A riffle is just a small, inconspicuous strip of wood set in the bottom of a sluice box to catch the gold nuggets as the water rushes down the trough, and keep them for the later profit of the miner. The

RIFFLE

is a book that, like its namesake, captures the golden moments of high school for the El Dorado student to treasure in the years to come.

Go for the gold

This area in which we live is famous for its history. "Gold Country," it is called, because, more than 100 years ago, all America was "going for the gold" in El Dorado County.

We go for a different kind of gold today. But the very word, "gold," brings

glamour

to mind. Gold rings, golden doubloons, crowns, trophies, the Golden Fleece, the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, the Olympic gold medal—all of them signify "the very best."

I'M REALLY GLAD THAT WE'RE FRIENDS STILL FRIENDS, BUT THERE ISN'T ANY REASON NOT BE, RIGHT? I HOPE YOU HAD A GREAT YEAR, CUZ I SURE DID AND YOU HELPED TOO! YOU BETTER STAY IN TOUCH THIS SUMMER, OR ELSE! WELL, HOW DOES IT FEEL TO BE OUT OF SCHOOL? I WON'T KNOW TILL ONE MORE YEAR! HOPE TO SEE YA THIS SUMMER + STAY SWEET LIKE YOU'VE ALWAYS BEEN. LUV YA LOIS, KIM BEAULIEU '80"

"Going for the gold" is a # tradition

at El Dorado. In the heart of the Mother Lode, we carry on in the footsteps of the '49'ers—only our "gold" is something more than the dust at the bottom of the pan.

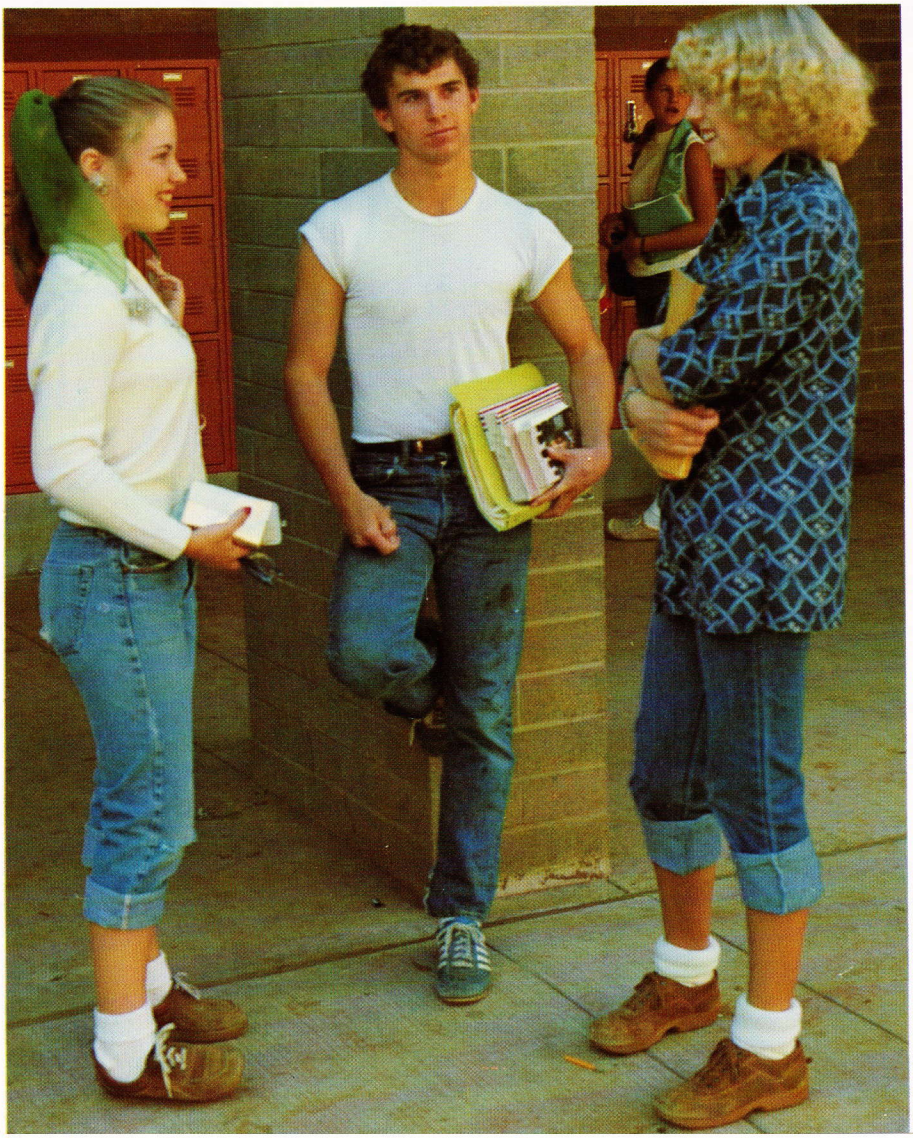

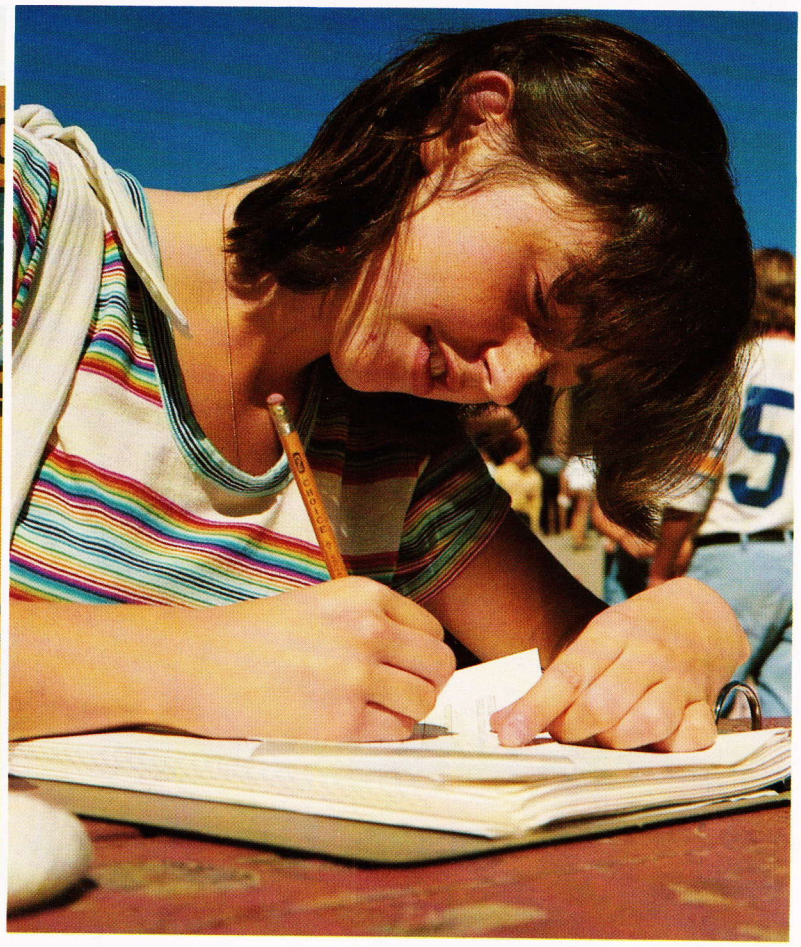

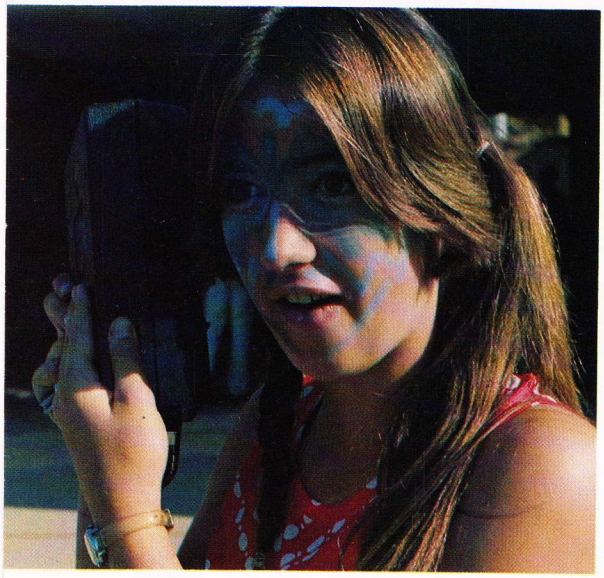

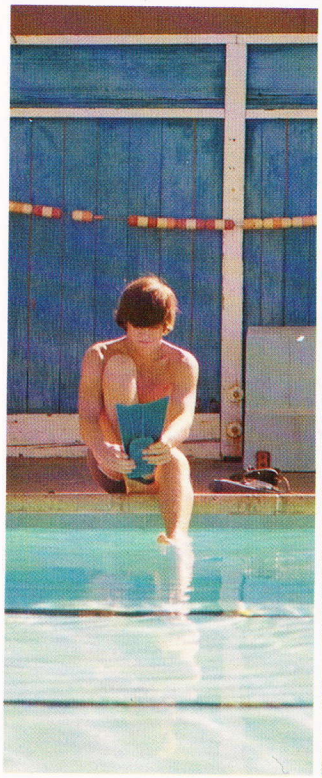

"If you can imagine it, you can achieve it; if you can dream it, you can become it."

El Dorado dreams big.

Whatever it is — whether straight A's, scuba diving, playing the sax, Homecoming Queen, cheerleading, Most Valuable Player, or Honor Choir — go for the gold!

