleaders danced a snappy routine to "Car Wash", and the Drama Team did an enthusiastic lipsink of the chipmunk version of "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer". Then, to the strains of the alma mater, the happy, vacation-bound students poured from the gym.

1. Charles Dalrimple (Brian Watson) proposes a strange toast, to the interest of Fiona McKalren (Jeanne Gray) and Tommy Albright (Jim Orr). 2. Backstage, Craig Merrick adjusts Royanne McCormick's flowers. 3. Gavin Grooms, Sandy Humphrey, Jeannie Herzog and Steve Askins listen rather drunkenly to an unusual story. 4. Jean (Wendy Woodside) and her newly acquired husband, Charles (yes, that's the Coach in a kilt!) watch anxiously as Harry Beaton (Brian Kirbs) enters to begin the Sword Dance. 5. Royanne McCormick, Sandy Humphrey, Norma Bredeson, Debra Worthington, Lorraine Woodside and Pam McGauhey pack Jeanie's things for the wedding.

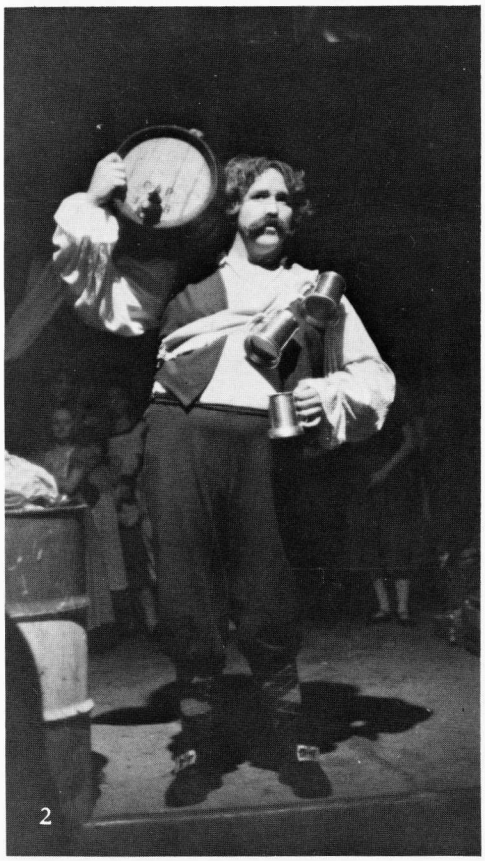

"Brigadoon", produced by Theatre El Dorado, played three weekends to packed houses. The audience thrilled to the action and leaned forward in their seats as they learned the secret of the Scottish Town's miracle.

They watched with fear as this miracle was threatened, and with empathy as true love appeared doomed. It looked like a bleak ending, after all the whimsical songs, lively dances and comedy, but a second miracle was worked in Brigadoon as love triumphed.

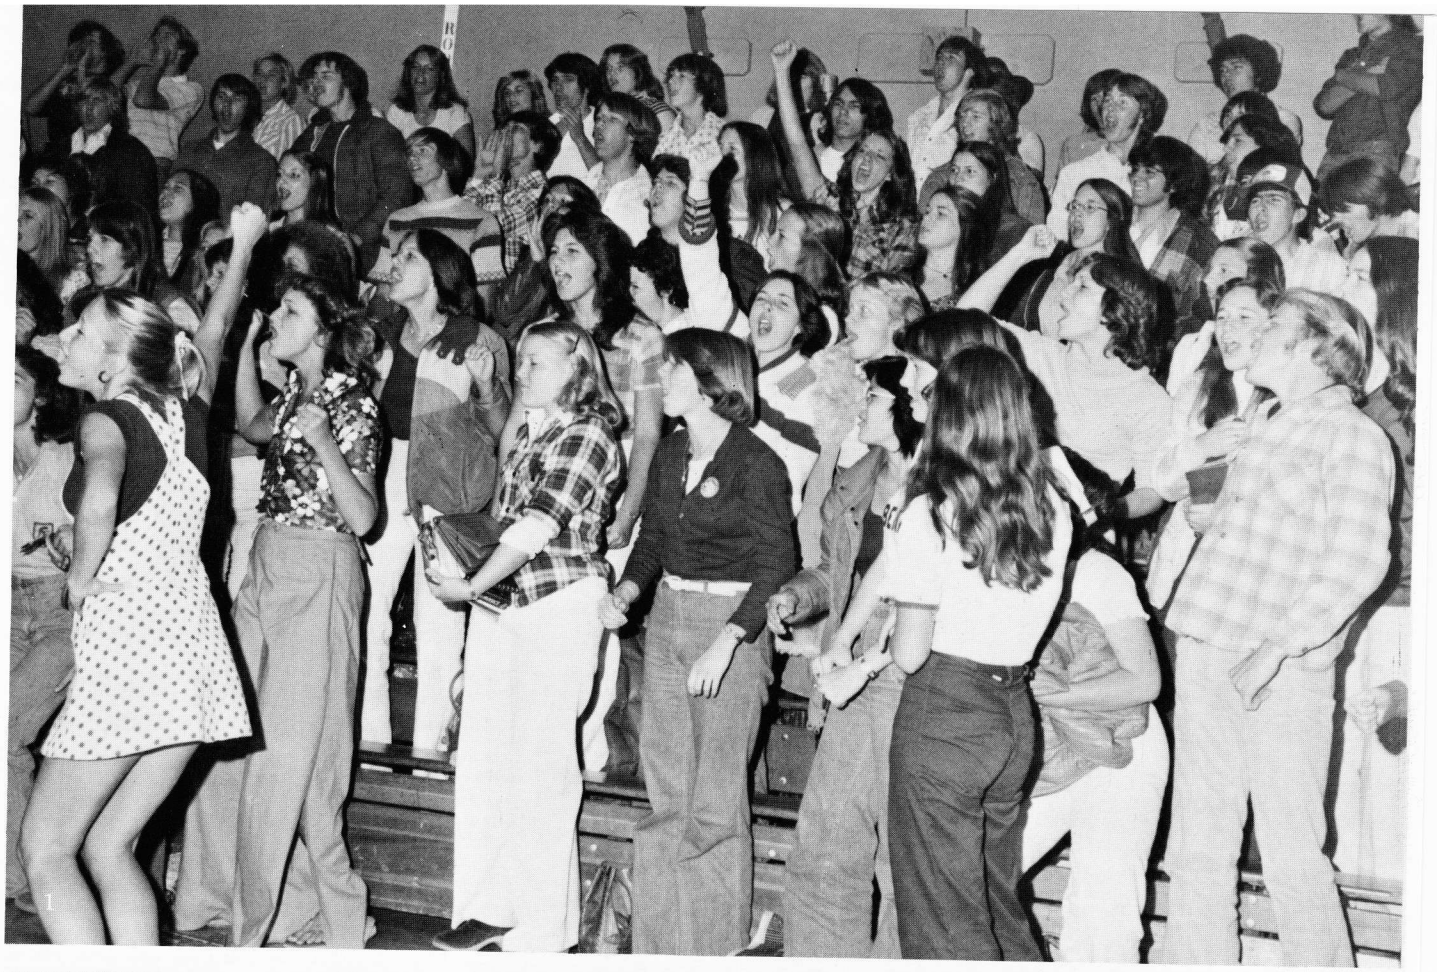

Except for the lead parts, "Brigadoon's cast was mostly young people, many of them from El Dorado.

1. The Beaton sisters mourn over their dead brother, Harry. 2. Bruce Bredeson hoists ale for sale of barter on his way to the fair. 3. Agnus MacGuffie (Darlene Ryan) puts finishing touches on Jean's (Wendy Woodside) dress while Maribeth Marianaccid and Jean Hinds pack up. 4. Meg Brockie (Lorrene Davis) tells Jeff Douglas (John Allen) a nice bedtime story.

1977/78 was filled with fantastic rallies. They excited everyone to go to the games. Afterwards came the dances where good times ended the evenings.

1. Seniors are cheering for their class to win. 2. The dancers boogie to the beat of the band. 3. No "foreign" kissing was the rule at this rally in which the guys, thinking they were kissing their girlfriends wound up kissing their moms. Opposite Page: 1. Lawren Keeler, Dan Beaten, and Chris Delfino have devious plans for Terri Edwards. 2. An exciting skit prepares the students for another victorious basketball game. 3. The rollers retrieve their passes and through team work we are #1. 4. Lisa Gibson wants be to "loved by you!" 5. Karen Garcia twirls her batons with amazin balance. 6. All classes rock out as they listen to the bands.

1. Excitement died down when the Rallies were over, but the cougar spirit was everlasting. 2. The Freshman spirit added to the rally. Opposite Page: 2. Jennifer Amey has thoughts for the people around her. 3. Kim Sehorn cracks up over her classwork.

High School was a relatively new world for Freshmen, so they found little time for boredom. They put their whole hearts into whatever they were doing, from their arrival early in the morning, through their many classes, up to the after-school leisure-hours. With such zeal and determination, it didn't take long for Freshmen to completely into El Dorado.

1. Freshmen appear at school "by the dawn's early light." 2. Dan Bernert and Gary Gayette let nothing interfere with their scientific work. 3. Cliff Rudnick concentrates on one-handed juggling while Eric Baker reclines comfortably on the cement wall.

Some dreams must wait
Life isn't long enough,
Some dreams must wait to come true.
Sometimes it seems Life just begins and then
All of a sudden it's through.

Some dreams must wait,
Life isn't long enough,
Some dreams must wait to come true.
It's nice to know there's all eternity
For everything you'd like to do.

Once again the El Dorado Athletic teams did well in their respective sports. The graduating Seniors aided the Varsity teams with their experience

and ability and also impressed the young upcoming teams. The Freshmen and Junior Varsity teams showed great progress and promise for the future. With their success and accomplishments during the year, it proved to be that 1978 was indeed "The Year of The Cat."

The Cougar Varsity Football team completely turned around from last year, going from a 2-7 season to a 7-2 season this year. Led on offense by All-League Quarterback Terry Tuttle, Receiver Boo Weir, Right Tackle Phil Mosbacher, and Mentions Dave Baker and Ron Fritzmeier, the Cougars came back to enter the C.I.F. semi-finals for the first time ever. The Cougar defense was headed by Middle Linebacker Gary Hood and the line was strengthened by Charley Yates, the strong All-League Defensive Tackle. In the Defensive Backfield Kellert Greenlaw helped to ward off the threats of the opponents.

Honorable

Freshmen and J.V. practiced as one team under the coaching of Gary Kenworthy, Cliff and Chuck Willweber. They

this situation and ended up with a record of 5-1-1, losing only to rival Ponderosa and holding Casa Roble to a 6-6 tie. Their offense was led by Quarterback Mark Everingham and the excellent running of Tim O'Halloran, Phil Bishop, and John Morrison. Although principally a running team, the Freshmen often picked up needed yardage with passes from Everingham to Jeff Bookmeyer.

The Varsity Volleyball Team had a fantastic season. Most of the players were new but they finished the season with a 10-4 record and took second in the League. Takako Chikyu, our foreign exchange student from Japan, was one of the most outstanding players. She helped the Cougar pride but Rio Linda was still able to sneak by winning both games.

The Junior Varsity Volleyball Team ended their season with a great 11-3 record. With their outstanding team work they

2nd place in League, and at the end of the year the League record was 8-4. The games against Ponderosa were close, but they were able to barely get by us.

The girls tennis team started out with a great Doubles Match, led by Terri Harrell and Sharon Mello. The team record was 8-6 in which two Matches were won without their opponent scoring.

The most valuable player was Candy Kyberz, who, returning from last year's team, did an excellent job. The most outstanding record was by Cheryl McDavid, with 12 wins and 2 losses. Jenny Scott was voted Most Improved Player.

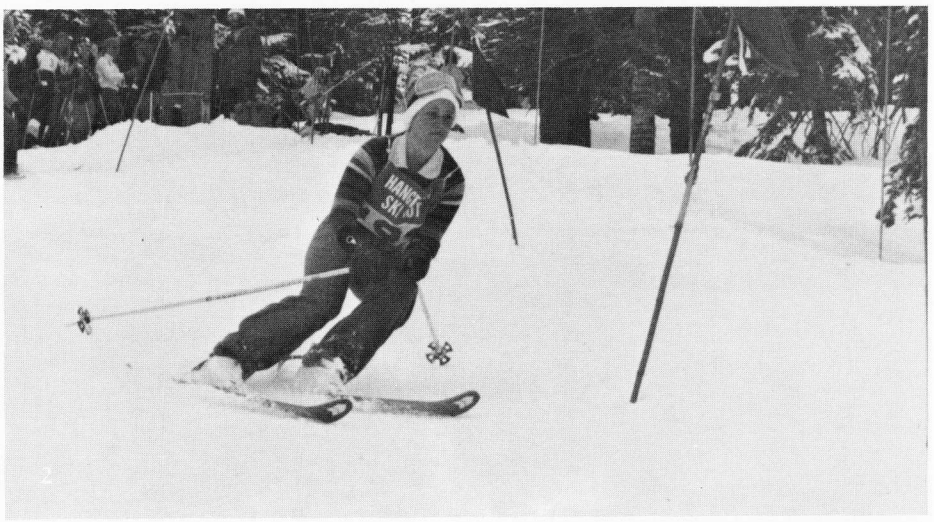

The Ski Team did well once again. The team was highlighted by Christain and Sue Chappell.

The team was also helped out by the performances of Dave Baker and Lauwren Keeler. Many of the members participated in the state meet and did very well. One of them was Christain Chappell who finished 5th during the first of the two days.

The Cross Country team had a very strong

girls team this year, coming in first against Marysville. In GEL the Freshmen came in first place, the Juniors in third place, and girls in second place. In the Sub-Sections the Freshmen came in Fifth, Juniors third, and the girls third. Awards were: Outstanding Freshman-Sophomore, Wayde James; Outstanding Varsity, Eric Baker; Outstanding Girl, Jo Linda Christopherson; and Most Improved, Mike Nicholsen.

This was a great year for athletics at El Dorado and the Basketball team was no exception. The Varsity team easily won league and went on to the Tournament of Champions play-offs. Marvin Penner was the team's most outstanding player. He scored almost half of the Cougar's total points and won the honor of the Golden Empire League's most valubale player. Coach Terry Battenberg was also honored, but as Coach of the Year. This was an honor well deserved as he has led his team to the playoffs for two years in a row.