We Love our Tea

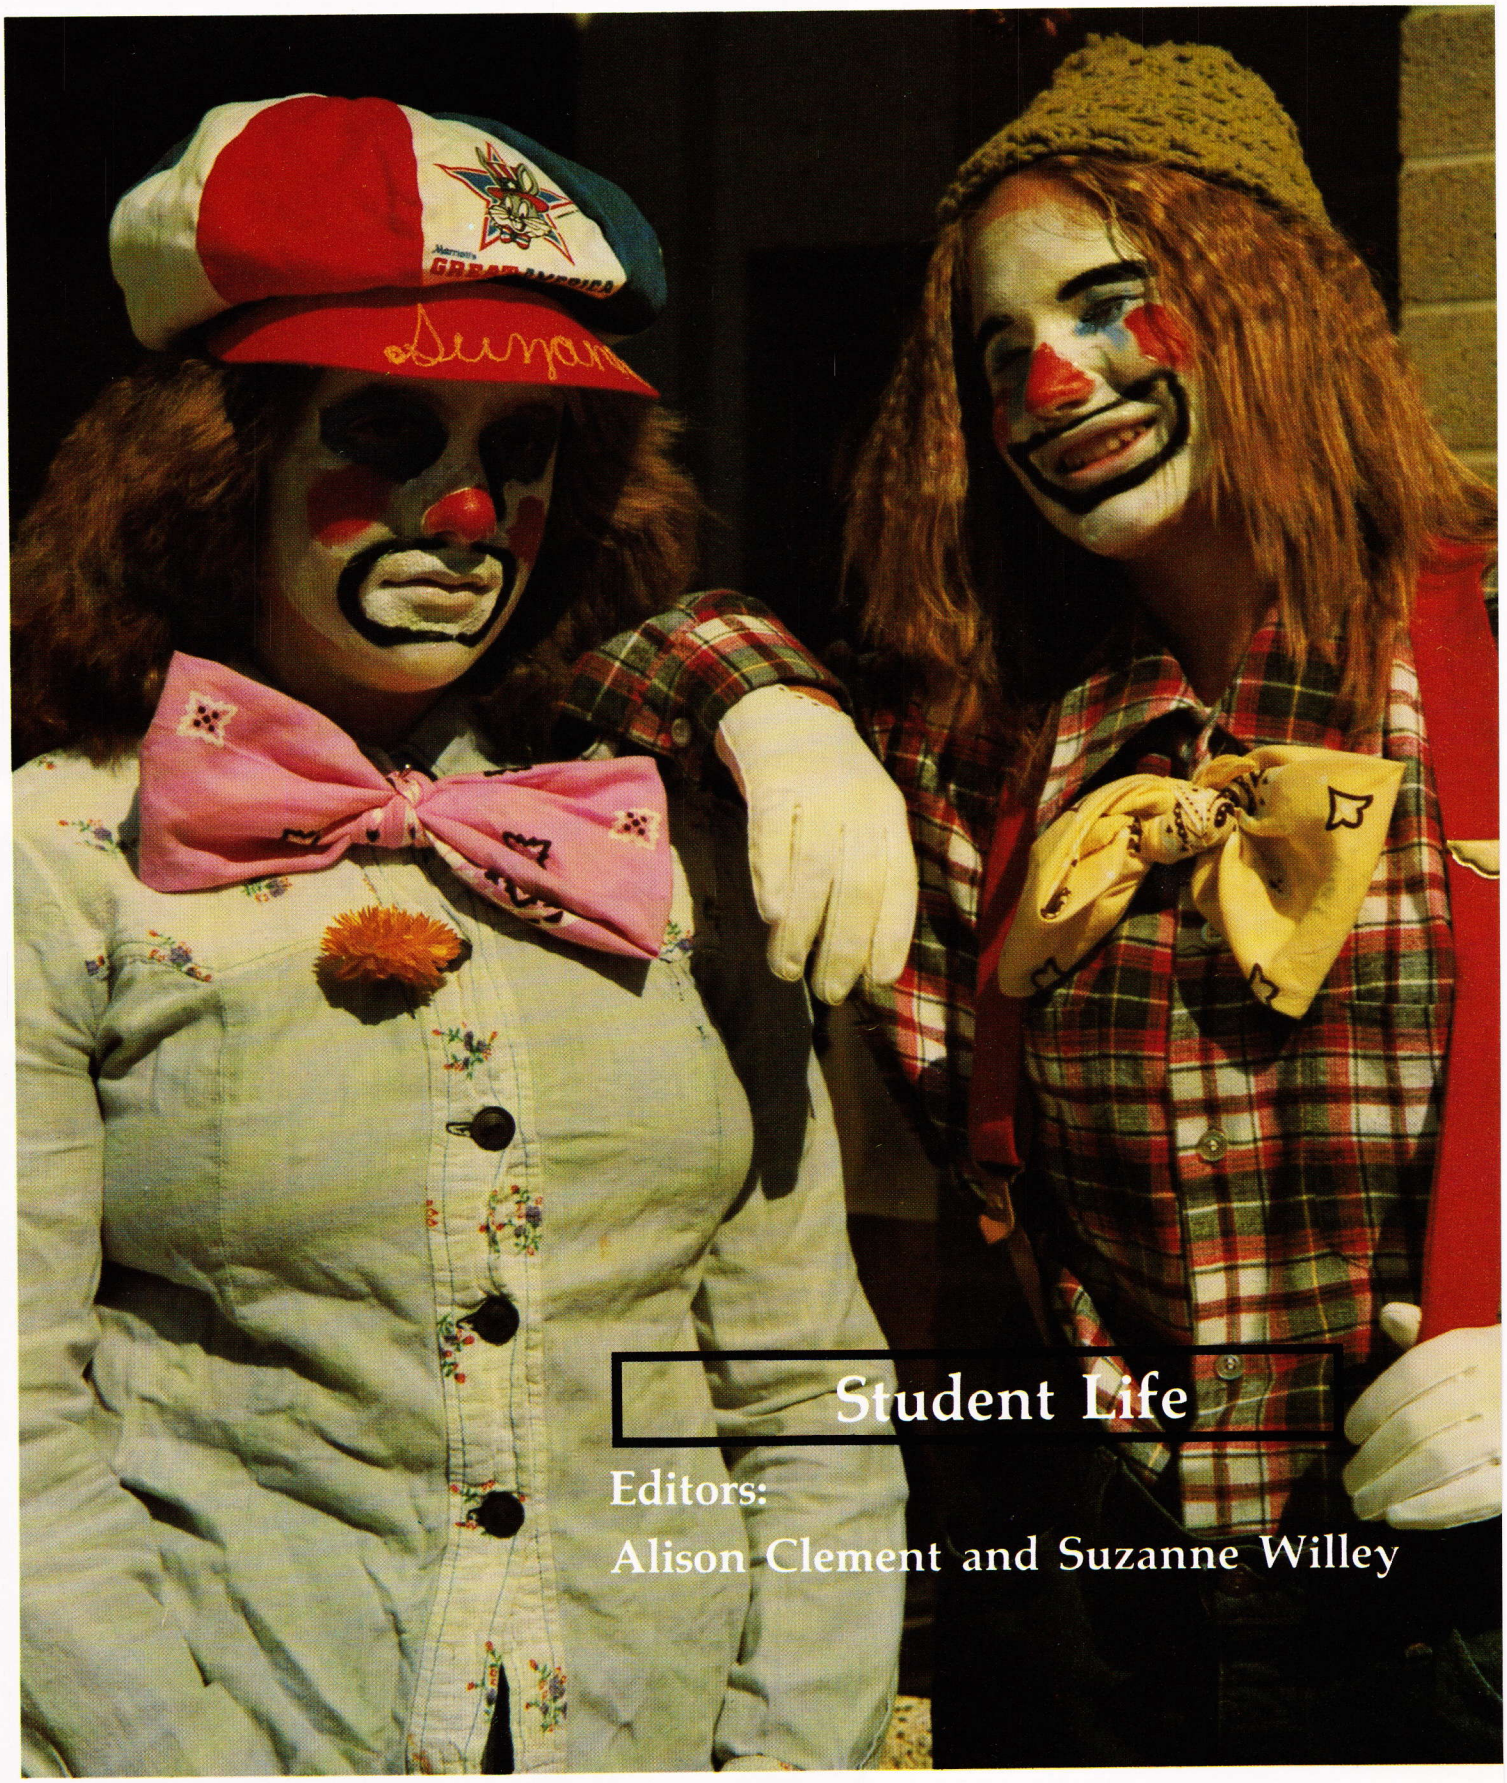

This year we had a split session which was new to all the students. School began at 7:25 for half of the students and at 12:45 for the others. This schedule made it difficult for student ## activities.

But for Spirit Week the kids showed their school spirit by dressing up during Homecoming Week. Spirit Week was ended with a victory game, the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and a fantastic Homecoming dance.

Student Life

Editors:
Alison Clement and Suzanne Willey

Spirit Week burst into action with new themes speeding up the pace and adding to the

and laughs. Imaginations went wild with Monday as Spirit Day, Tuesday- Freak Day, Wednesday- Grease Day, Thursday - Alien Day, and Friday- Clone Day. Seniors, especially, went to extremes and the Student Council count proved them to be the most spirited.

1. Paul Demming waits for Glen Ludlam and Randy Wix on Grease Day. 2. Three freaks: Steve Parker, Rick Jones, and Jolinda Christopherson. 3. Laura Eisenhower, Jamie Pereria, Terrie Thomas, Wendy Weston, Leslie Pereira and Chris Montalbano make a spirited group. Opposite Page: 1. Two aliens visit El Dorado High School. 2. Bob King tells Chris Martin that "Grease is the word." 3. Kathy Box waits on the lawn.

SHE'S LUCKY YOU SAVED HER FROM ME!

1. Danya Wills and Darci Hodnett bring life into the Homecoming rally with their "Grease dance." 2. Nelson Mathews presents Wade Oppliger as a gift to the Senior class; Andy Stroud, president, gladly accepts it. 3. Roger Watson in rare form. 4. Kathy Kenworthy watches as Dana Foy and Suzanne Willey "cover up" Christian Chappell.

School spirit ruled both in class and out. At the Homecoming Rally spirits soared to the outer limits. Everyone came when the songleaders danced to "Greased Lightning." The Sophomores presented the Class of '79 with a gift - Wade O. The Seniors all agreed that it was "just what they had always wanted."

1. The Freshmen's first float of their high school years travels down Main Street. 2. The Homecoming Parade is led by the Marching Band. 3. Sue Perpall during half time of El Dorado's Homecoming game. 4. Juniors cheer for their float through town. 5. Enthusiastic about the Homecoming Parade, Seniors yell and cheer. 6. A truck packed with Sophomores is also part of the Homecoming Parade.

The parade gave each class an opportunity to exhibit their imaginative homecoming floats. The marching band and the royalty escort cars led the parade with the floats and spirit trucks behind. Long nights of planning and hard work paid off when the judges awarded the Junior float first place. Other students were

winners

in other activities, and in spite of an awkward schedule, found ways to participate and share all that a school year offers. Although the split session caused some split friendships, rallies provided a chance for students from both the A.M. and P.M. sessions to get together. One of the year's first rallies featured Bill Bishop in a banana-eating contest, the first of many crazy stunts.

"Annie Get Your Gun" was a Theatre El Dorado production. Many El Dorado High School students contributed to the

of the show. It was in a western setting with the irony of a woman outshooting a man she fancied.

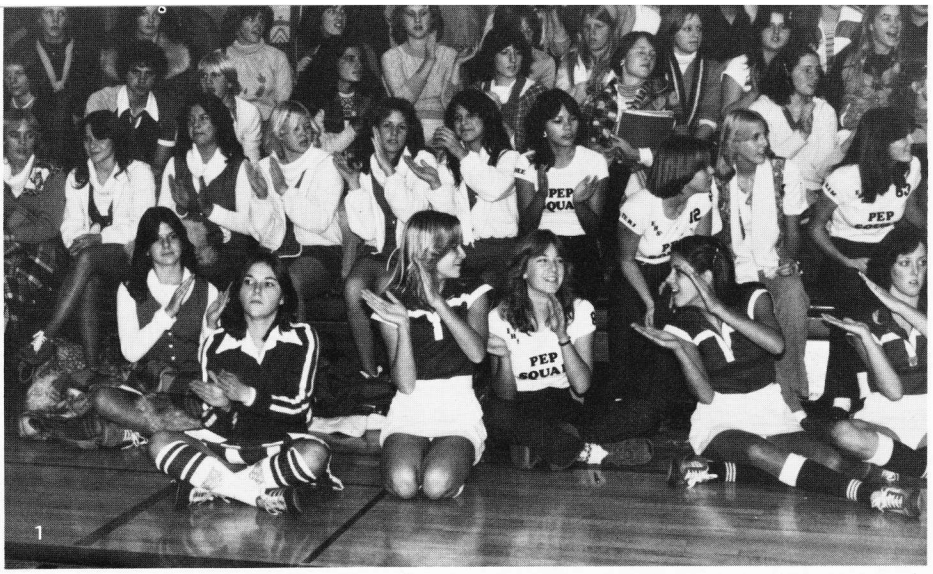

The balance of the play consisted of their rocky relationship with his ego and her skill as main catalysts. The play culminated in a happy ending when Annie loses a shooting match but wins her man.

1. Acting as porters are Bruce Bredeson, Bruce Hayden, Gavin Grooms and Kent Weymouth. 2. Chris Montalbano gazes into Brian Kerbs' eyes. 3. Three dancers en route to the ball. Opposite Page: 1. Debbie Worthington and Sandy Humphrey. 2. Gavin Grooms and Wendy Woodside express their feelings in song. 3. Main character Chrissie Allen brags to Blair Reynolds that she is a fancy shooter. 4. Other cast members, Bruce Bredeson, Betty Wells, Sandy Humphrey, and Jeannie Hinds listen contentedly. 5. Mr. Green and his band set the mood.

Gold Dust

The rally's activities greatly amused the El Dorado student body and the visiting teams that participated in the Tournament. Each team captain took part in an unusual basketball contest, shooting with their backs to the basket. The winner won a free pass to the game. Later, the songleaders modeled Off Broadway fashions to the beat of a disco tune.

1. The cheering squad sits in on the action. 2. Leane Linson, Cheryl Jones, Darci Hodnett, Danya Wills, and Gina Gier display their disco clothers. 3. Chris Arnold makes a winning shot. 4. David Lea toots his own horn.

Bernard Bang, a mime, visited El Dorado for the first time, demonstrating his

for many interested students.

1. Mr. Band struggles with the lid of a jar. 2. Bang strains in an imaginary tug-o'-war. 3. Seniors enjoy the hilarious mime routines. 4. Jody Lehman holds her ice cream and basketball from Pantomime '79.

Santa made a special guest appearance at the Christmas Rally, bringing all his spirit to El Dorado once again. The two wild and crazy competitions were also successes. Both were races: one was coke-guzzling from a baby bottle, the other a toilet paper wrapping race. The crowd really got involved and was noisy with encouragement and laughs. All this Chrstmas spirit even penetrated into the library, where students brought gifts of food for the needy and placed them under the tree.

1. Debbie McAdams and the cheerleading gang get into their routine. 2. Robin Wills does an outstanding solo on his sax. 3. Santa shares some ho-ho-ho's with the stage band.

1. Kathy Box races to wrap up Greg Tuttle. 2. Steve Bennett and Shelly Hurst are the winners of a very mature competition. 3. Roger Watson, Candy Kyburz, and Steve Parker bring some Christmas spirit to the library. 4. Santa gets what he wanted for Christmas.

"A Jingle Bell Fantasy", sung by the choir, highlighted this year's Christmas # Concert.

The song featured an unusual holiday mixture of cha-cha, calypso, waltz, and rock-and-roll. Mr. Prudy's entire English IV class honored the Concert with their presence, also assuring themselves of a postponed L.A.W. assignment due date.

1. Mr. Green directs the combined choir. 2. Wendy Payton, the pianist, plays while Melissa Escobar turns the pages. 3. The choir sings "A Jingle Bell Fantasy." 4. The horn section plays holiday music.

1. Joel Dawson concentrates on the music. 2. The Jazz Band's sax section hits all the right notes. 3. John Nielson and Chris Tammi keep the rythm for the Jazz Band. 4. The choir sings in the holidays.

Mr. Lambirth's mythology class presented a wacky, joke-filled

comedy

written by Shelley Schlappi with some embellishments by Mr. Lambirth. They play, set in a courtroom, focused on the question, "Who caused the Trojan War?" Some characters in the witness-stand spotlight were a flirty Atheana, a slighty gay Paris, and Helen of Troy herself. The play ended with Zeus intimidating the jury to gain a "not-guilty" verdict after witnesses testified that he caused the war.

1. Helen of Troy (Stephanie Friddle) smiles at the interrogator (Eric DePew) as Zeus (Charlie Wooton) looks critically on. 2. Paris (Mike Verbitsky) "gayses" out at the court. 3. Zeus threatens the jury.

1. The cast takes a final bow. 2. Athena (Debbie McIntire) brushes off the lawyer (Eric De Pew). 3. Nelson Mathews plays Helen's discarded husband.

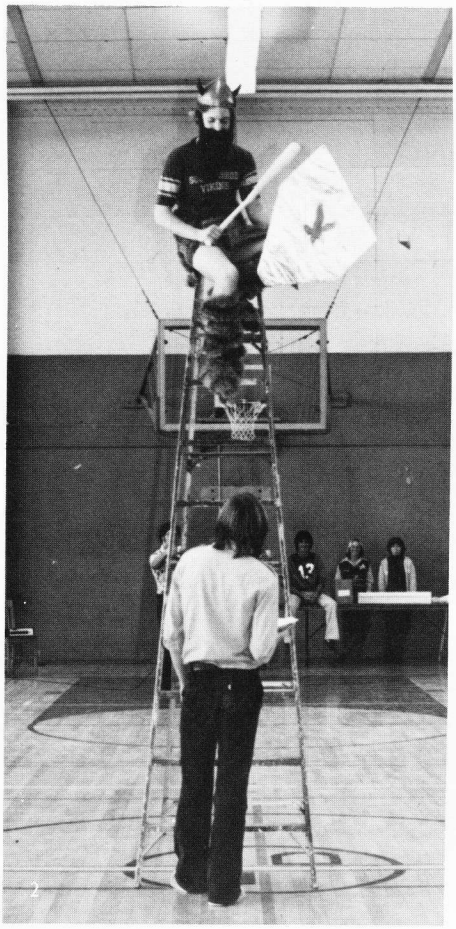

WHAT AM I, STUPID?

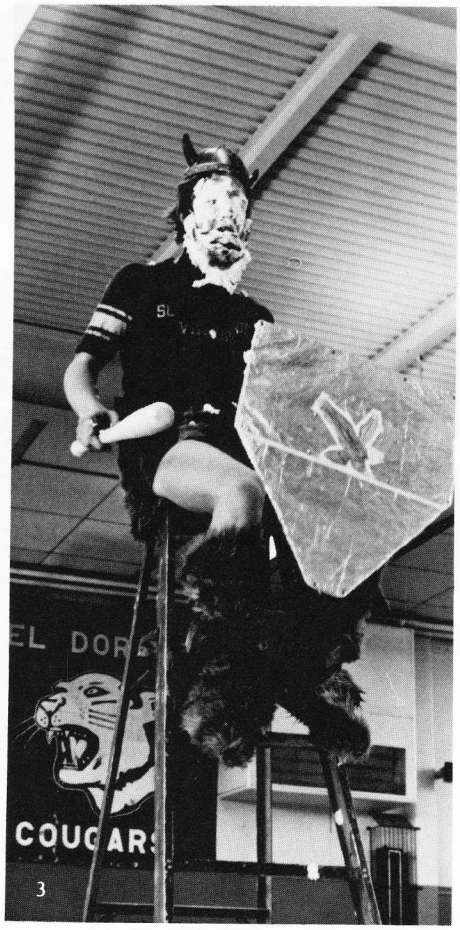

Rick Jones was the main

spectacle

at the Basketball Homecoming Rally. He represented the South Tahoe Vikings, the Cougars' opponents for the game. The action began with Rick perched atop a ladder. Then Mike Verbitsky, pie in hand, ascended the ladder as everyone yelled louder. Accompanied by a cheer from the audience, Mike reached the top and the "Viking" naturally received a pie in the face. The crowd loved it.

The Basketball Homecoming Dance after the game was a happy event. Everyone waited in ## suspense

after the rally, when the Student Body cast their votes for the Homecoming Royalty. At the dance, once the band, "Sugar Bear", got ready, everyone was on the floor trying out new dance steps. Later, the announcement of Homecoming King and Queen topped off the evening's festivities.

1. Rovert Sevo and his partner do it in style. 2. Ray Stankiewitz surveys the dance floor. 3. Lisa Willweber gets support from her date as she removes her shoes. 4. Shane Brodrick keeps up with the music. 5. Lori Tovar takes a break between dances. 6. Tim Penner and Vernette Farber enjoy a romantic moment. 7. Arthur Oetting and Stacy Haas move to the music. 8. These Seniors enjoy the Basketball Homecoming Dance.

Opposite Page: 1. Rick Jones is escorted by mascots Debbi Worthington and Linda Vogel. 2. The "Viking" looks down suspiciously at Mike and the pie. 3. Somehow the Viking doesn't look so ferocious anymore. 4. These Juniors are involved in their own fun and games.

days, thanks to Mrs. Golomb, who made the arrangements with local entities. In each case students spent a day with elected officials and staff personnel.

1. Jeff Beauchamp takes part in a discussion with some city official. 2. After lunch, the Seniors pose for a group shot. 3. City Clerk Lennie Mills points out the day's work to Becki Prengel. 4. C. McIntire, B. Yates, M. Netherda, J. Beauchamp, C. Balderston, and J. Scott sit in front of the council members.

1. Arliene Todd explains her duties to Kathy Eddy and Brenda Byers. 2. Bill Markie receives an assignment from Lloyd Kutter. 3. Carol Johnson, Mike Beckett, Chris Delfino, and Brian Yates take a break at the government center. 4. Dub Walker assists Mrs. Golomb with the schedule.

Dance. C.P. Krunt provided the music, and Mr. Briggs (alias Marryin' Sam) provided the weddings. During the two days preceeding the dance, half the school was silent for Boy's and Girl's Hush Days.

1.-5. Students enjoy Sadie's activities. 6. Emily Fries adds John Eddy's hush sticker to her collection. 7. Michelle Worthington loses her sticker to Jeff Snyder by a slip of the tongue. 8. Mike Redmond and Diana Niederhouse enjoy the privacy of a hay bale.

1. Suzanne Willey and Chris Delfino rock out to the music. 2. Kelly Beane and her date stand before the "Justice of the Peace," Mr. Briggs. 3.-6. These couples are affected by C.P. Krunt's music. 7. Kathy and Steve share a secret.

Freshmen started the year by "going for the gold" with much excitement and determination. They showed their spirit in many ways, with their enthusiastic participation, not only in rallies, sports and activities, but also in the classroom. The Freshmen were easily accepted, and quickly became a part of El Dorado High School. The consensus of opinion soon was "It's a good class."

Freshman arrived at school early or late, by bus, feet, or car, immediately greeting old friends, making new ones, and generally spreading smiles.

They took advantage of the good weather and bright sunshine on days when it was available, and their laughter and pranks made them known all over the school.