1. Terry Tuttle shoots as teammates Dale Garrison and Joe Grove prepare to get the rebound. 3. Frank Henning shoots in a game against South Tahoe. 4. Chris Arnold goes for a lay up during the Gold Dust Tournament.

Faced with one of the toughest schedules in recent years, the J.V. Basketball team didn't do quite as well as they had wished. Although they didn't have the best record they did well enough to keep up with most teams they played. This young team kept their

in the worst of situations and should provide a good base for next year's varsity team.

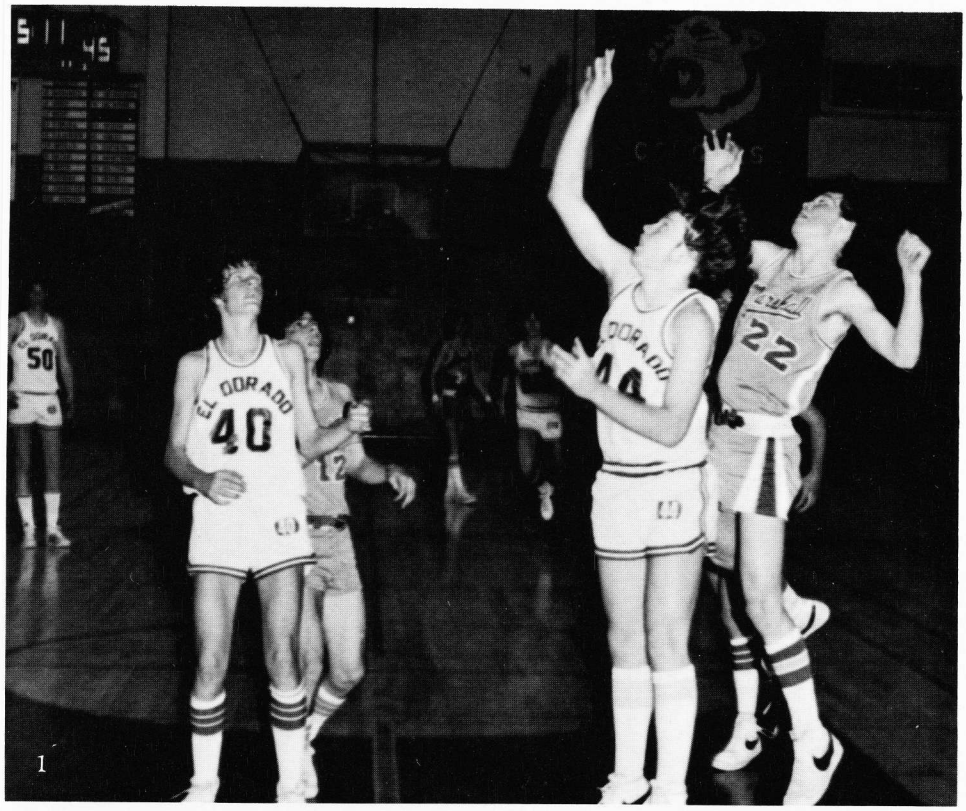

1. The J.V. team goes for the tip in a pre-season game. 2. Greg Tuttle opens up a greater lead by sinking a couple of free throws. 3. The J.V. The Freshman Basketball Team gained much experience and enjoyed a good season at the same time. George Parker coached the team and

them for their futures in Basketball at El Dorado. Many of the Freshmen went up to Junior Varsity at the end of their season and got introduced to the J.V. Coach and players. This also helped prepare them for next year.

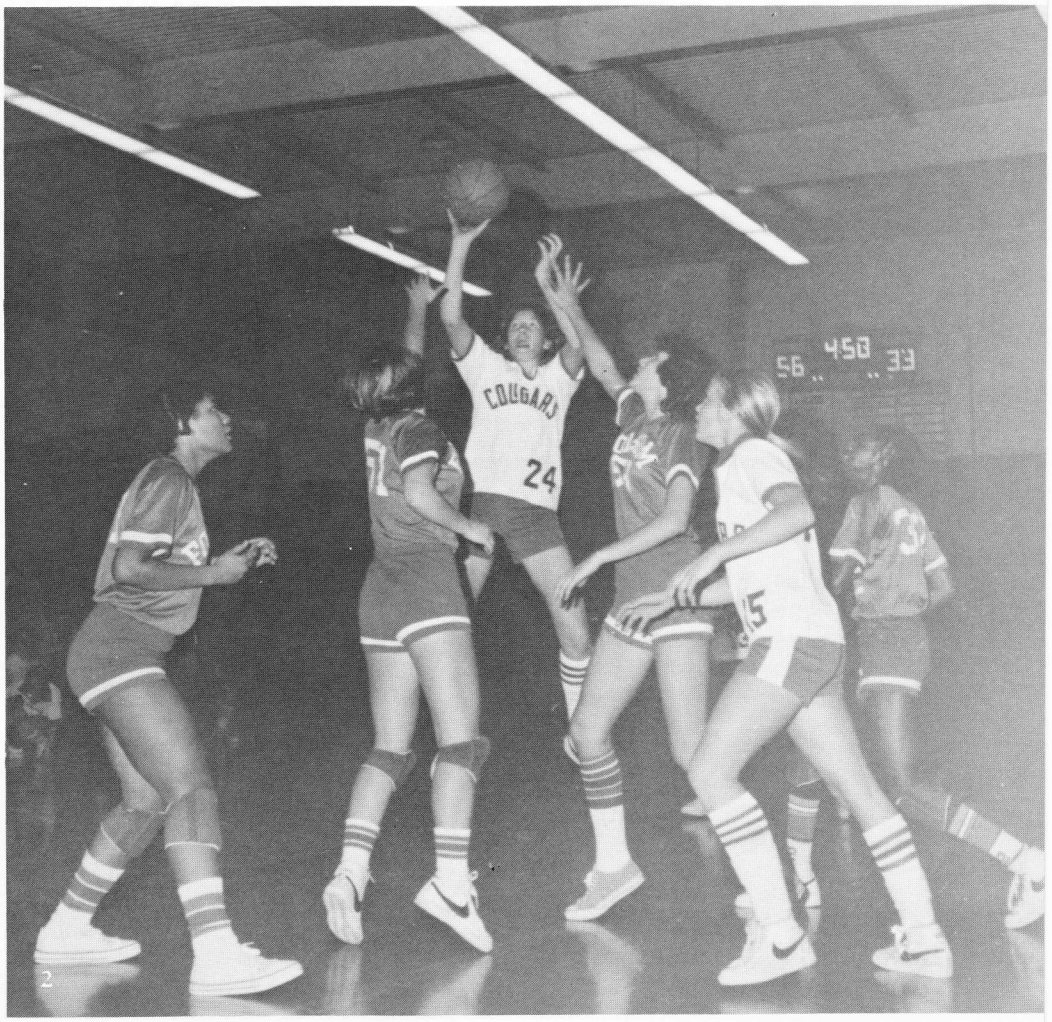

1. Mark Everingham shoots from underneath the basket. 2. El Dorado wins the tip off. 3. Greg Horton shoots for two.

The Girl's Varsity Basketball team gained a lot of

during the season. They came in 4th place in the GEL and a League record of 8 wins 6 losses. They had very tight games against Ponderosa losing one and winning the other.

The El Dorado track team broke into the season with a huge team and strong in every event. Before three meets were over, it was evident that El Dorado had another winning team seeded to capture the GEL chapionship. The girls team was unparalled in the entire area, beating top non-conference teams such as Bella Vista, Oakmont, and Placer. On track and field too, it was the year of the cat.

1. Ron Fritzmeier displays his strength as he throws the discus. 2. Bill Bishop gets air on his final try at the long jump. 3. John Yurkovic crosses the finish line first in the 70 high hurdles early in the season.

1. Rich Ludlam and Marty Peterson cross the finish line with Tony Yurkovic close behind. 2. Dana Foy finishes in front in her heat at the season's first meet. 3. Rick Jones looks strong as he paces himself for another lap. 4. Jo Lynda Christopherson once again is the first in her event. 5. Terry Davis breaks the tape and emphasizes Cougar domination.

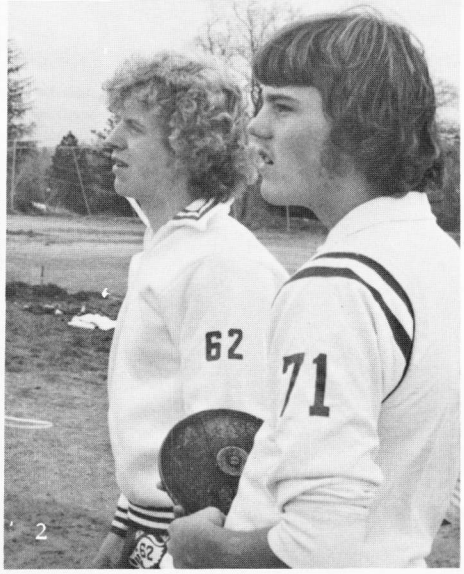

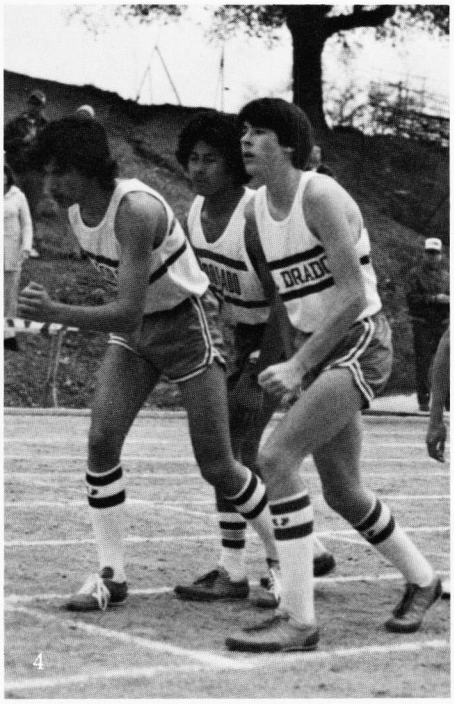

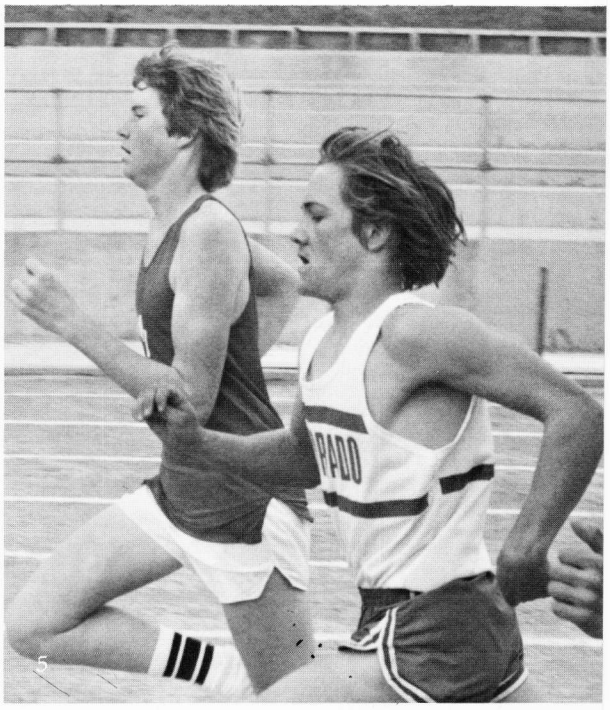

1. Coach Meyers gives a final word to his team. 2. Dan Beaton and Marty Adamson watch their opposition. 3. Judy Mosbacher passes the baton to JoLynda Christopherson. 4. The J.V. relay team gets ready to begin their race. 5. Dan Bernert strides toward the finish line. 6. John Yurkovic takes the baton from Keith Miller. 7. Bob Cleveland gets some air over the high hurdles.

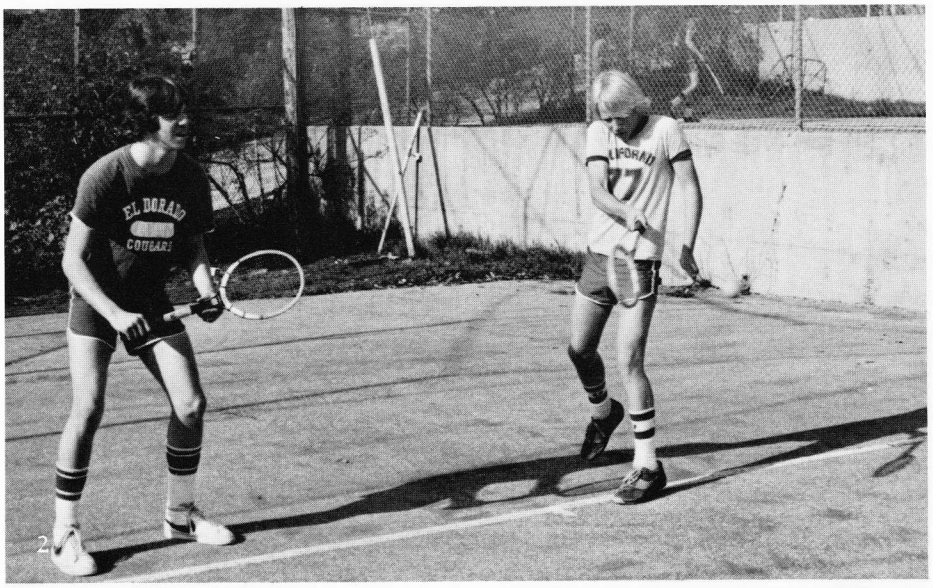

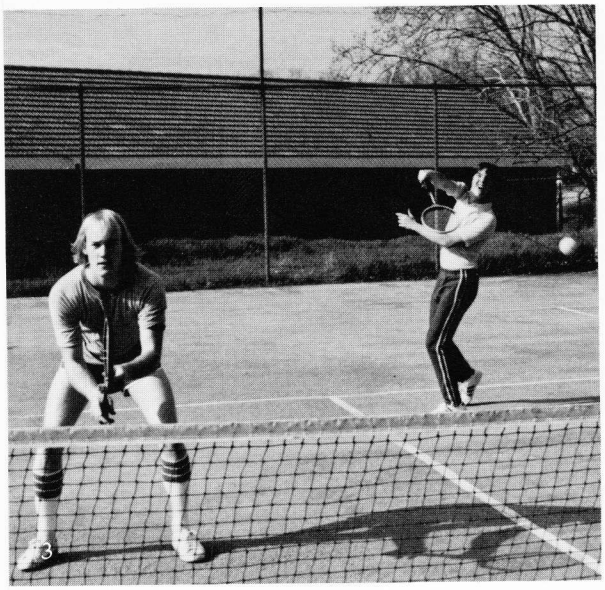

The Tennis Team did well once again under the coaching of Frank Piceno. The Tennis Team, like many of El Dorado's teams, was short on experience but had plenty of talent.