After a tie and three losses, the varsity football team put it together to win four out of their last five games. It took hard work and ## dedication

to finish in a three way tie for third place with a 4-4-1 overall and a 4-3 league record. After Bill Bishop's injury, Russ Cleland took over the quarter back position, getting the Most Improved and Most Valuable Player award which he shared with Chris Delfino. Andy Stroud received Most Inspirational. All league linebacker Gary Hood collected Best Defensive Player. Bob Cleland got Best Lineman and Rich Ludlam, Best Back.

Each fall it is not unusual to see thinly clad cross country runners panting down Main Street or any other part of town. This year, with some members running all summer as well as after school, the cross country team worked exceptionally hard. Their paid off. The girls placed second in the league as Heidi Baker and Jolynda Christopherson made it through sub-sections to go on to sections individually. Both the Freshmen and the Sophomore boys took the league championship and qualified for sections by capturing second place in sub-sections. The Frosh placed seventh while the Sophomores took sixth in a 106 school section meet where only the top twelve qualify. The boys varsity team faired well, sending four runners, Rick Jones, Mike Nicholson, Matt Huston, and Eric Baker, individually to sections.

Steve-
I've really had fun getting to know you this year - you are a super neat-o guy & a really great friend. I'll never forget our english class or D.C or the many many other senior memories! I hope we always keep in touch good luck in your future

The Junior Varsity Volleyball team had an exceptional season this year. Not only did they collect the league championship

but they also earned a record of 12-1. Teamwork seemed to be the key to their great success. The team voted Linda Parker Most Valuable Player.

The J.V. cagers

weathered

a rough season. Although only winning four games, the team came into its own against River City scoring 75 points against R.C.'s 35. The squad averaged 64 points a game for the last 5 games, showing promise with more seasoning.

The Freshman boys' Basketball team, under the leadership of two new coaches, Tom Young and Boo Weir, had a large squad of fifteen players. Each team member had the

to play and gain experience, which will add to the stabilty of the J.V. and varsity Basketball teams n the future.

1. The Freshman boys' Basketball team; J. Bailey, D. McVay, J. Strauss, B. Dezzani, R. Smith, T. Penner, R. Marshall, R. Smith, B. Birch, J. Lehman, J. Snyder, M. Tuttle, R. Eddy, K. Riggenberg, S. Bennett. 2. Both El Dorado and Elk Grove wait for the result of the tip off between Jeff Snyder and #15. 3. Jeff Snyder shoots from outside the key as the rest of the team waits for the basket. 4. A group of players from both teams wait for the rebound.

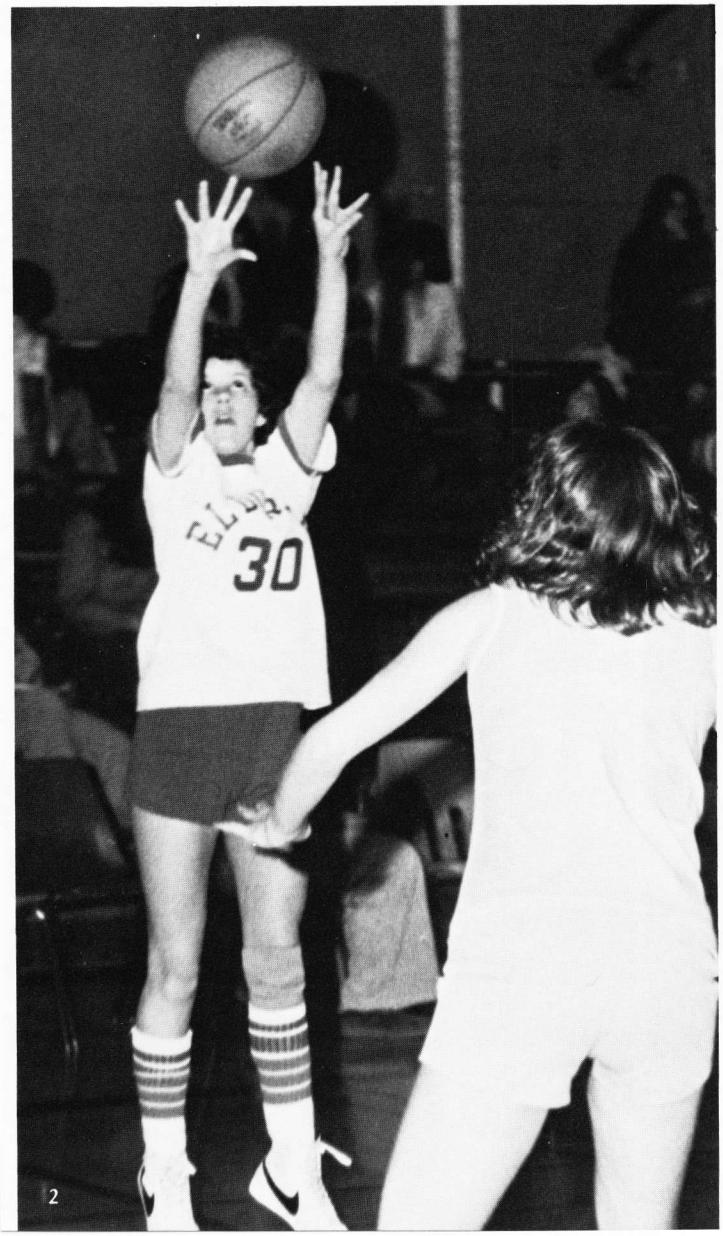

The J.V. Girls Basketball team is: Colleen Stymeist, Monica Meyer, Tami de Venter, Shelly Hirst, Kelly Stancil, Debbie Toombs, Debbie Wessels, Kaly Needham, Veronica Meyer. Center: Coach Burns. Not pictured: Karen Larusson.

The J.V. girls Basketball team seemed to control their opponents for most of the season. They had several big wins and the most they lost by was five points. Despite the fact that the team lost their center, Cathy Watson, to varsity, they went on to a fourth place in league with a 9-5 record. The team selected Debbie Wessels as the Most Valuable Player.

The girls' Varsity Basketball team not only went for the gold, they got it! They had an outstanding overall record of 21-4 and in league play they only lost once in fourteen games. The girls had a defense that was almost

because of their close teamwork. They were the first girls basketball team to ever win sections. They lost a tough game to number one ranked Delta in the T.O.C. The team voted Kelly Kalafatich as the Most Valuable Player and Karen Vardanega as Most Inspirational. Statistics showed Leslie Pereira with the Most Rebounds and Wendy Weston as the Most Outstanding Shooter.

Steve,
These past 4 years have been great & I'm so glad we got to spend them together. You're a very neat guy that has a lot to offer. Thanx for making me smile, even when you seemed to put me in a good mood. (37)
Keep in touch OK.
Good Luck & Best wishes

This year the Cougar Ski team had a strong year with a third place league finish and a sixth place finish in the two-state competition.

Christian Chappell ranked first in the Giant Slalom and third place in the Slalom in the Nev-Cal Championships. Susan Chappell took a ninth in the Giant Slalom. There were several other state skiers who finished in the top fifty.

This year's wrestling team started with a disadvantage of a very small turnout. They showed exceptional

progress

through the dedication of both the wrestlers and their coaches, with a ourth place finish in league. The team sent Tony Samaniego and Kelly McCowen to subsections, who placed third and sixth respectivly in their weight classes.

Although the Cougar Track team lacked depth this year with only a few upper classmen, they managed to get more than their share of blue ribbons. The sophomore boys

a lot of experience running on Varsity and by the time league came around and they moved back to J.V., they excelled.

easily in their first four pre-season matches. These wins increased the already great expectations for this year's team.

The team exhibited an excellent balance of experience and rookies. The Seniors, Wade Oppliger, Craig Gillihan, and Bob Edwards, were aided greatly by the scoring of Freshmen Chris and James Bailey, and of Junior Brian Rogers. With the help of their new coach, George Parker, this well rounded team showed great promise for the future.

1. Chris Bailey warms up on the tee. 2. James Bailey blasts out of the sand. 3. Mark Everingham comes out of the sand-trap onto the green. 4. Wade Op practices his chipping before a match. 5. Steve Youel and Rick Berridge clown around in a cart. 6. Frank Henning, Bob Edwards, and Jeff Clanton get their clubs on the way out to play the front nine.

The boys' tennis team this year looked forward to a successful season. They had

singles which made the team fairly consistent. The team had a more winning attitude this year according to their coach, which added to their willingness to work.

Coach Kenworthy felt that this years Swim team was an

over last year's team. Many freshman boys joined the team which added to the depth. The team had many returning swimmers who have gained a lot of experience swimming on the summer Dolphin team.

The diving team had coaching problems due to Proposition 13 and had to practice somewhat on their own.

This year the varsity softball team showed a great deal of promise, with seven returning players, Julie Hamner, Terry Harrell, Cheryl McDavid, Cathy McIntire, Kelli Redden, Joni Tucker, and Cathy West, Like other Spring sports teams, they had to supply their own transportation along with practicing in the

Mr. Steed, the new coach, helped to work out these problems with good practices and knowledge of the game.

1. The field as it looks from behind the plate. 2. As the rest of the team concentrates on the game, Cathy West and Cathy McIntire take time out to fool around. 3. Carol Armstrong takes a wide cut at the pitch.

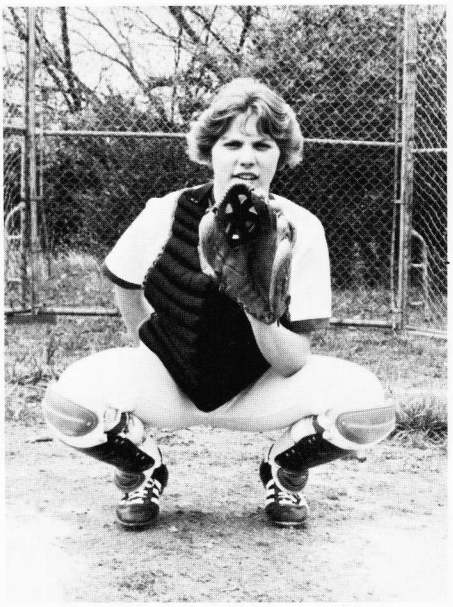

Because there was no J.V. Softball team last year, there were no returning girls to supply the team with a little experience. But, what the girls lacked in experience they made up for in athletic ability. Coach Burns saw a lot of

in the J.V. Soft ball team.

1. The J.V. Softball team: First row: K. Miracle, M. Brooks, L. Schrader, V. Meyer. Second row: D. Tuoto, K. Duane, T. Meyers, K. Armstrong, T. Van de Venter, S. Green. Top row: Asst. Coach K. Kalafatich, K. Needham, C. Locker, N. Angus, K. Anderson, M. Vanden Dugen Bille, K. Stancil, Coach Burns. 2. Marilie Brooks waits for the ball. 3. Sharalyn Green keeps her eye on the ball. 4. Cathy Locker is ready to catch a fly. 5. Kris Anderson shows her form. 6. Coach Burns discusses the batting order.

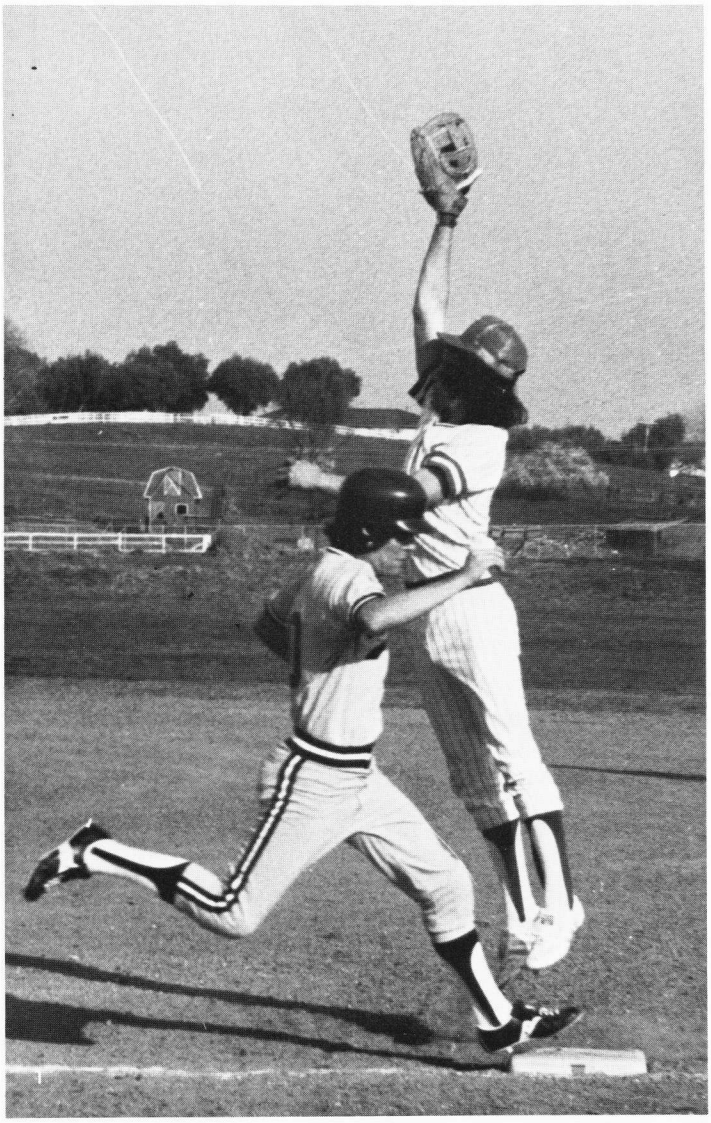

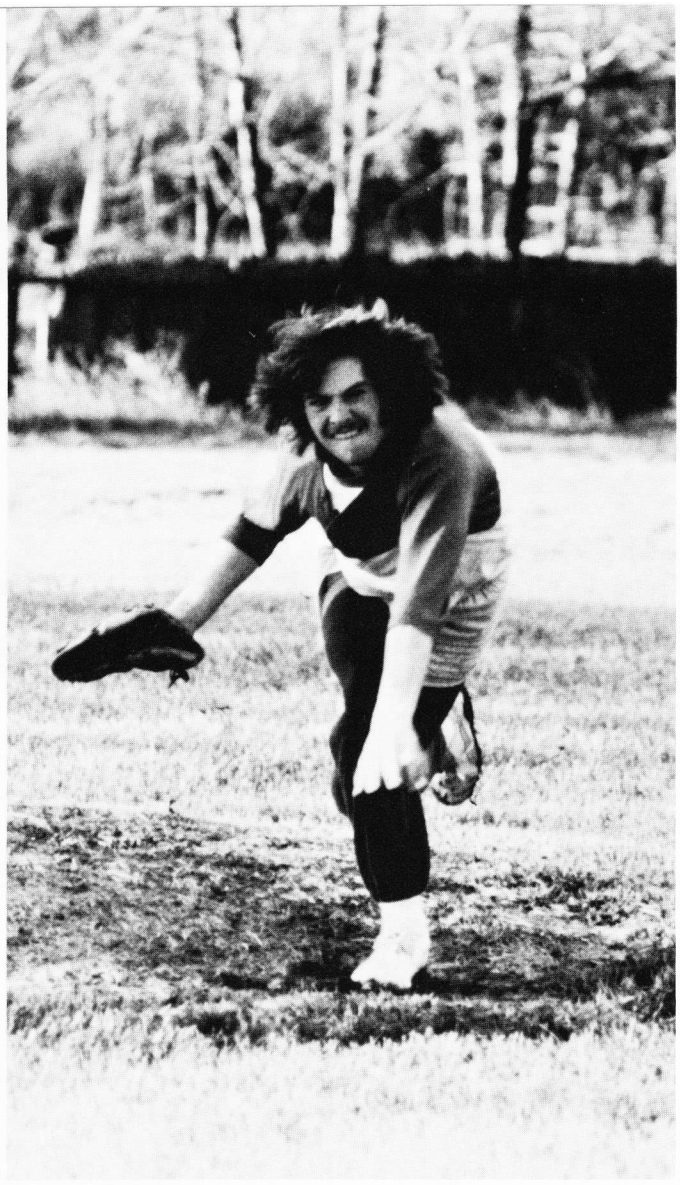

Under the new coach the J.V. baseball team sparkled with

though plagued with cancelled games due to rain. Bruce Boyle after two winning seasons in girls' volleyball looks forward to a good season.

1. Jeff Brumley jumps to catch a throw from across the field. 2. Coach Boyle talks to his team; R. Tow, D. Angus, C. Palmer, T. Barnes, D. Palmer, Greg Pecra, J. Brumley, D. Stackhouse. 3. Chris Palmer hits one up the middle. 4. Players had to supply their own transportation to and from games.

Even with all of the rain, the Varsity Baseball team started the ## season

on a good note winning two out of their first three games. Coach Everingham looked optimistically into the coming season because of the returning seniors and some good sophomore and junior players.

1. Mike Owen strains after the release of his fast ball. 2. Russ Cleland works the pitcher from behind the plate. 3. The Baseball team gets ready for practice to begin.

1. Bob Cleland stretches to throw a good pitch. 2. Ronny Haley gets set to bunt. 3. Ronny Haley watches the ball into his mit. 4. Robin Wills studies the pitch as it comes over the plate.

Sophomores showed their enthusiasm for the coming year with their spirit at rallies, and friendliness on campus. These

underclassmen

in their second year of high school, knew how to make the best of high school life. With all the homework, dances, good and bad times, they made the best of things.

Sophomores really got into their second year of high school. At every rally it was the sophomores who won the spirit stick. The largest class on campus, Sophomores, more than any other class, seemed to revel in the high school experience. But like any group they were a collection of unique people reflecting many moods by their

as well as actions. Drawn at times on each face was contentment, excitement, disbelief, amazement, "looishness," boredom, inhibition, surprise, distrust, pain, gluttony, smugness, concentration, or joy.

1. Sophomores express their emotions through paper. 2. Marlene Gibber, Julie Barker, Diana Redling and Mary Mullins get into some serious bubble blowing. 3. Rhonda Patterson leads the charge in a spirit yell.