The team gained needed playing time in preparation for next year's team.

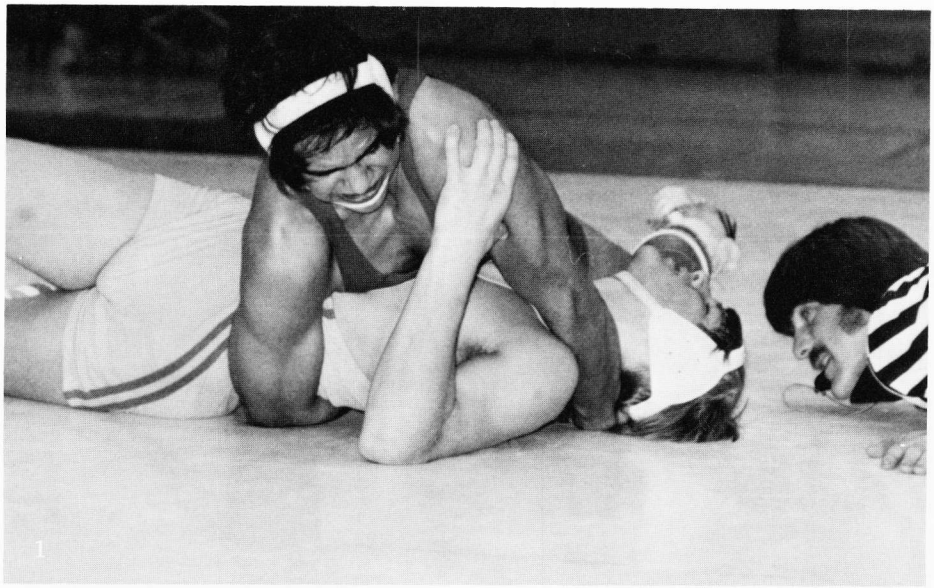

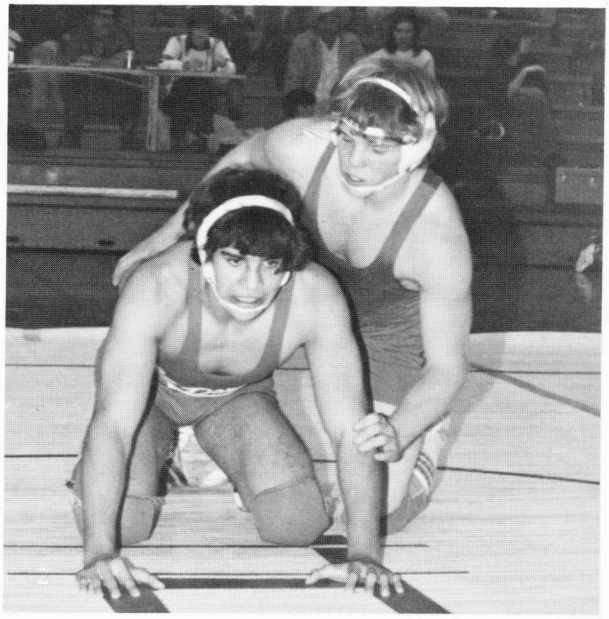

1. The El Dorado Tennis Team and Coach Frank Piceno. 2. Walter Mathews returns one as his doubles partner stands prepared. 3. Stephen Cox and Dave Pratt work on their teamwork at practice. 4. Bruce Dezanni concentrates on the out come of his shot. 5. Peter Koszolka prepares to fire one back at his opponent.

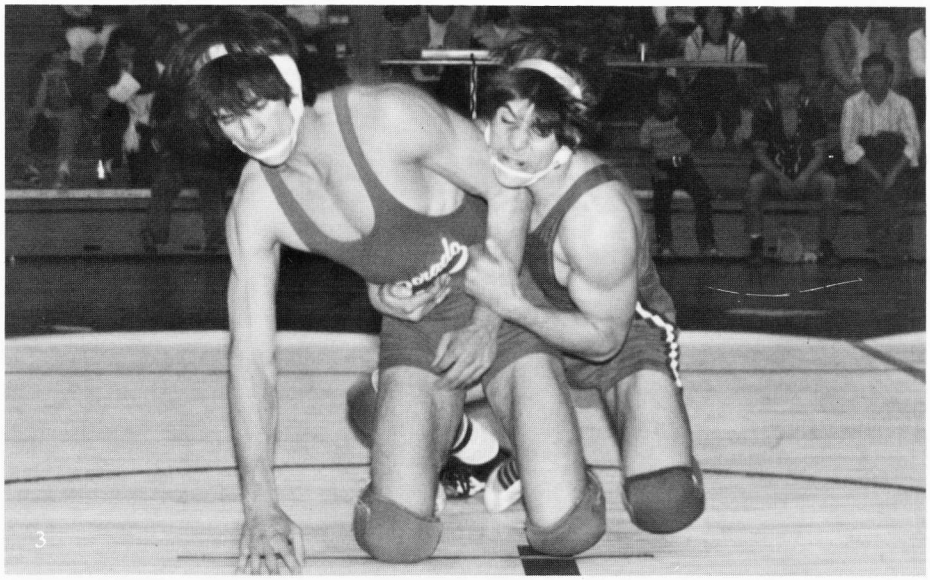

The El Dorado Wrestling Team, coached by Gary Kenworthy, did a good job this year. The Most Valuable Wrestler Armando Samaniego, who went to subsections but didn't do as well as he would have like to. The number of peopel out for wrestling increased and especially in the lower weight

where our team had improved greatly.

1. Armando Samaniego pins another of his opponents. 2. Here Armando gets ready to escape the starting position hold. 3. Dave Samaniego frees himself from Joe Pacileo of Ponderosa's hold. 4. The El Dorado Wrestling Team and Coach Gar Kenworthy.

The El Dorado swim team hit the water with a young but talented crew. The diving team, with both new and experienced divers was especially strong, showing skill and coordination

in executing dives of various levels of difficulty. The girls showed strength in nearly all events and dusted off (or should we say "rinsed off") most competitors. The long distance team consisted of mostly younger swimmers who worked hard to build up their endurance.

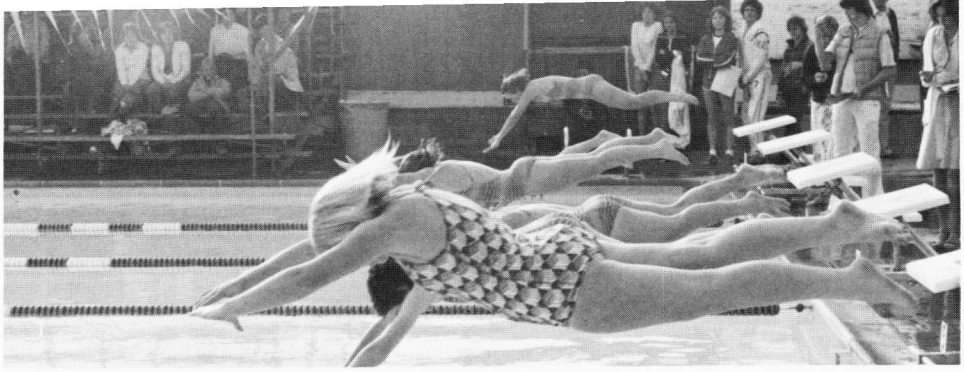

1. The swimmers line up on the blocks, ready to race. 2. Coach Kenworthy checks the score.

Front Row: J. Amstutz, M. Huston, G. Helm, B. Christof. 2nd Row: T. Thelin, M. Donahue, J. Dauksafage, R. Wix, S. Huston. 3rd Row: S. Peterson, V. Harrell, B. Young, D. Anderson, P. Bishop, Coach Kenworthy. Not Shown: Bill Gann.

1. The Junior Varsity Baseball team displayed their talents in a pre-season game against the varsity team. The

of this team is very good as they provided our varsity team with a challenge. The El Dorado Baseball program has really picked up during the last few years, and with fine playing like this team did it can't help but get better.

1. The El Dorado Junior Varsity Baseball team and Coach Frank Santangello. 2. Dan Hernandez shows a good strong arm during the game with the varsity. 3. Mike Foy charges after a bunt hit by one of varsity players. 4. The J.V. bench watches with disappointment. 5. Robby Powell rounds first and heads for second.

After several losing seasons the El Dorado Baseball team got back on the winning track under the expert coaching of Ray Everingham. The team last year did well enough to get ranked in the California top ten and this year hope to do the same. The team had an excellent pitching staff and plenty of support in the field. The baseball team was another of the many fine teams that excelled in The Year of The Cat.

Superior

1. Tom Piper covers home plate during an early season game against Amador. 2. Harry Maulucci is ready to tag first base to put away another batter. 3. Bob Cleland takes a good cut at the ball.

coach this year, Cliff Floyd, to help out Watson. Many enthusiastic girls tried out for the softball team. The team proved to be very strong, with no problems at the start of the season.

1. Watson stands out on the field to help coach while they practice. 2. Katie Morris runs with the ball. 3. Kelly Reddin warms up to pitch the ball. 4. Chris Meyer gets ready to hit the ball.

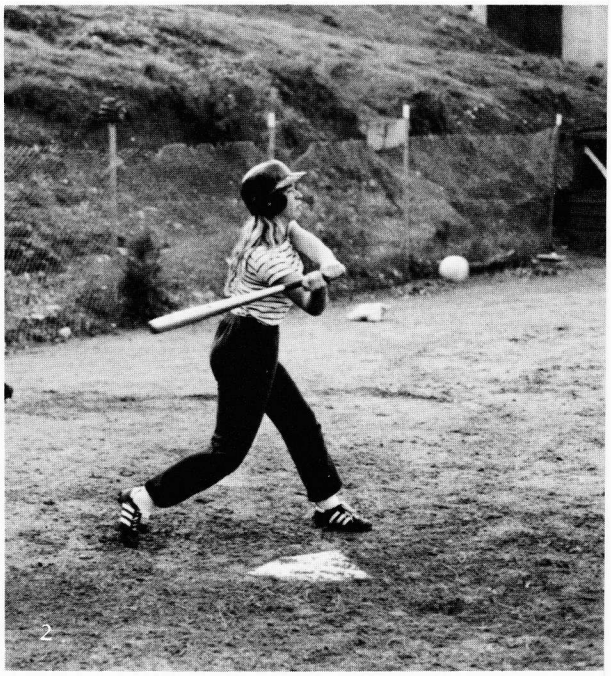

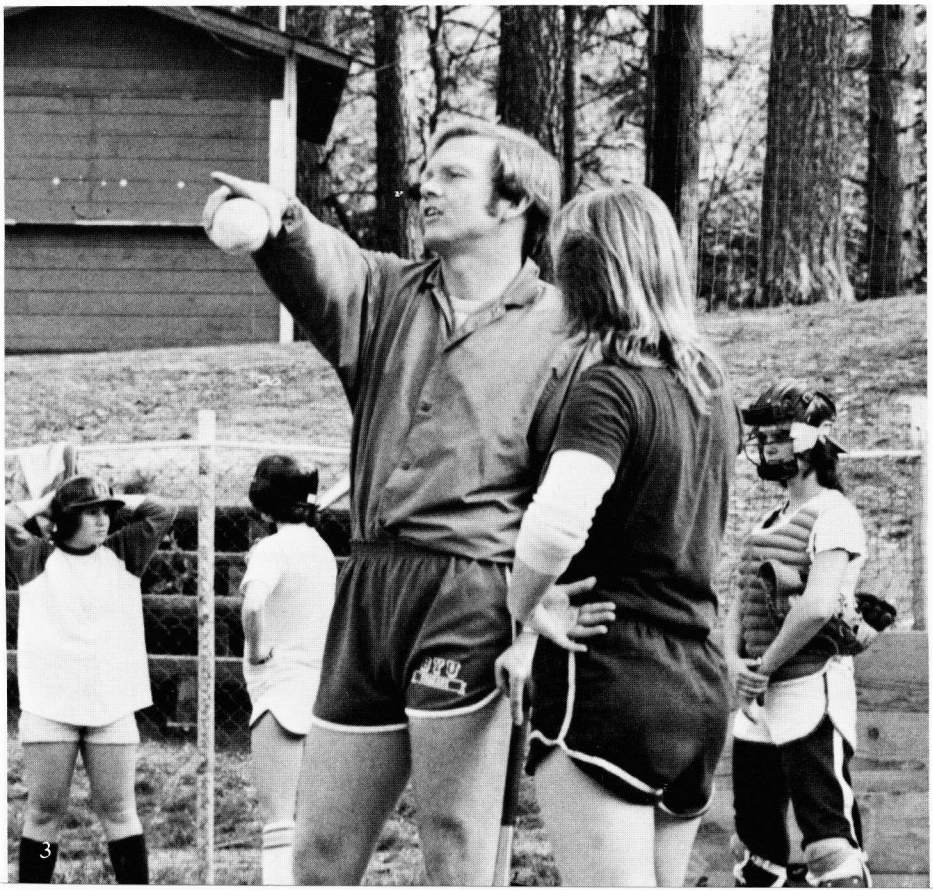

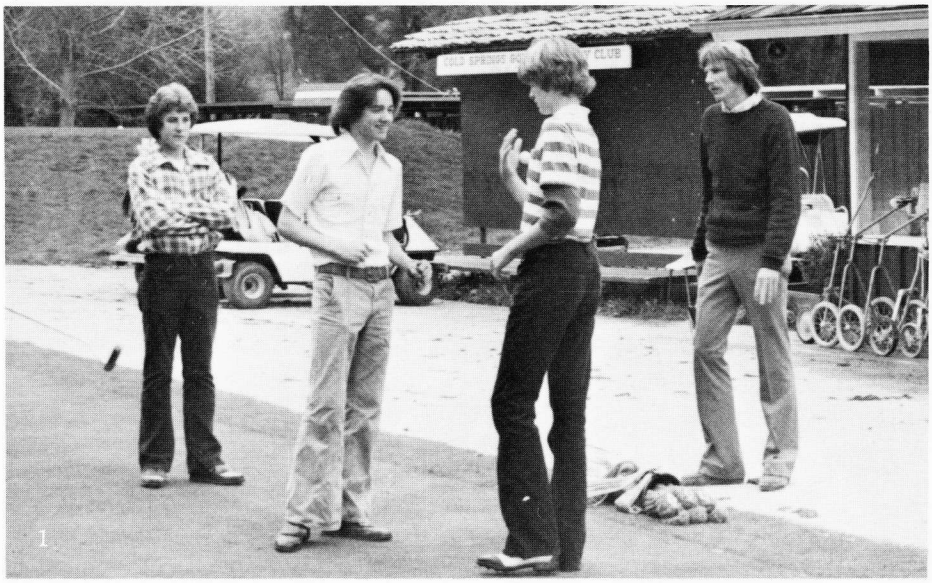

1. Debbie McIntire does an outstanding job as a catcher. 2. Julie Hamner goes for a hit. 3. Coach Watson gives some advice to Cathy McIntire. 4. Michele Worthington gets ready to throw the ball to a team-mate.

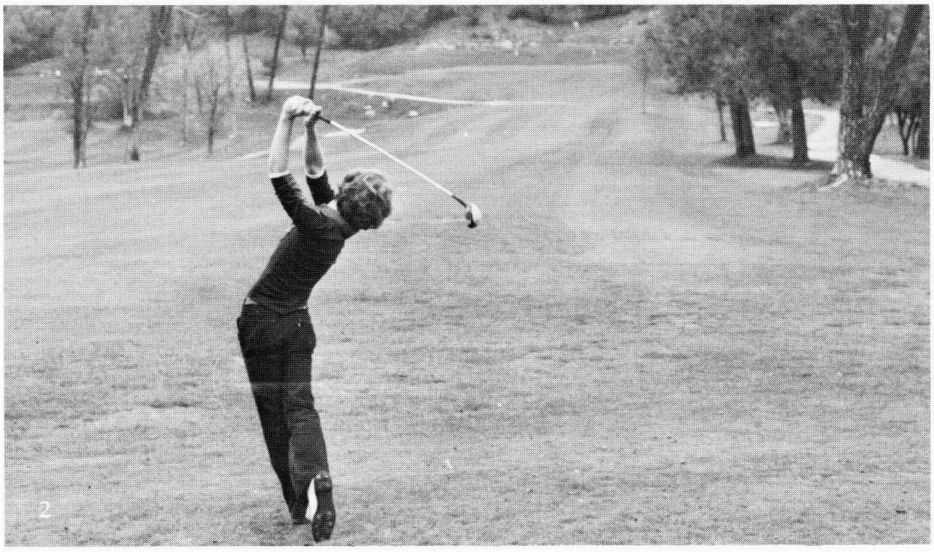

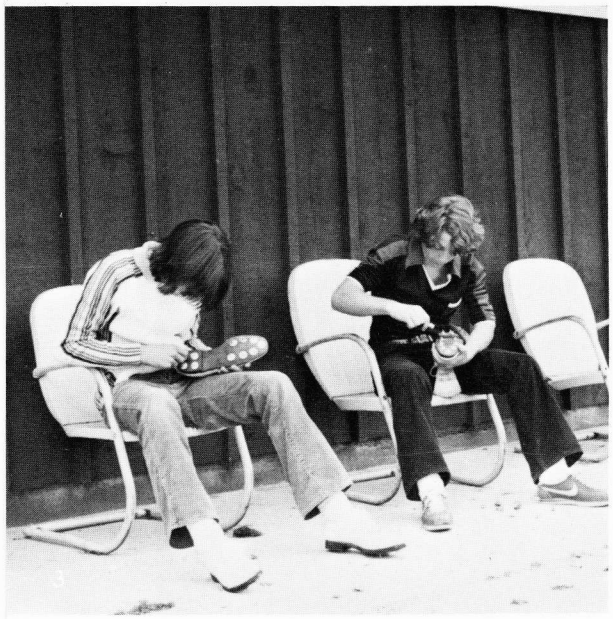

The El Dorado Golf team looked forward to another good season. Finishing second in league last year provided a good

to improve themselves this year. With only one senior, the outlook is good for this young team.

1. Rick Berridge and Greg Tuttle set the wages for a putting match as Roy Robinson and Coach Mike Golomb look on. 2. Freshmen Mark Everingham sails one towards the hole. 3. John Pringle and Mark Everingham tighten up their spikes before going out on the front nine. 4. Bob Edwards hits his drive and hopes for the best.

Two major

were made at El Dorado High. A new schedule was introduced to the students, and though skeptical at first, the students soon adjusted to the change. The slipped schedule brought about smaller class sizes and a more relaxed atmosphere in which to learn, while also providing multiple and longer lunches, which gave sophomores time to talk with friends, catch up on school work, and get away from noise and confusion of the school day. The second change came about when the Driver's Education program was given portables in which to hold class and two more, much-needed instructors were added to the staff.

1. Julie Couch and Eileen Mosbacher enjoy a quiet lunch. 2. Kathy Box and Kim Armstrong talk between classes. 3. Sophomores stand and let their spirit be known.

Whether attending classes, rallies, or eating lunch with friends, sophomores maintained a

outlook toward the day and the activities it brought.

1. Kathy Box, Lori Tovar, Carisa Bennett, and Michele Worthington sit with their class during a rally. 2. Kelly Reddin is confused by a friends actions. 3. Sheri Artrip, Kathy Davis, and Cheryl Griggs relax on the lawn during lunch.

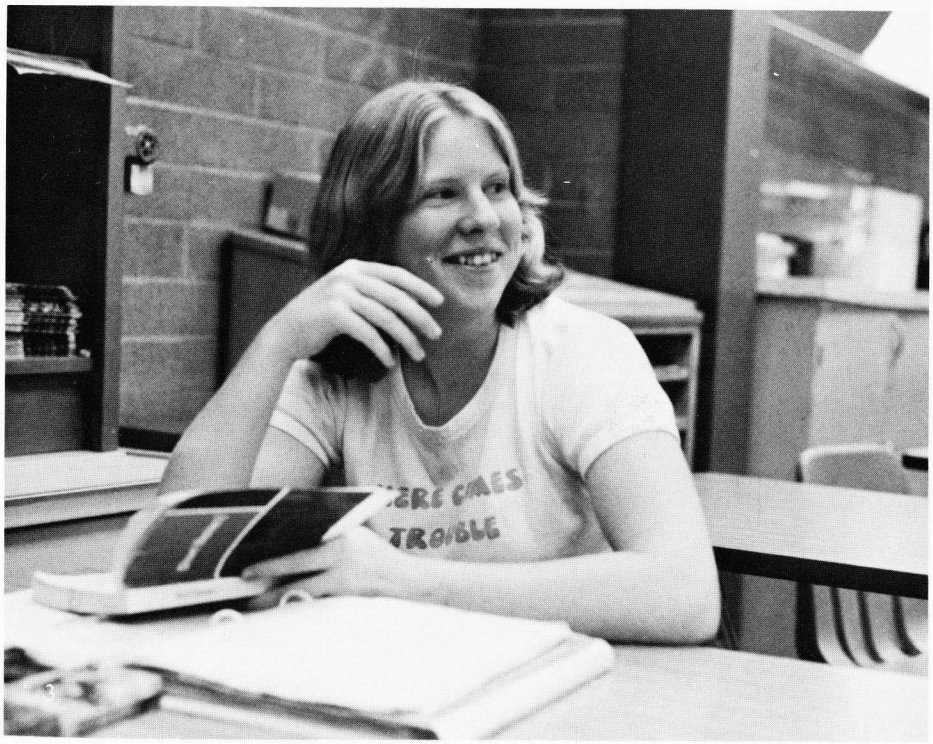

Sophomores were part of the many

faces seen around the El Dorado High School campus. The second year class members milled about during meetings, lunch, and between classes. In classes or on campus sophomores were never at a loss for words or something to do.

1. Mr. Lambirth exemplified the Year of the Cat by taking a catnap. 2. Mr. Denega arrives at school on a gloomy morning during one of the early rains that broke the drought. Opposite Page: 1. Mr. Garmire, Ms. Tetsell and Mrs. Martin watch the proceedings at an assembly. 2. Ms. O'Neil, sans Afro, works in the library.

1. Mr. Hemington, superintendant, listens attentively at a board meeting. Board members this year are (2) Mr. Veerkamp, (3) Mr. Tarlton and Mrs. Stripe, (4) Mrs. Garcia, and (5) Mr. Gossner. 6. Mr. Say works on the district budget. 7. Mr. Kittrell takes a break from directing school curriculum. 8. Mr. Rucobo pauses while adjusting a work experience schedule.

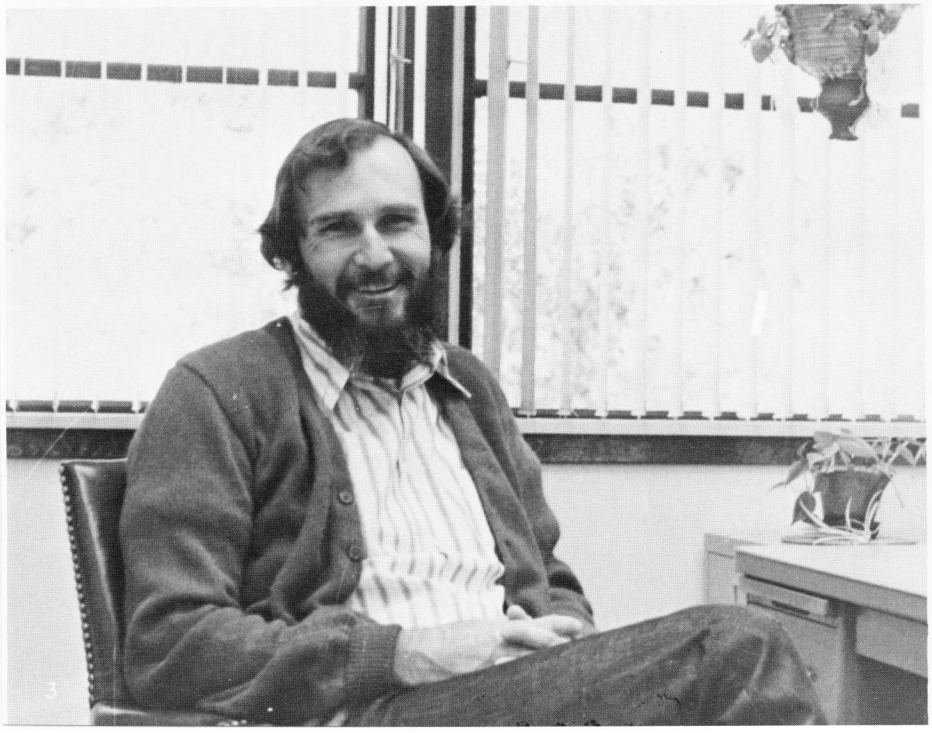

The District Office

the problem of distributing students to El Dorado, Ponderosa, and Independence high schools. They also organized the split schedule for the 1978-79 school year.

1. Mr. Vancamp talks to Mr. Cate, asst. superintendant, about district communications. 2. Mr. Tuttle listens to a student's problem. 3. Mr. Aldea organizes R.O.P. classes. 4. Mrs. Caruthers checks on El Dorado high's medical supplies.