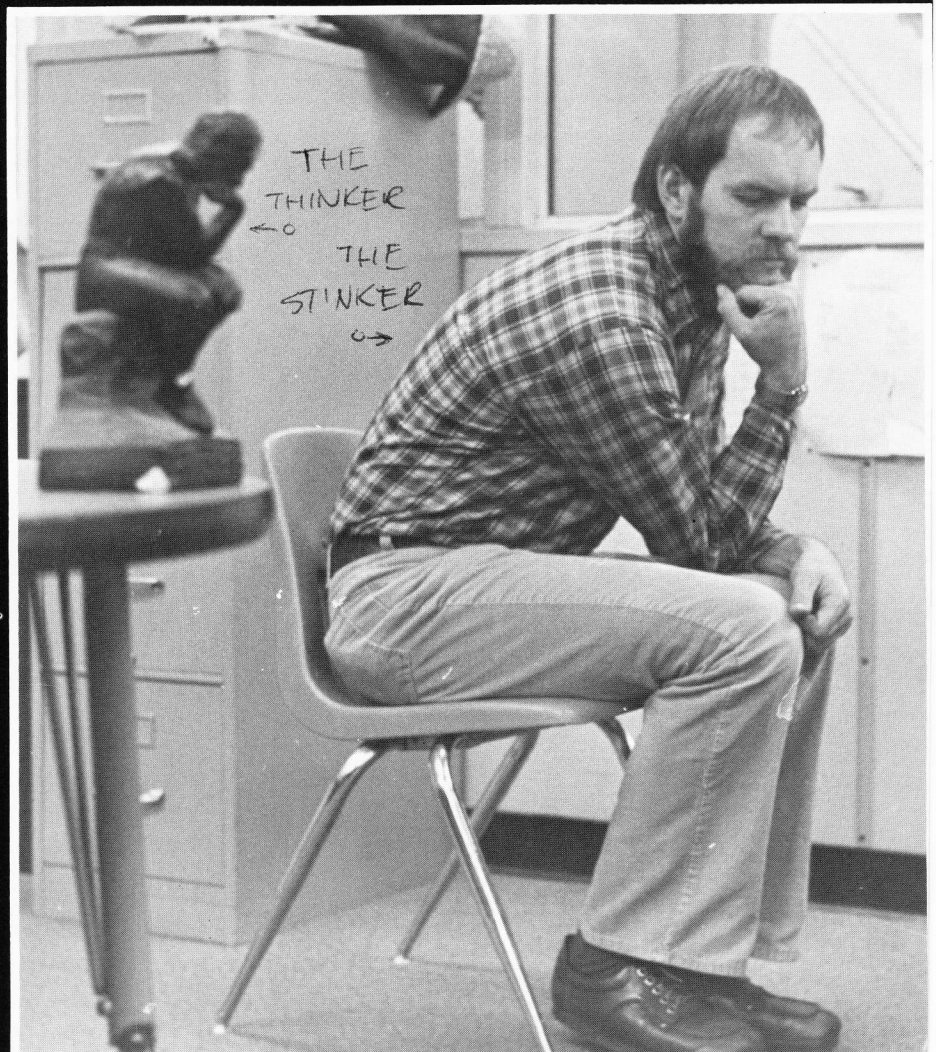

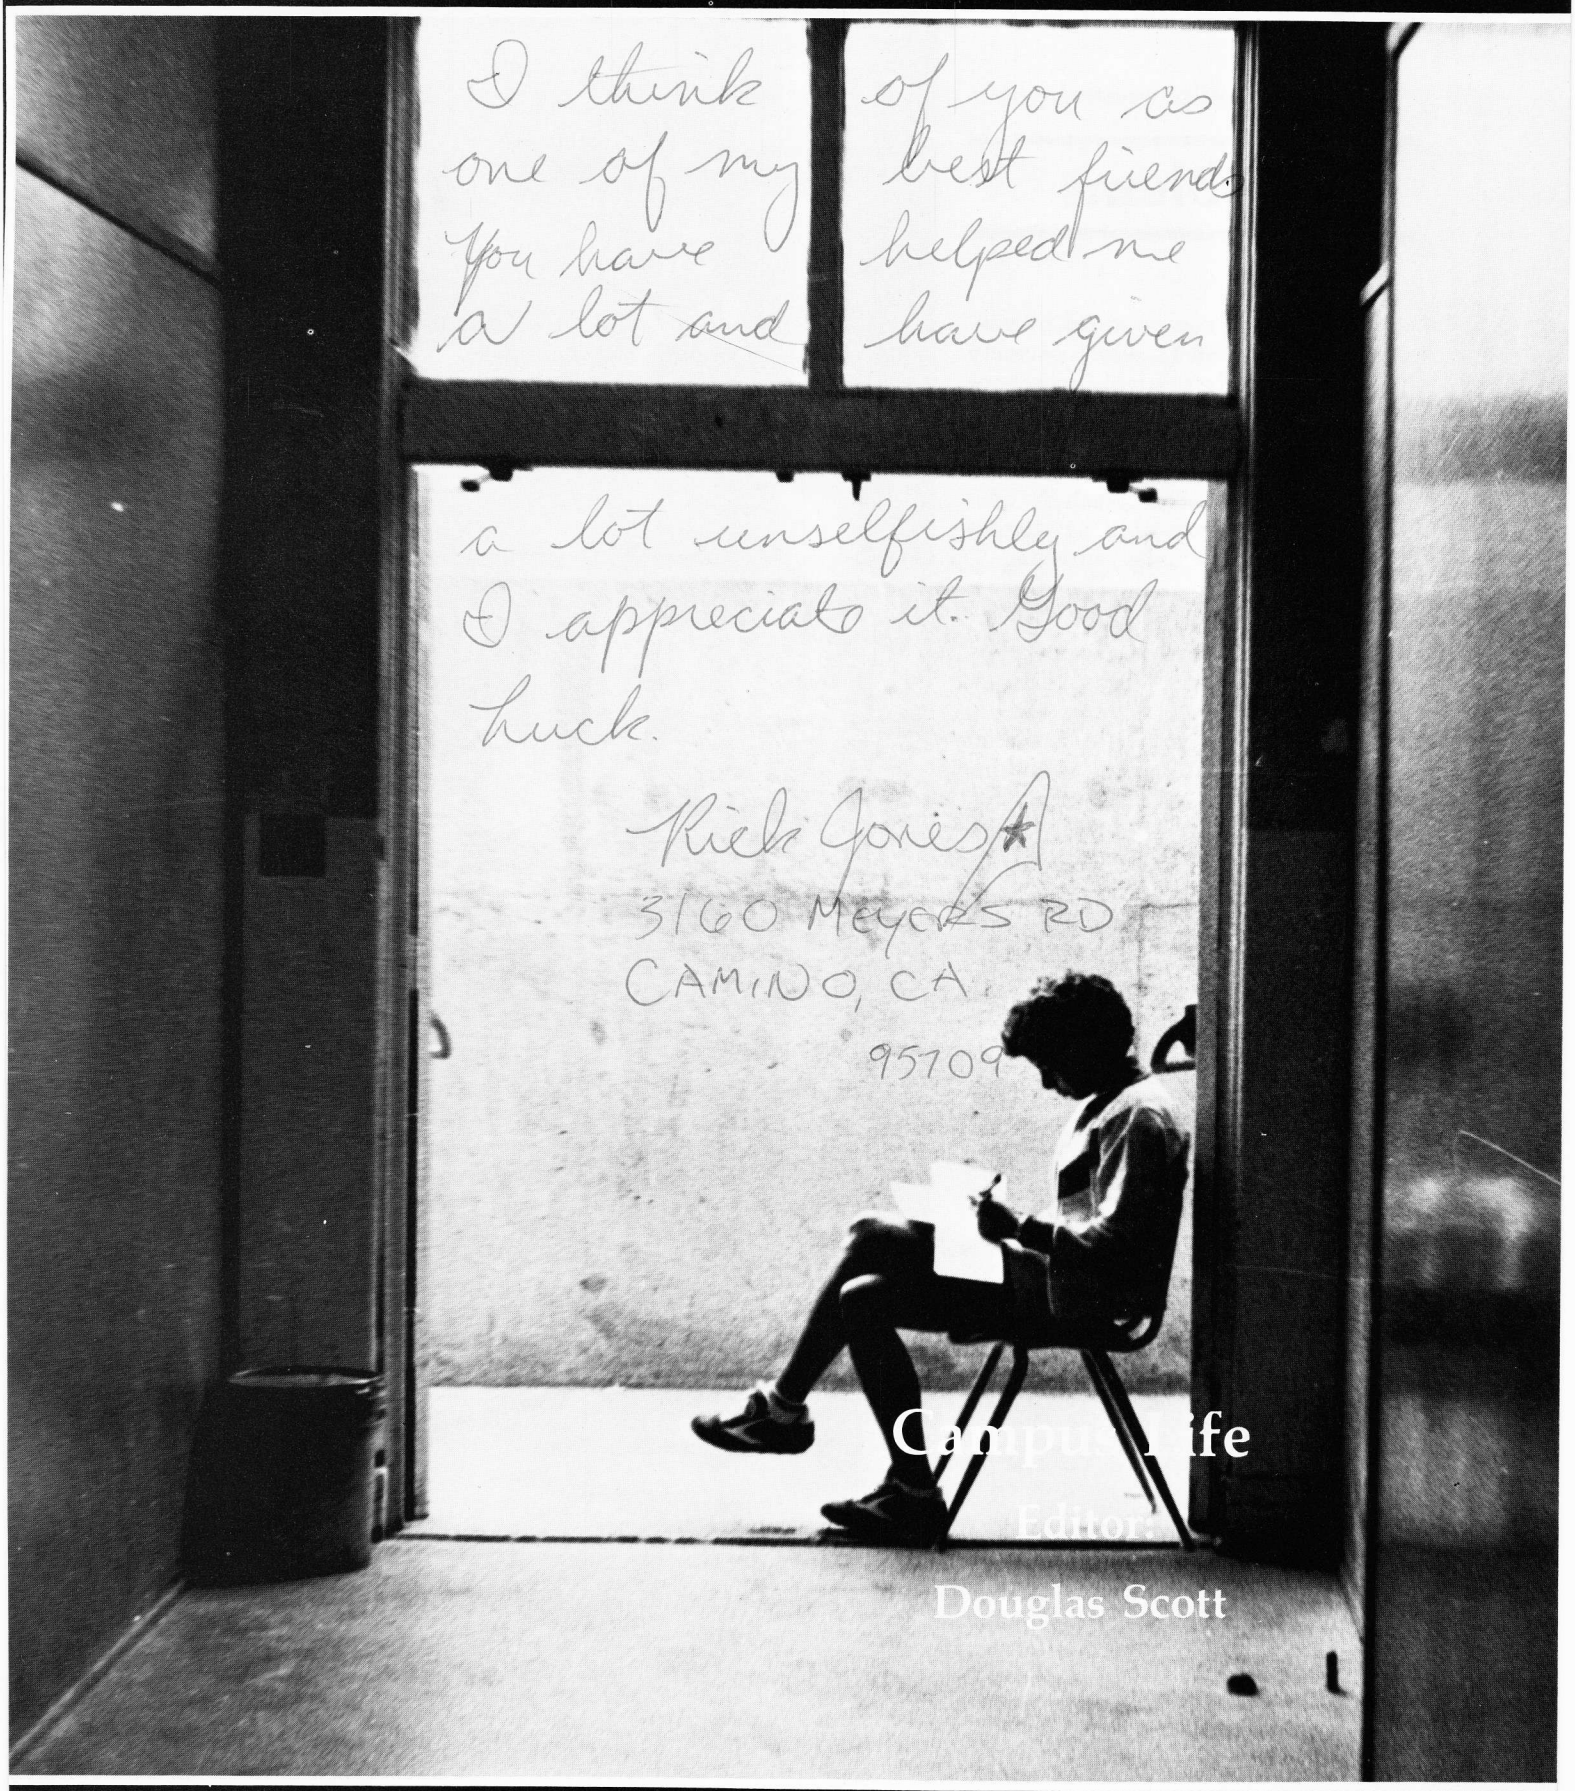

Contrary to popular student opinion, teachers are people too. They have their moments of folly as well as of depression. El Dorado's faculty "goes for the gold" by emanating spirit equal to that of their pupils, but also by striving to provide a profitable

learning

experience for all students.

The district office wrestled with # problems

of overcrowding compounded by passage of proposition 13, which severely limited tax funds available to school districts. Nevertheless, administrators initiated double sessions, cut class offerings to 5 per pupil, did not hire replacements for some teachers who left, and thus were able to sustain business as, if not usual, unusual.

1. The Board of Trustees were Peggy Stripe, Al Veecamp, John Gossner, and Delores Garcia. (Not shown: Mike Tarlton). 2. Art Cate, assistant superintendent, enjoys a telephone conversation with a faculty member. 3. Herb Hemington, superintendent, prepares for a board meeting.

1. Lila Del Nero, district bookkeeper, seems to have plenty of work to do. 2. Mrs. Joe Geyer, ROP and work experience secretary, checks schedules. 3. Lew Tuttle, district psychologist, does some scholarly reading during a break. 4. John O'Neill, communications specialist, reviews copy for the monthly newsletter. 5. Mrs. Caruthers, district nurse, shows the smile of health. 6. District secretaries were: Freddy Clark, Lynn Meyer, Sharon Head, Mary Ann Metcalfe (seated), Gail Heagy, Tecla Borem, Paula Redger, and Nell La Gasa.