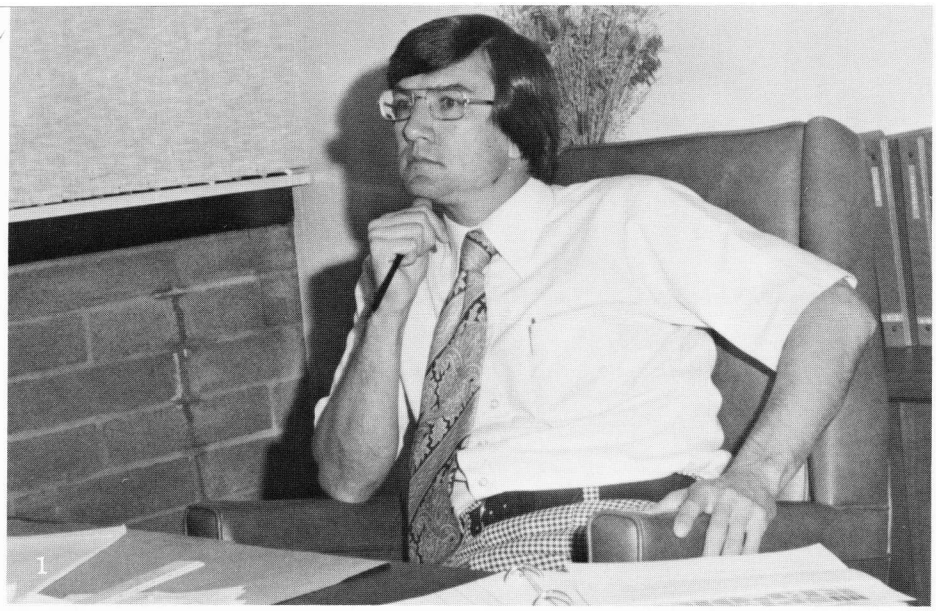

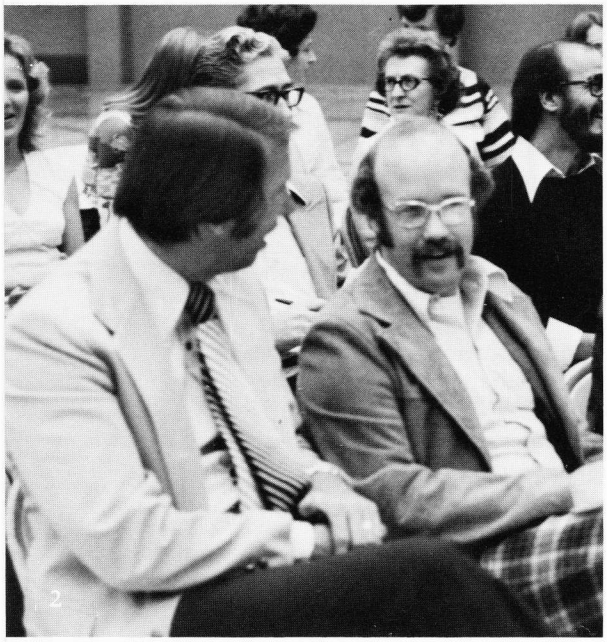

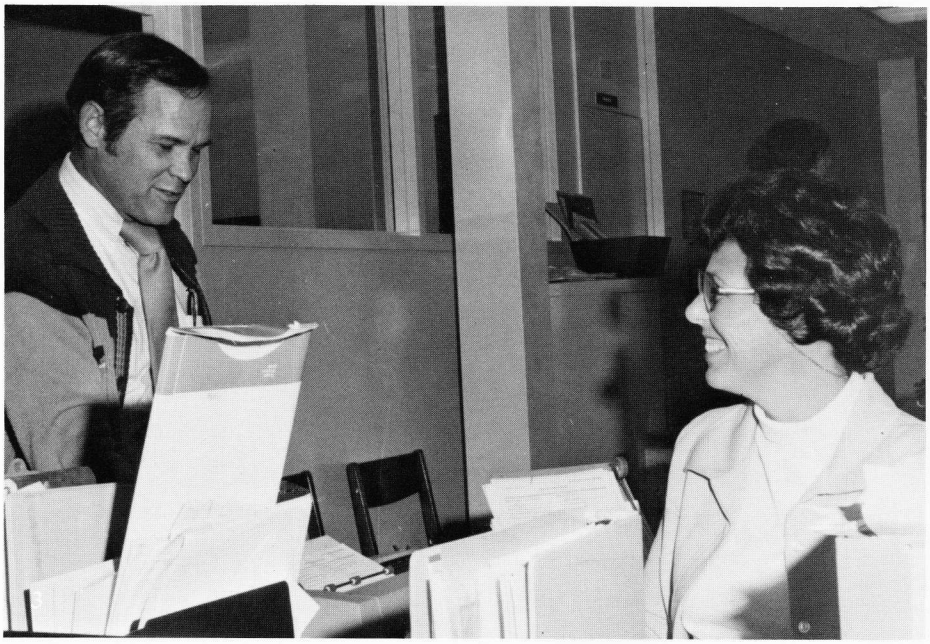

Steve -
It has been a pleasure knowing you these past three years. Give yourself some slack time this summer so we can make all "those" decisions. Bob — Jamie

1. Mr. Soper listens patiently to a student. 2. Mr. Ruptier converses with Mr. Tamblyn at a faculty. 3. Mr. Bernert checks with Mrs. Charlton about his schedule. 4. Secretaries Mrs. Charlton, Mrs. Wilkie, Mrs. D'Ooge, Mrs. Koskela, Mrs. George, Mrs. Hendricks, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Smith, and Mrs. Hegue gather in the office before work.

The Office staff labored together as one, keeping the school organized and running smoothly. The counselors worked to ensure that students enrolled in the classes they wanted and needed. Mr. Soper and Mr. Bernert kept students disciplined, and Mr. Ruptier planned interesting student activities. Mrs. Wilkinson oversaw the entire faculty and made sure they did things right.

1. Mr. Tamblyn (A-C), Mr. Menzie (D-K), Ms. Brown (L-Q), and Mr. McGauhey (R-Z) hug each other for moral support. 2. Mrs. D'Ooge finds a teacher in the master schedule. 3. Debbie Waldon, Mrs. Wilkinson, Carisa Bennett, and Rick Jones discuss next year's schedule.

The Physical Education department stressed good strong excercise. The classes, however, were extremely

and there was a shortage of teachers.

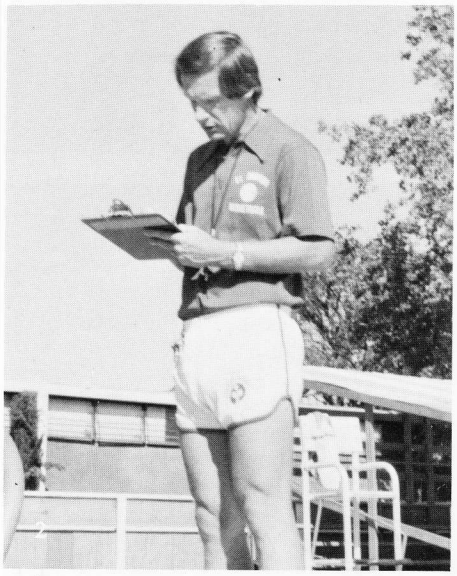

1. Kim Hirst and Russ Barnes try to tackle Doug Scott. 2. Mrs. Ellithorpe (J.V. Volleyball Coach) pauses during a game. 3. Miss Rocha (Girl's Basketball Coach) talks to a student. Opposite Page: 1. Mr. Watson (Football Coach) dances with Julie Hamner. 2. Mr. Battenberg (Basketball Coach) checks his role sheet. 3. Mr. Everingham (Baseball Coach) rests during a Tennis match. 4. Mr. Meyers (Cross Country, Track Coach) writes a note in his schedule. 5. Mr. Kenworthy (Football, Swimming, and Wrestling Coach) talks with Kim Stover and Pam Lahiff.

The Science Dept. strove to prepare students for our technological age with courses designed to

the inquiring mind. Biological field trips to Steinhart Aquarium and Point Rayes were some of the extracurricular activities. Mr. Denega and interested students established a salt-water fish tank to study ocean creatures.

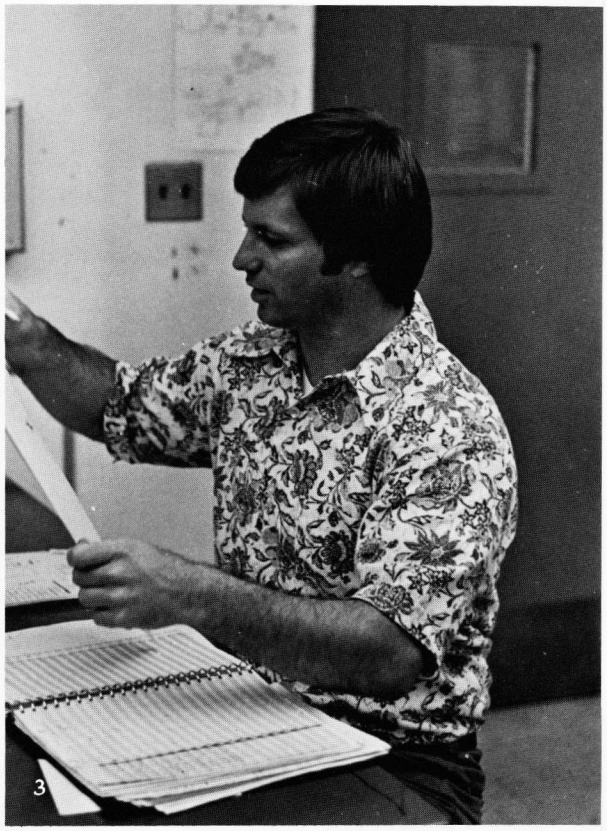

Installation of a sun dial, the photographing and tracking of three years' partial eclipse and the construction of an electric car were among the many projects to help make Science courses relevant to our scientific society.

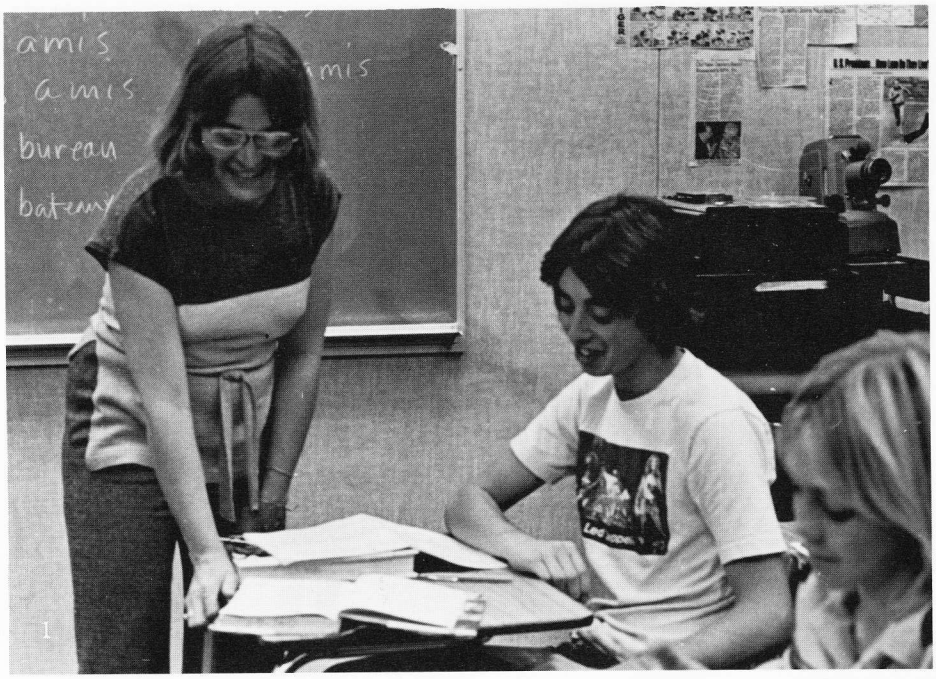

1. Mr. Wilson (Biology) and Mr. Jones (P&T, General Science) examine some hats the band sold. 2. Jeff Campbell studies a slide in the microscope. 3. Mr. Van Brocklin (P&T, General Science) fills out grades in his role book. Opposite Page 1. Mr. Bolton (Chemistry, Dept. Head) displays a monometer to his class. 2. Candy Kyburz and Beth Corson experiment with microscopes. 3. Mr. Denega (Life Science, Ski Team Coach, and Biology) and Art Oetting inspect the salt-water tank. 4. Mr. Warner (P&T, Physics, and AFS Advisor) tests some of his electronic equipment.

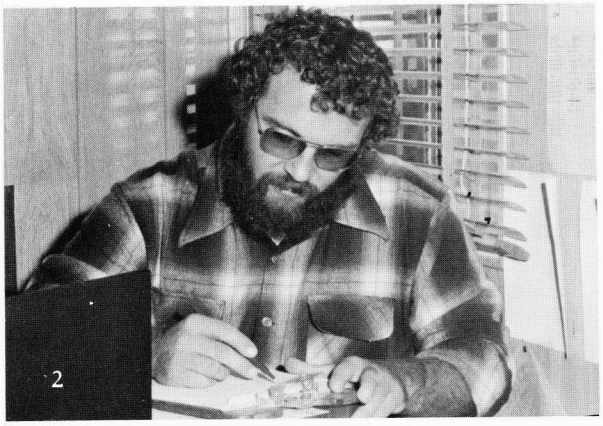

The English department held a summer workshop in which the Freshman and Sophomore programs were revised. Freshmen selected their own quarter classes for the entire year. In all classes, more emphasis was placed on vocabulary, a bad weakness in students due to less reading and more television. A major of the department was to change the graduation requirement from two years of English back to three years. The new requirement will apply to the 1977-78 freshman class and all subsequent classes.

Studies, State & Local Gov't) collects his morning bulletin. 3. Mr. Wilson (Amer. Studies) grades term papers.

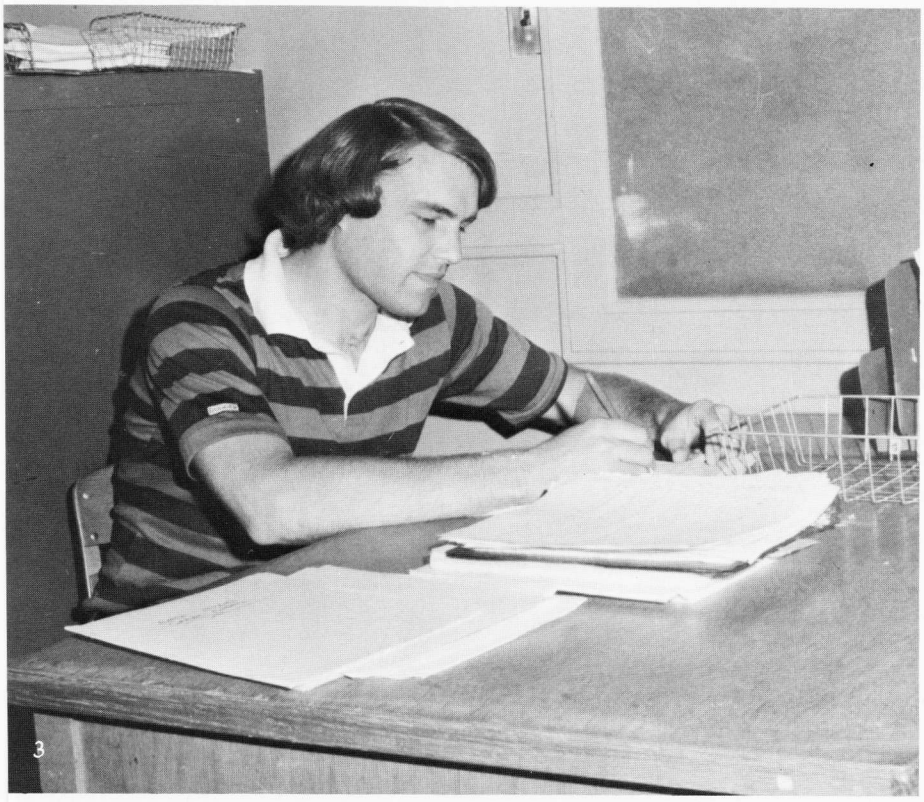

The Social Science department showed students the ways of man from our ancient history to modern day psychology. The department also enlightened students to the working of government, local as well as national. Many speakers gave interesting speeches, from ministers who expressed the ideas of their religions, to representatives from military academies.

The Foreign Language department' instructed students in various levels of the 3 languages offered at El Dorado. Mr. Chapman expounds upon the of the French language. Mr. Piceno's students learned how the Spanish people speak. Mr. Hempt sows the seeds of Germany as the students grow and learn throughout the year. He also organized a "Students to Europe" gorup which will leave for a tour in June.

1. Monsieur Chapman talks with Jim Tapia. 2. Señor Piceno checks over the day's lessons. 3. Herr Hempt listens to a student recite dialogue.

A lot of change occured in the Math department this year. Two new teachers, Mr. Reed Briggs and Miss Janice Sasaki were

into the Math program. Mr. Gernes left for Ponderosa, and Mr. Glentzer became the department chairman. Mr. Marks taught mostly Driver's Education along with a few classes of Algebra 2 Year.

1. Mr. Briggs (Alg. 1., Geometry) shows students a graph. 2. Mrs. Sasaki shows Tony Batten how to do a problem. 3. Mr. Lombard (Alg. 2, Alg. 2yr. A) shows his best side. Opposite page: 1. Mr. Glentzer (Dept. head, Geometry) enjoys a sandwich during his lunch. 2. Mr. Galloway (Alg. 2 yr., Calculator Math) works at his desk, on student records. 3. Mr. Wilson (Gen. Math) shows his spirit on Pajama Day.

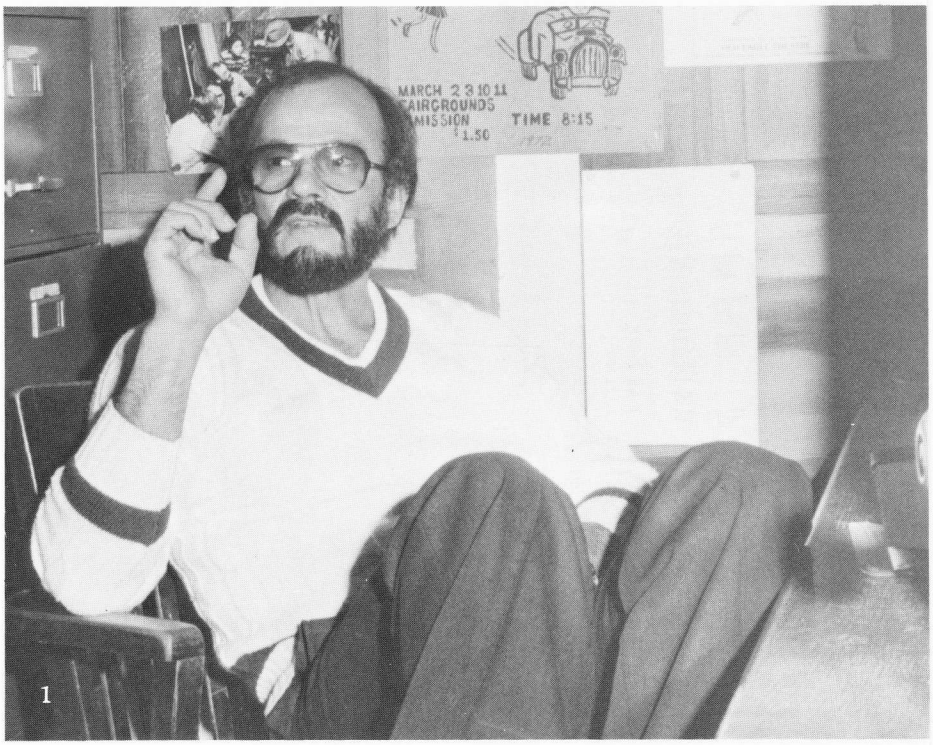

The Fine Arts department stressed creativity and reached for perfection. With Mr. Green coaching them, The Big Blue Music Machine, concert, and stage bands played at football games, gave concerts and competed with other school bands in the state. Mr. Garmire's Drama groups performed at rallies and participated in the productions of "Here, Now, Then, There" and the spring play, "Brigadoon".

Mrs. McGauhey's choir gave two Christmas concerts and a Spring concert. Mrs. Tetsell's students produced beautiful works of pottery and weaving. Mr. Golomb's artisans created paintings galore and Mrs. Floyd's classes turned out unique jewelry.

The Homemaking department changed its name to Consumer Homemaking. They planning for the future. The Librarians installed an expensive detection system to prevent book theft, with semi-successful results. They also had a lot of trouble with students coming in during their lunch hour and making too much noise. Mrs. Chappell, crossing guard, had an eventful year of routing out troublemakers and keeping the well-being of the school intact.

1. Mrs. Fenno (Cloth. Fund., Home Arts) assists Katie Morris in arranging her material. 2. Ms. Boesch (Food Fund., Child Dev.) jokes with students in her typing class. 3. Mrs. Whalen (Cons. Int. Food, Furn. Decor) discusses modern culinary delights. 4. Mrs. Chappell (X-ing Guard) busts Rick Jones for smoking. 5. Mrs. Comer and Mrs. Hardie in a rare, unretouched photo are captured here, both smiling at the same time.

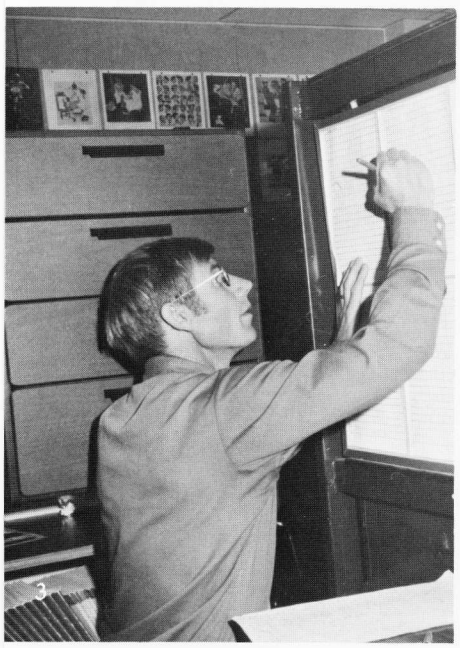

The Special Education department assisted with the learning of the handicapped, mental and physical. The teachers were able to give more to students who normally wouldn't get much attention in a regular classroom. The Driver's Education department promoted safety of all kinds, in the home as well as on the roads. Students were also required to plan a trip to Vancouver. Things like what motel and restaurant costs would be, and sidetrips to interesting places were part of the planning.

1. Mr. Steed discusses the quality of American literature with Gary Bence. 2. Mrs. Palkman, Mrs. Miller, and Mrs. Sonneborn look into a student's progress. 3. Mr. Hadley fills out a chart. 4. Mr. Fairchild (St. Req., Eng. 2) talks about road signs. 5. Mr. Marks (St. Req., Alg. 2 yr.) points out a fact over a cup of coffee, in a mug made by Rick Jones.

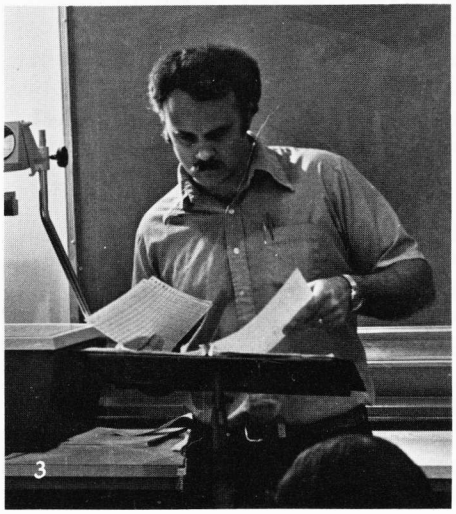

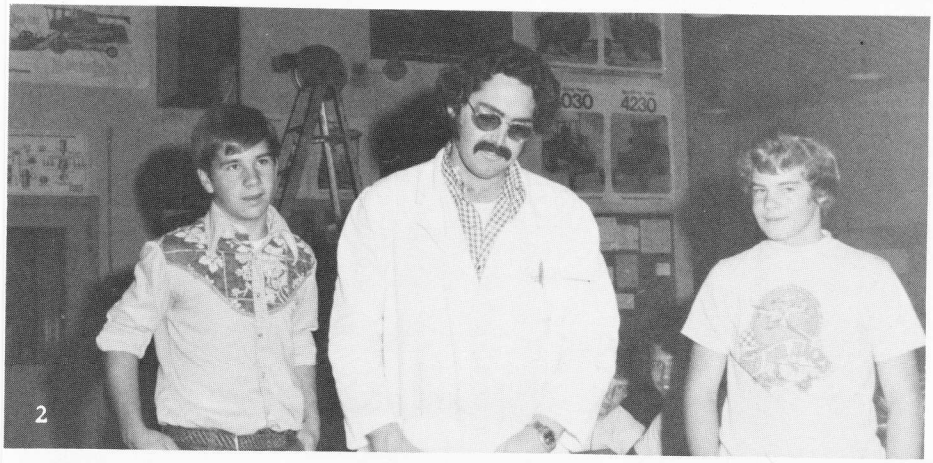

1. Mr. Rountree (Drafting I, II, III, IV, Arch.) helps Kim Lundquist with her drafting. 2. Mr. Parker (Gen. The Industrial Arts Department taught students how to use their hands, from making pine bird houses to Revoulutionary War cannons, from making oak tables to aluminum dust pans. Two new teachers were added to the staff. Mr. Hall, who taught Metal Shop, and revoulutionized the foundry work at El Dorado, and Mr. Parker, who was brought here to teach Electronics, but was put in just about everything else in the department, because Electronics was cancelled.

The Agricultural department taught students a variety of classes which include Horsecare, Forestry, and Landscaping. Students also participated in a new group, the Rodeo Club. The activities in Rodeo Club ranged from calf-roping to barrel-racing.

The bus drivers were kept going with driving on two different schedules. The janitors kept the school clean and made sure that classroom got cleaned up for the next day. The cafeteria staff made sure their students got a healthy, nutritious lunch to keep them going.

1. Roger Rothlisberger represents the bus drivers because of the difficulty involved in getting the bus drivers together. 2. Bill Pulley reads his morning mail. 3. Beverly Gann, Wilma Hollingsworth, and Peggy Smith prepare the day's hot lunch. 4. Janitors Val Kodelja, Isaac Butts, Dick Delaney, Curt Cleveland (substitute), and George Varanella gather in the cafeteria after school.