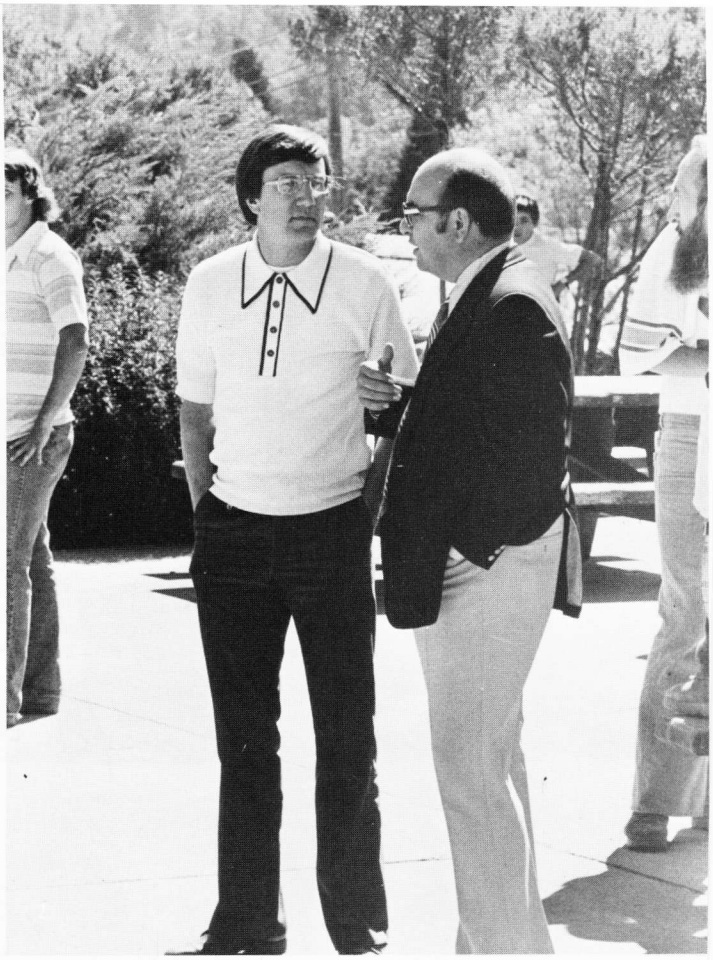

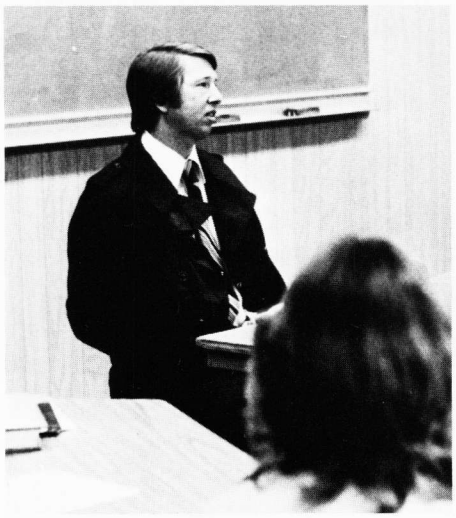

The El Dorado High School administration

students, teachers, classes, schedules and whatever to comply with cutbacks resulting from proposition 3. In spite of double sessions, the year went smoothly with most students where they should be. Discipline problems stemmed mainly from absenteeism, and counselors labored with students to help them get needed credits.

1. Mrs. Wilkinson, principal, meets with staff photographers Kris Kanelos, Dave Marion, and Sandi Smith. 2. Dave Soper and Norm Menzie, assistant principals, confer about campus problems. 3. Ron Ruptier, activities director, meets with student body leaders. 4. Mary D'Ooge, principal's secretary, coordinates the administrative day. 5. Counselors Audrey Brown, Claudia Eberhard, Ralph Burt, and Bart Tamblyn pause between counseling sessions.

The English Department, headed by Mr. Purdy, tried to stress the importance of the Hart Bill proficiency test this year. As a requirement of graduation for the '79 sophomore class and all subsequent classes, the test required use of vocabulary, fundamental grammar, reading and writing. The department, which claims to be again battled the lack of creativity in writing: a consequence of watching too much television?

Although no new courses were offered this year, the Social Science department continued to make students more informed, useful citizens as they enter the adult world by making them of current issues in the nation and world. Tom Young and Bruce Bonello joined the department staff in replacement of Mr. Nelson and Mr. Gautschi, who transferred to Independence High School.

1. Brother Bruce (Amer. Studies, Man and His World) displays one of his student's more creative papers. 2. Mr. Parsons (Amer. Gov't., Amer. Studies, Adv. Psych.) passes back the results of an important test. 3. Mrs. Golomb (Amer. Gov't., Amer. Studies, Ancient Her't.) chuckles at some of her term papers. Opposite Page: 1. Mr. Young (Amer. Studies, Amer. Gov't, Psych.) studies hard for the semester finals. 2. Mrs. Dusek (Amer. Studies, Man and His World, Humanities) beams with delight at the thought of summer vacation. 3. The typical look of interest is shown by American Studies students. 4. Mrs. Martin (Amer. Studies, Psych., Anthro.) tells about the early American conflicts which led to the Civil War.

The Physical Education department met with the problem of split sessions by

the teaching staff throughout a ten period day. With only two coed teachers per period this year, they could only offer two elective classes instead of the more familiar five. Mr. Santangelo replaced Mr. Watson who is on a one-year leave of absence.

1. Mr. Briggs (Geometry, Alg. 1) listens to a question from a student. 2. Mr. Wilson (Algebra) helps Bob Edwards with a problem. 3. Mr. Barker (Gen. Math) points out a correction to his students. Opposite page: 1. Mr. Glentzer (Math Anal., Geometry) cautions a student. 2. Miss Sasaki (Algebra, Gen. Math) shows Ron Kilby his mistake. 3. Mr. Galloway (Alg.) discusses exponents with the class.

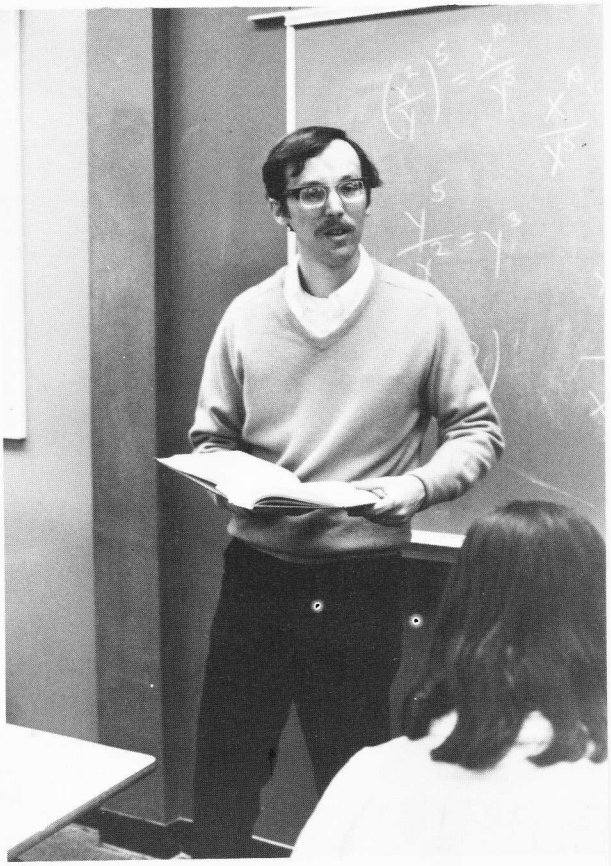

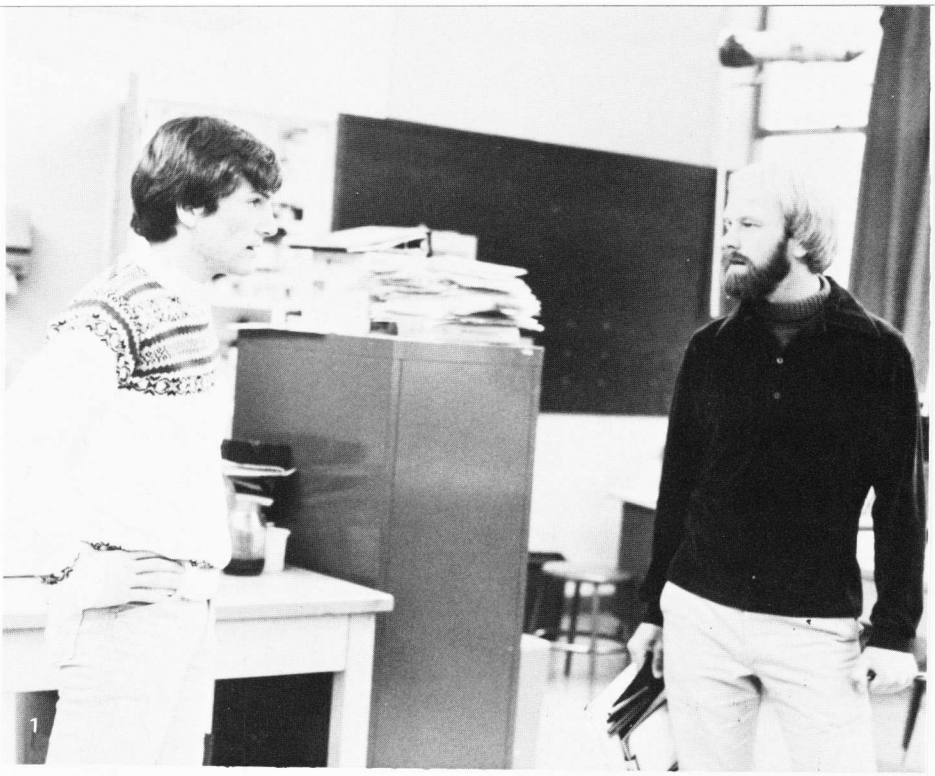

The Math Department, with the addition of Mr. Battenberg and Mr. Parker, tried to give students a higher

of mathematics, so they can be prepared for the future. Mr. Galloway, department chairman, advised all students to take as much math as possible while in high school.

1. Mr. Denega (Biology, Life Science) does not take guff from anybody. 2. Mr. Warner (P & T, Physics) demonstrates the sophisticated electronical equipment. 3. Dave McVey takes a short-cut. 4. Mr. Bolton (Physiology, Chemistry) points out the parts of a microscope. Opposite page: 1. Mr. Wilson (Biology) introduces his family to students. 2. Mr. Van Brocklin (P & T, Chemistry) examines subterrainian microorganizms. Mr. Jones (Gen., P & T Science) shows the most delicious part.