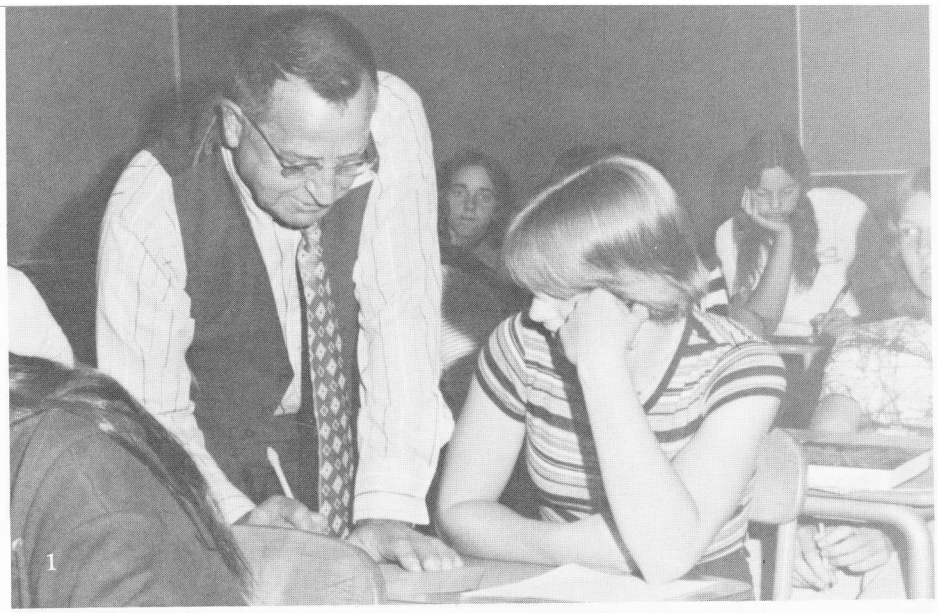

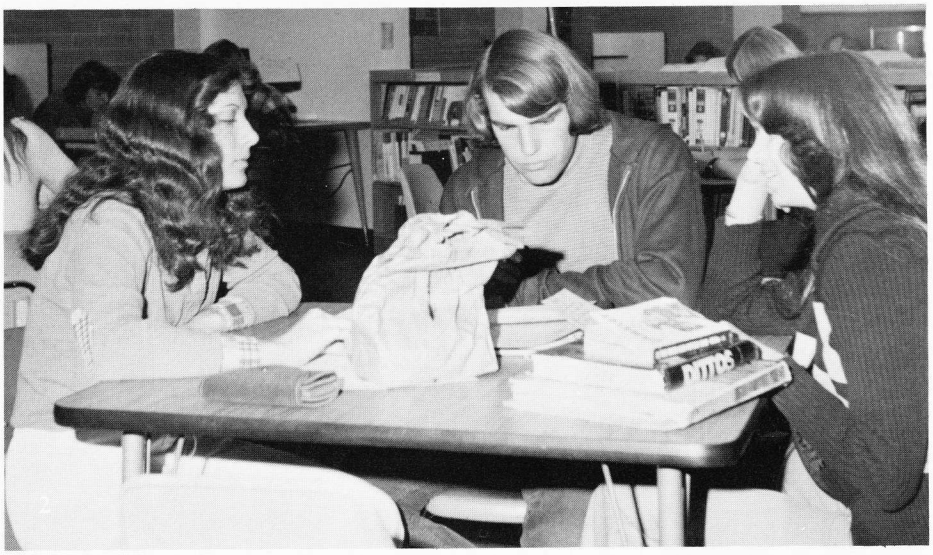

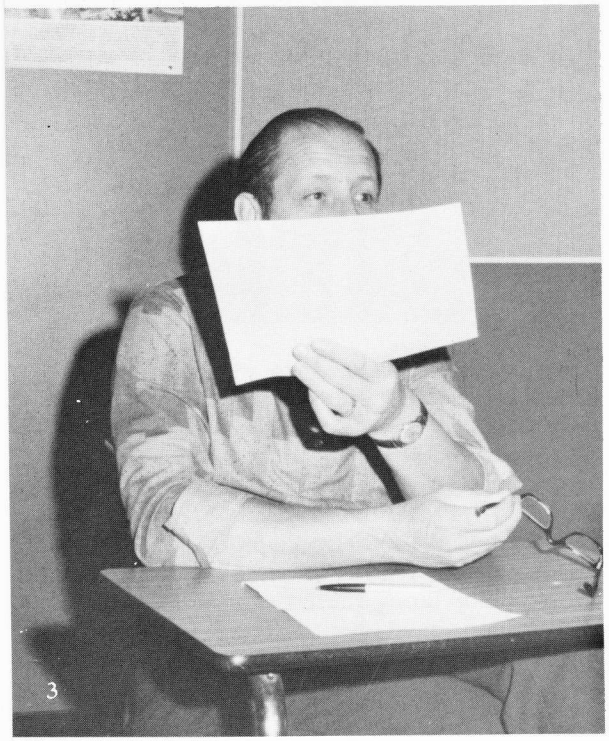

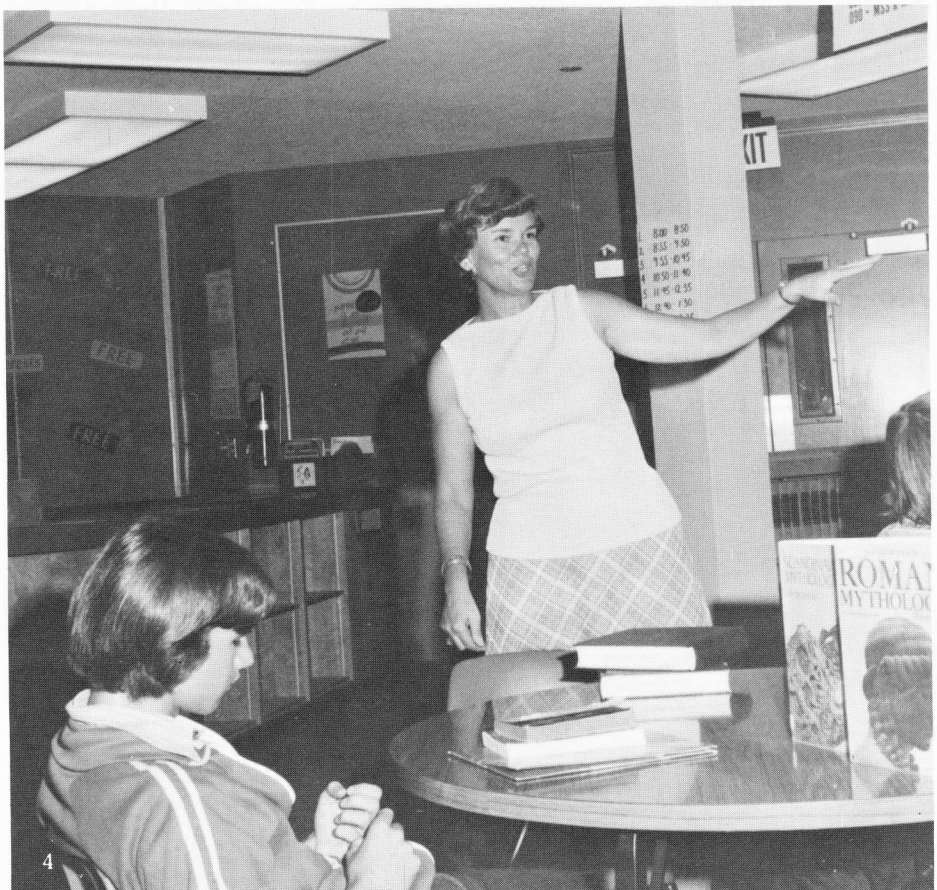

1. Mr. Hall, Mr. Battenberg, and Mr. Briggs listen to the entertainment at a rally. 2. Mr. Wilson teaches Sean Garrido that quickness counts. 3. Mr. Garmire discusses drama with Scott Moore, Ben Willard, and Scott Stearns. 4. Gail Gabrielson, Mr. Denega, and April Ward learn some history at a roadstop along the way to Steinhart Aquarium. 5. Mr. Beavers and Mr. Marks converse at a faculty meeting.

1. Mr. G. Wilson aids Cindy Koger with math. 2. Mr. P. Wilson helps Suzette Bourroughs and Brenda Byers with their studies. 3. Mr. Hempt clowns around before a class begins. 4. Tony Yurkovic listens intently to Mrs. Comers' library helps. Opposite page: 1. Mrs. Boesch assists Mark Evans with his typing lesson. 2. Mr. Bidstrup shows Danny Shean and Gary Runner some wood-working techniques. 3. Mr. Myers expounds upon the quality of the cross-country team. 4. Mr. Chapman works alone on student papers.

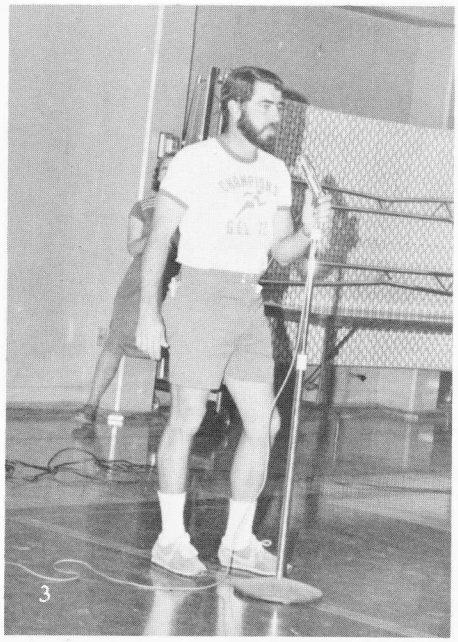

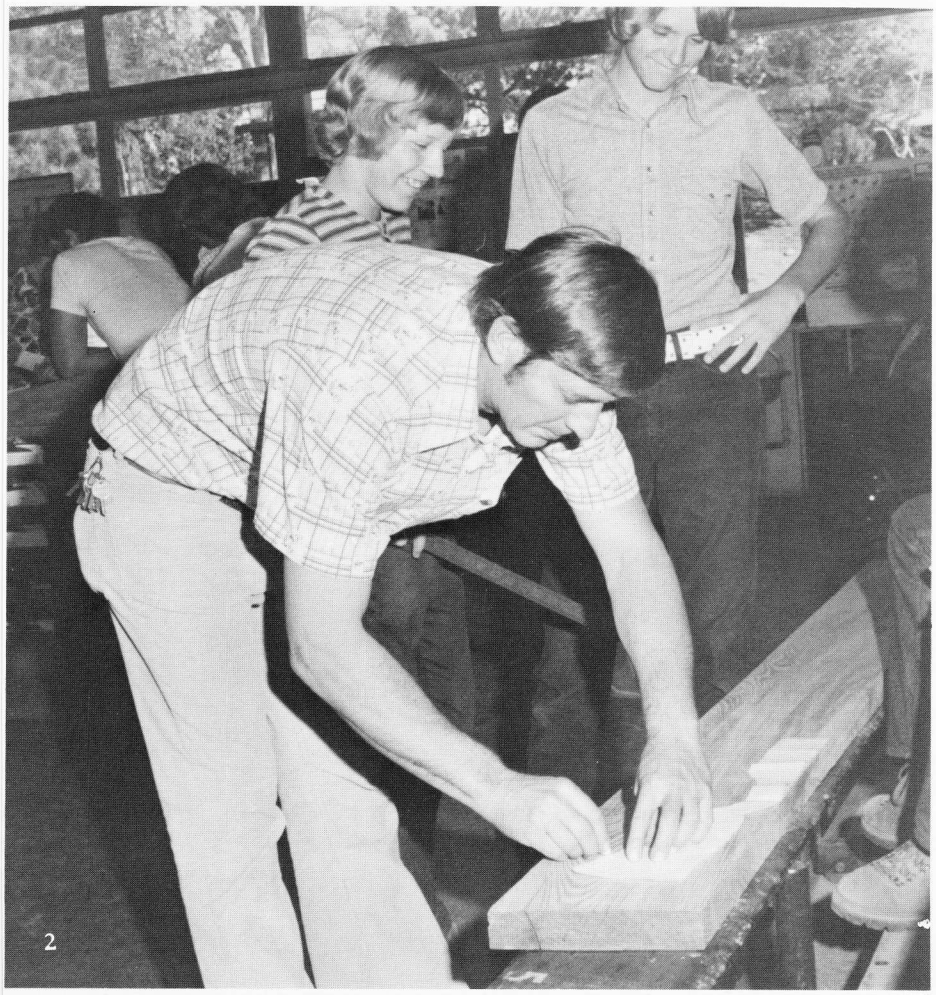

Teachers and students are like ham and eggs; they go

and need each other to be successful. Teachers and students at El-Dorado were most often together, but like everyone, they too need time alone.

Accompanied by the El Dorado marching band, seven

girls and their escorts walked across the football field. In the bright sunshine of the October afternoon, Diane Shane passed on her crown to Lori Bach, this year's Homecoming queen. Surrounded by the princesses and their escorts, Lori swept away tears when she was announced as the 1977 Homecoming Queen, while the El Dorado mixed choir sang "Memories", cameras clicked and friends embraced the new queen and her court, new cars supplied by Stancil's Toyota and Patterson Motors wisked the girls away while the band performed intricate marching routines.

Senior Princess, Jill Brown, was escorted by Kevin Kenworthy a 1977 graduate, while her boy-friend played in the football game. 2. Senior Princess, Brandy Henderson, was escorted by her brother Craig Minor. 3. Pam Lahiff, Senior Princess, stands with her escort Aarne Clow. 4. After being crowned the 1977-78 Homecoming Queen, Lori Bach receives a kiss from her escort John Shepard, a 1977 graduate. Opposite Page: 1. After Lori was named queen, she and the other princesses stand together smiling at the audience, while the choir sings in background. 2. Sue Bewley, stands proudly as Junior Princess with her escort Gordie Helm. 3. While walking across the field, Sophomore Princess Lisa Gibson and her escort John Frendendall find something amusing. 4. Freshmen Princess Patti Flynn and escort Bob Cleveland stand waiting for the announcement.

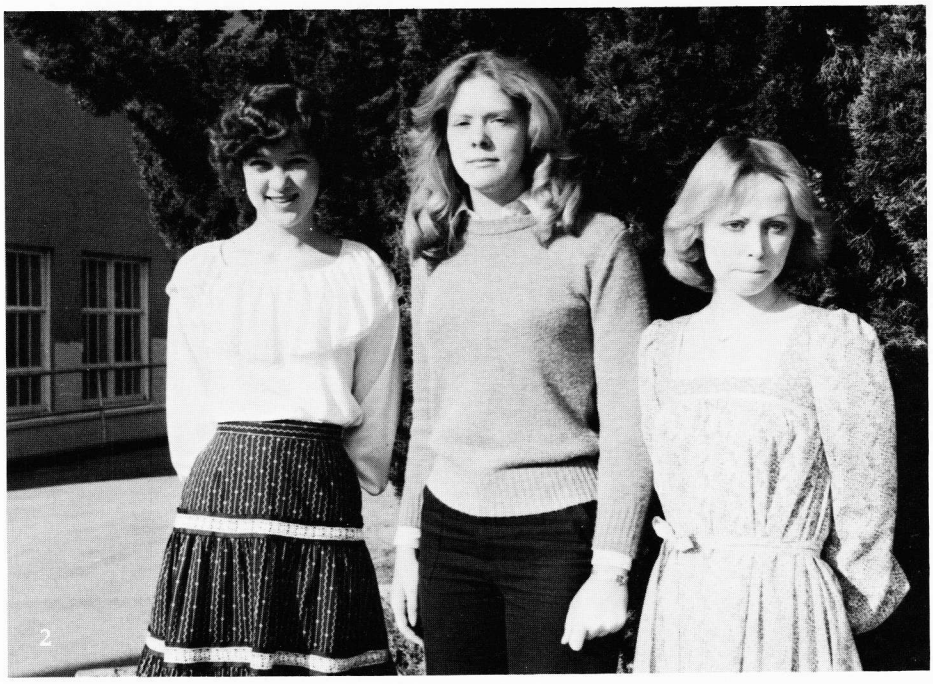

Members of the Key Club chose Kelly Kalafatich, a junior to represent their organization. Each year the Key Club chooses one girl that they feel has the

to be Key Club Kitten. Kelly enjoys all kinds of sports, especially basketball and baseball. Other candidates for the honor were: Sue Jessen, Cindy Schakleford, and Linda Butts.

Each year one girl is chosen from each class to run for the title of Harvest Queen, which is won by the

who collects the most money. When Sophomore Stephanie DeGray won, she received a kiss from Matt Huston, F.F.A. President. The money that was collected went to the F.F.A. Chapter.

Queen Candidates: 1. Junior: Chris Montabano 2. Freshman: Shelly Teach 3. Senior: Pam Lahiff 4. Queen, Stephanie waits by a tree. 5. Sophomore: Queen Stephanie DeGray.

Each year the A.F.S. program chooses one person from our district to go overseas to a different country for a certain length of time. Those chosen on the basis of oral interviews with local A.F.S. leaders, are judged on personality, maturity, and grades. Kathy Hyder was chosen to be our foreign exchange student. She will leave at the beginning of June 78' and will return in July 79'. Kathy said she is "looking forward to her trip."

1. Kathy takes a minute to relax.
2. Kathy seems to be uninterested at one of this year's rallys.

Each year the Future Farmers of America choose one girl to represent them. She is called the F.F.A. Sweetheart. Chris Montalbano has been an active member of F.F.A. for three years and that was one of the reasons she was chosen the 1977-78 Sweetheart. In November Chris competed in the Sacramento Section Sweetheart Contest and she was elected First Runner Up. The contest was based on what contestants knew about farming.

The Northern California Honor Choir was good this year, with the talented

Dr. Hairson directing. Many students from El Dorado tried out and, after some close judging, only those with scores of 14 or higher, on a scale of 1-20 were selected. They spent a weekend rehearsing in Sacramento, then gave a fantastic concert at the Hiram Johnson High School. The performance was recorded, and a limited amount of albums were sold.

New Morning provided the students at El Dorado with some

lunch periods by sponsoring contests. Local business awarded dinners, haircuts, and other prizes. The first contest was a Bubble Gum Blowing contest. Janet Van den Dungen Billy won with a 9½ inch bubble. Bob Clevelend and Chris Montalbano took second and third. The second contest was Rubber Band Shooting, won by Marty Adamson, with Doug Scott and Bill Bishop taking second and third. Jeff Vogan won the Paper Airplane contest, flying his model for 12.46 seconds. Second and third were Rich Hall and Steve Kramer. Other contests were held throughout the spring.

Cheerleaders were an important part in all athletic contests and rallies. They helped in promoting spirit from the crowd and from the team.

enthusiasm

The C.S.M.O. had many fund raising projects, such as Megaphone sales, decorative Candle sales, and a dance.

BAND

The 1977-78 Marching Band has played a major role in making this "the Year of the Cat." Capturing honors such as place for the Band and Drill Team at Sacramento State Halftime Competition, Steve Burke winning first place at the Drum Major Competition in Woodland, Rifle Corps taking first place, and the Tall Flag Bearers third in parade competition made El Dorado proud to have them representing the school. El Dorado's name has become well known all over the state thanks to these students and Mr. Green.

1st

The choir program enjoyed a

year with five groups performing. These were the Chanson Choir, Swing Choir, Treble Ensemble, Girls' Chamber, and Mandrigals. They sang at various school functions and concerts; many made the Northern California Honor Choir, and they attended a festival at the University of California at Sacramento.

The Concert and Symphonic Bands have many outside activities, including school competitions,

concerts, and playing for community events. Symphonic band rated and average of superior to excellent at festivals and school competitions. However, Concert band raised their average to a superior rating at a festival competition this year.

The Mentally Gifted Minors were full of fun, hard work, and they planned activities for the whole year through. These activities included field trips to plays, and a boat on the deep water canal between San Francisco and Sacramento, M.G.M. also visited different universities to get some ideas of the colleges throughout the state. Mrs. Dusek, the advisor, was in charge of lining up the activities and inspiring the students.

The Associated Student Body was kept busy organizing extra curricular activities. In addition to keeping the students

they worked with the administrators and businessmen of the community.

A.F.S., a world wide organization, better known as the foreign exchange program, made it possible for students to visit other cities, states, and countries.

Editor, Tammy Stotler set the pace fast and furious for the yearbook staff this year. During the first month, the staff spent their spare time selling ads and came out with more sales than ever before. This allowed them to use more color and choose a more expensive

design for the cover. Then deadlines began arriving and work piled up as responsibilities grew. Although everyone had frustrating times of screaming and arguing, all shared the pride in the completion of the yearbook.

Placervillians this winter seldom had nice weather in which to do their shopping. The drought seemed to have done a complete about-face;

in answer to some fervent prayers, the rains came.

The Year

of the Cat

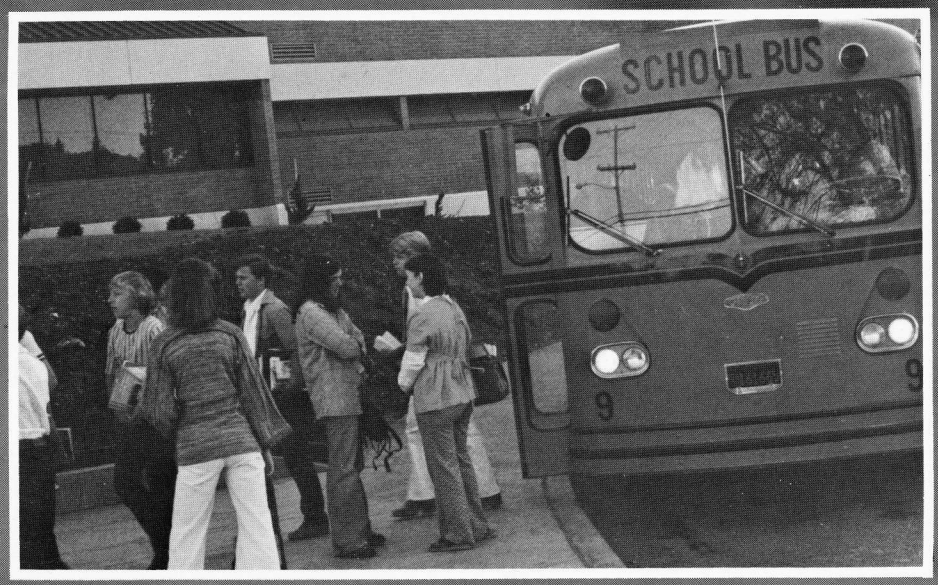

The parking lots were in a state of overflowing and the buses ran in two shifts both morning and afternoon, but it was all necessary. Seniors and some Juniors only haveing a few classes a day couldn't ride the buses, so they drove. With a car of your own who could expect you to walk or ride the bus? Those big, yellow things weren't empty though! Sophomores anticipating their driver's license soon and Freshmen waiting to be sophomores crowded the busses.

Assuredly, there were a few Juniors and Seniors, but not quite as happy to have to ride the bus.

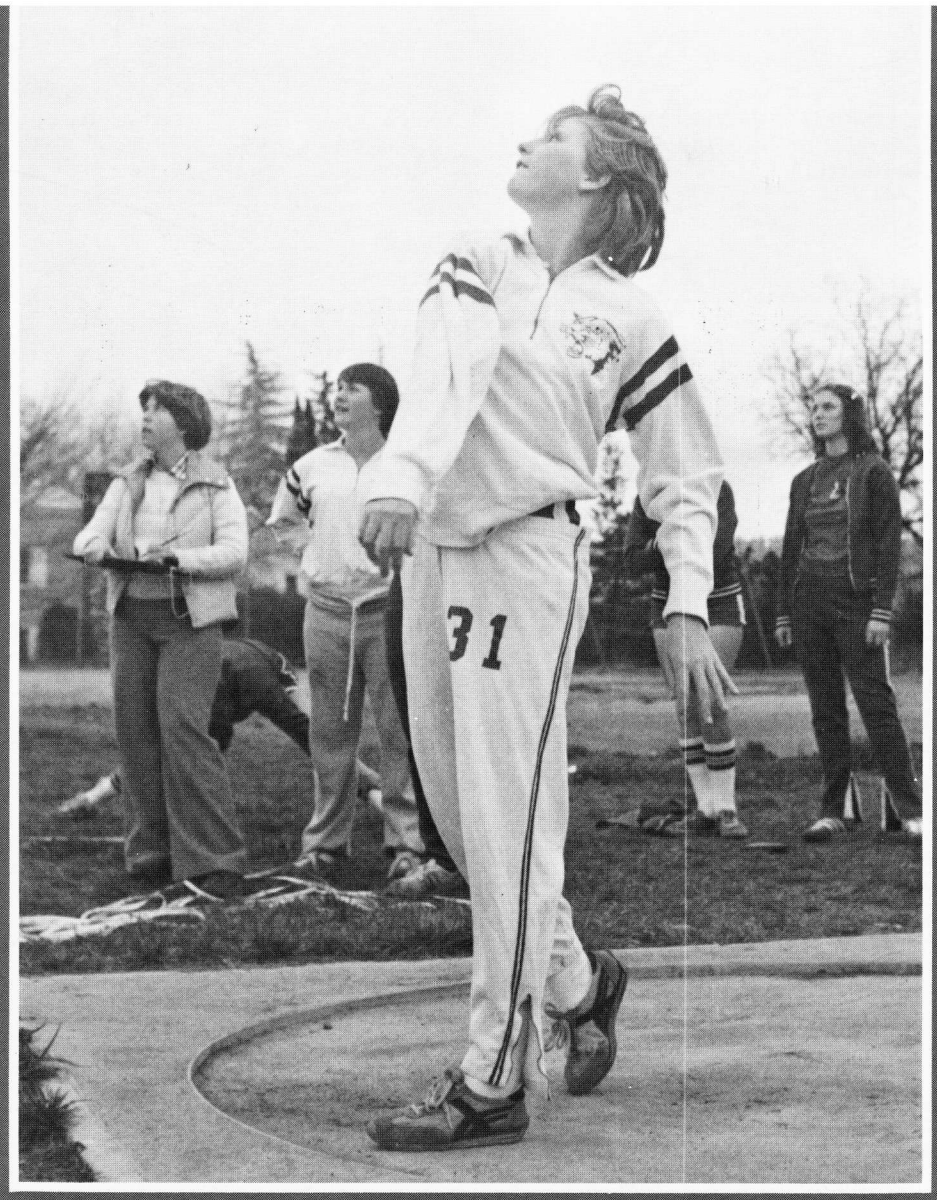

Along with the perpetual activity of a high school come many emotions:

elation, anger, determination, satisfaction, concentration, triumph, and despair. Students at El Dorado reflected these emotions in their faces, by their actions, and secretly within themselves.

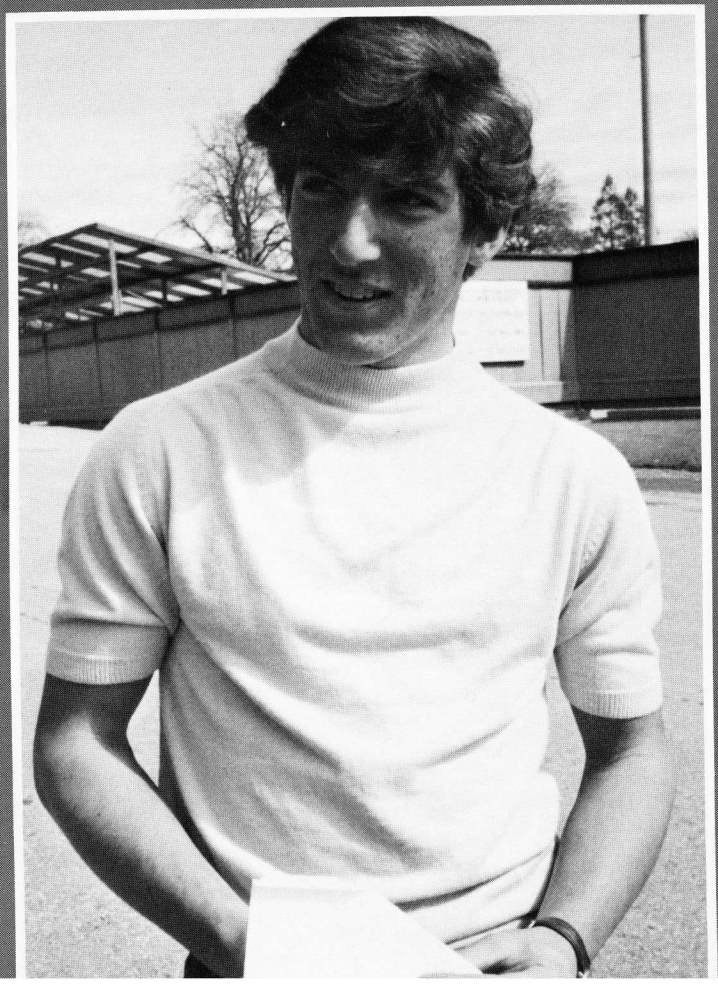

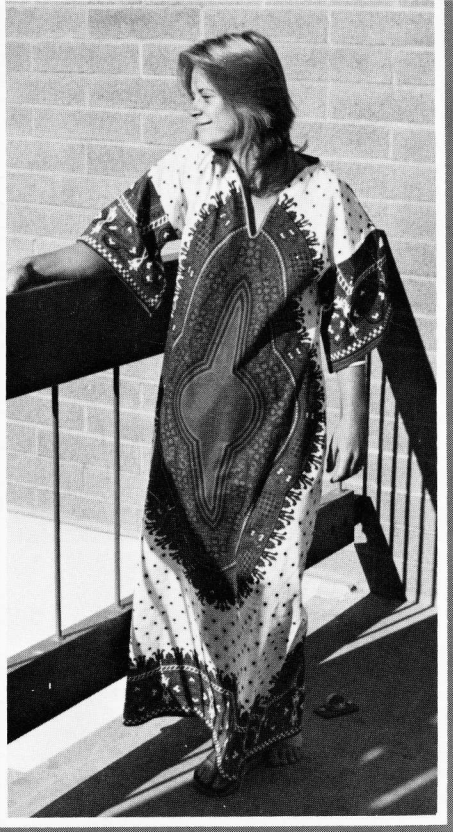

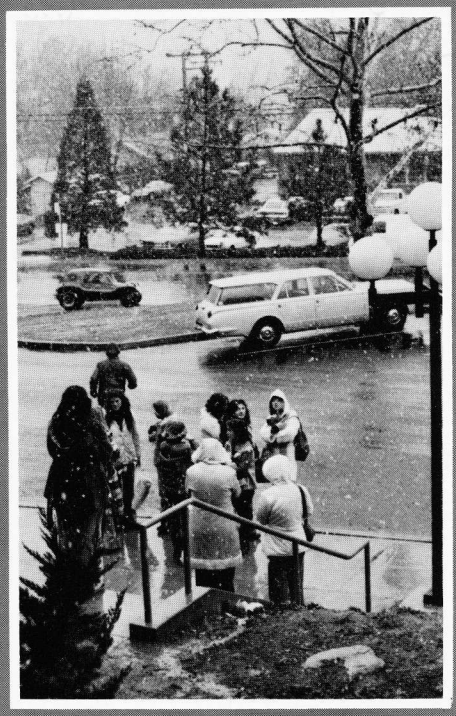

"Weather"

it be Sun, Snow, Rain, or Sleet, Cougars made it to classes. Like Postmen, they never failed . . . well, almost never. (Admittedly, five minutes passing time was't quite enough every now and then.)

The year of the cat was also the year of weather. Storms began early in November and broke the back of the drought with one of the wettest winters on record. Every form of moisture fell, but in the end Spring had its way and bathed the foothills in sunshine once more.

Every page in this book captures and words that when blended together make memories. Those memories of yours and mine combined with the events and happenings have made this "The Year of the Cat".

HIGH

You are richer today than you were yesterday if you have laughed often, given something, forgiven even more, made a new friend, made stepping stones out of stumbling blocks, if you have thought more in terms of "him" rather than "me", or if you managed to be cheerful even when weary.