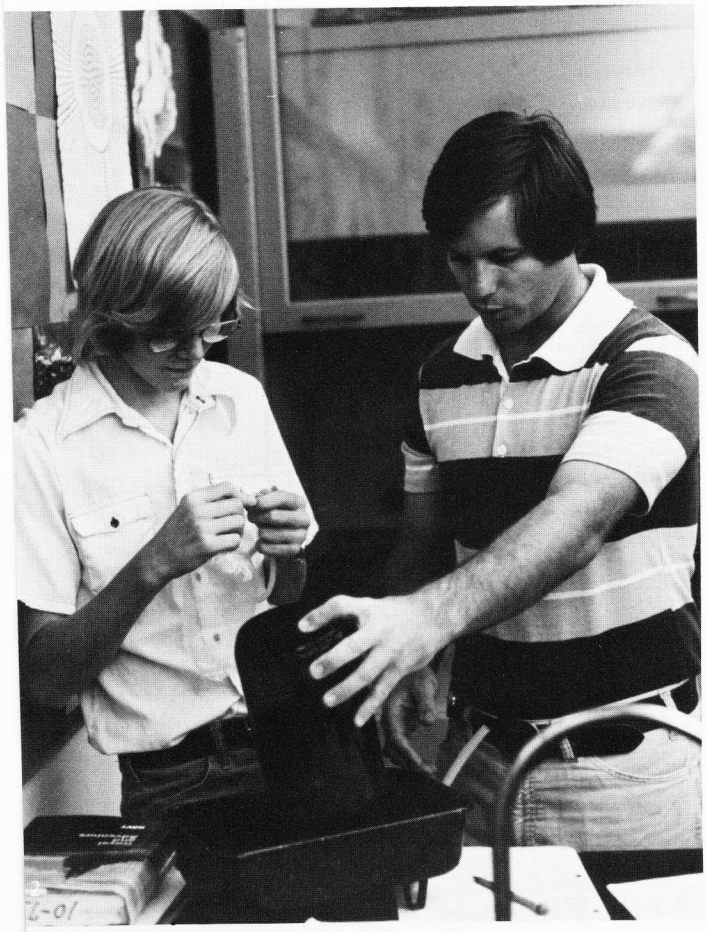

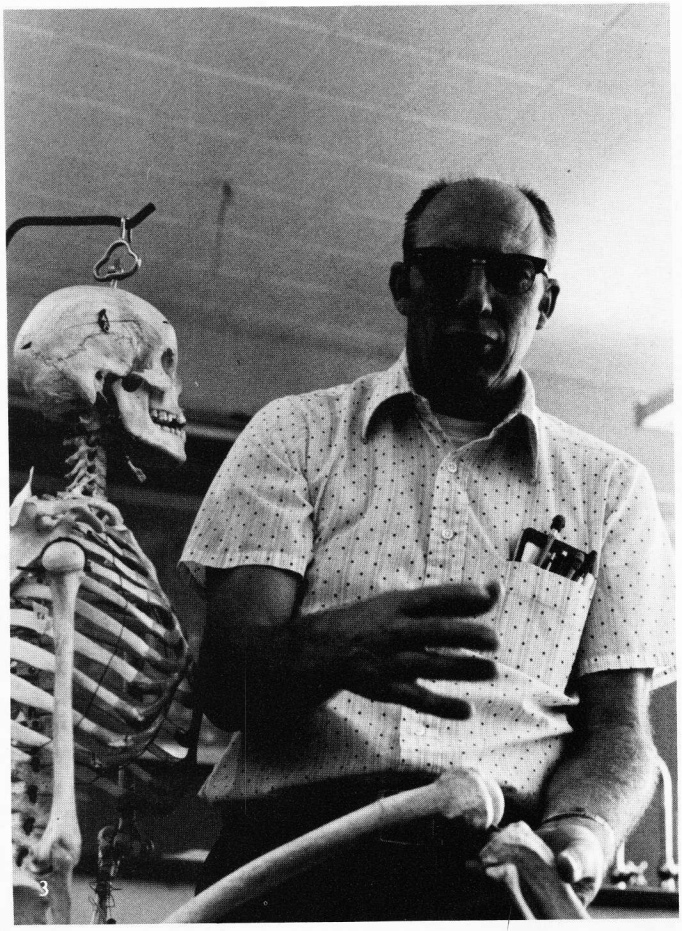

The Science Department upheld it's school ranking by continual

improvement

in teaching techniques. Even though difficulty in the school transporation became more prevalent, field trips to Steinhart Aquarium remained a part of the biological curriculum. Extra emphasis was placed on the lab activities that forced students to use their brains for a change.

Although the teachers had to keep things in hand, they still kept a sense of humor at most times.

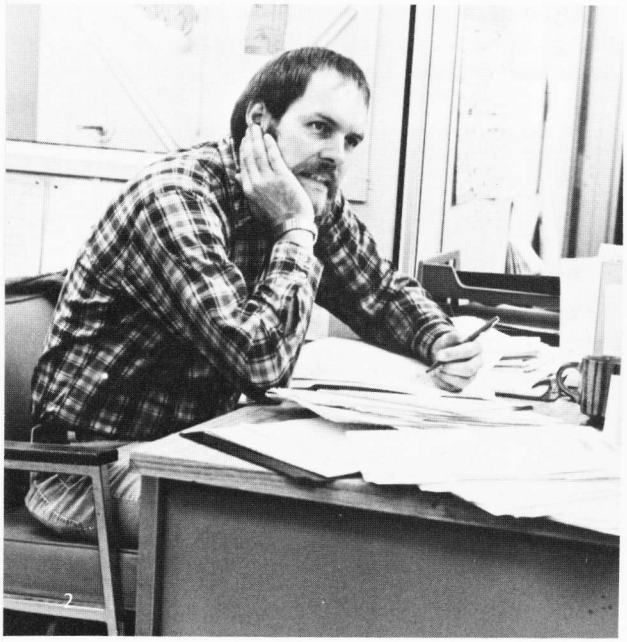

The Special Education department was improved by the addition of two new teachers this year. The staff was able to give more attention to the special

of the students, and improve their learning capabilities.

1. Mrs. Palkman, Mrs. Miller, and Mrs. Sonneborn check over some papers. 2. Mr. Steed shows the frustrations of correcting tests. 3. Mr. Burnes reviews a work assignment with students. 4. Some pupils are very industrious. Not shown: Mrs. Shinn.

The Foreign Language department brought students closer to the romance and

of far off countries. Mr. Hempt taught German, Mr. Piceno conversed in Spanish, and Mr. Chapman expounded in French.

1. Mr. Chapman seems distracted from his class. 2. Mr. Piceno points out a correction to a student. 3. Mr. Hempt demands that homework be done!

The Media Center, better knows as the library, brought

knowledge

and understanding to the school this year. With the help of many fine aides, Mrs. Comer and Mrs. Hardie had an easier time keeping the library quiet for people trying to study.

1. Mrs. Comer and Mrs. Hardie help Cindy Schamun type out late notices. 2. Library aides are: Back Row: D. Ungewitter, M. Escobar, S. Torres, K. Bardelmeir. Front Row: C. Schamun, B. Prengel. 3. Back Row: B. Meek, D. Snell, L. Barraque, M. Tasto. Front Row: R. DeAngelo, K. Cassell. Not Pictured: J. Cova, G. Grooms, S. Smith, S. Kjarebye, D. Mintz, J. Dauksavage, J. Whary, B. Christoph, S. Chappell. 4. Some rambunctious studiers "study".

The Business department trained students interested in becoming

future

secretaries and businessmen. The skills taught would be helpful in writing term papers, taking dictation and figuring income tax, just to name a few.

1. Mr. Millan (Typing, Bookkpg.) laughs at Earl Weldy's typing error. 2. Mrs. Kenworthy (Shorthand) helps a few students. 3. Mr. Fickle (Typing) fixes the books. 4. Mrs. Reed (Typing, Business) looks over a student's work. 5. Mrs. Harrison shows off the new addition to the family.

In what may be the last year that the school will offer driver's education, students still to learn and master the art of defensive driving. Mr. Marks opened his own driver's training school in anticipation of the program being dropped from the school's curriculum. In driver's education the students learn the art of driving as well as how to plan a trip by car wisely.

1. Mr. Soper talks to two students who apparently didn't pay close enough attention in driver's education. 2. Mr. Fairchild watches one of his students prepare to hit the streets behind the wheel. 3. Mr. Marks makes out his will as he prepares to go out on the student driving portion of driver's education.

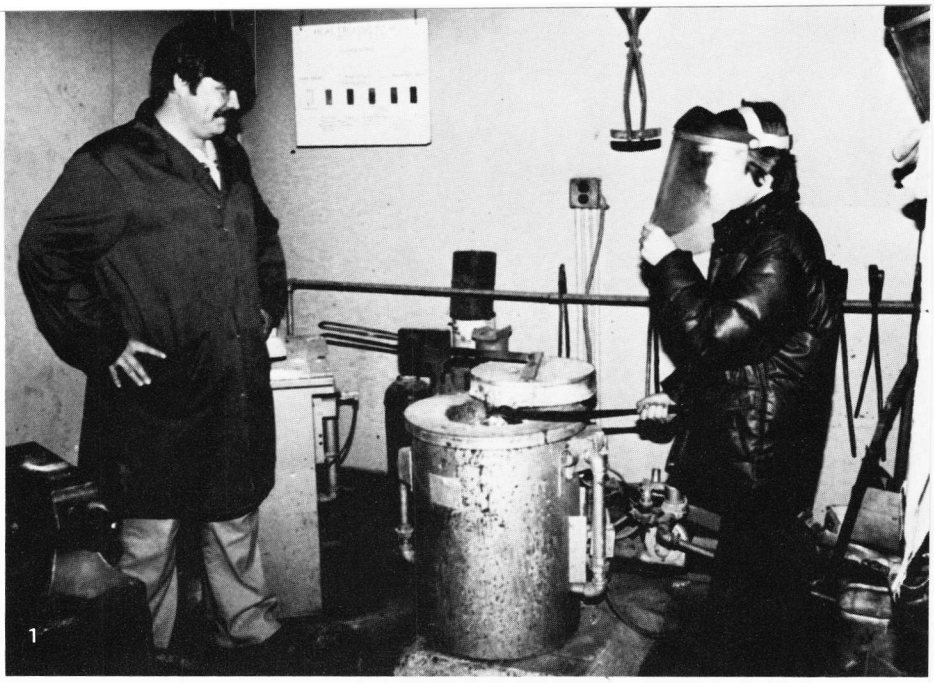

The Fine Arts Department helped students by sharing their many talents,

and cooperation. Mr. Green took on the extra tasks of instructing the choir and drama classes.

1. Ms. Tetsell shows Roxanna McCarty and Lynn Pearson how to make a bell. 2. Mr. Green leads the band in a very hot number! 3. Mrs. Floyd discusses a project with one of her students.

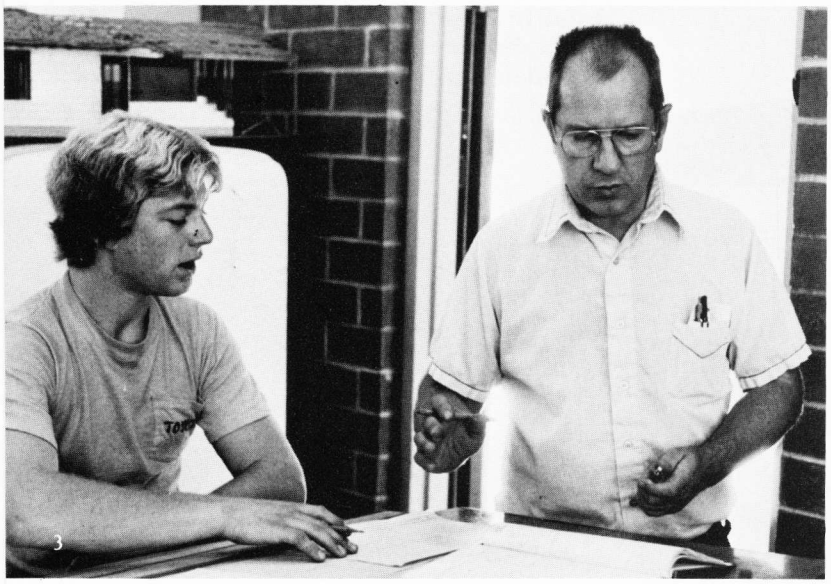

The Industrial Arts department taught students the basic

skills

of wood work, metal work, drafting, and auto maintenance. The metal shop class was limited to one class per day because Mr. Hall was a dual teacher for Ponderosa and El Dorado.

1. Mr. Hall (Gen. Metals) advises on the proper way of molding metal. 2. Mr. Bidstrup (Shop Fund.) watches a staining demonstration along with other students. 3. Mr. Roundtree (Drafting) explains the right way to hold a pencil when drafting. 4. Mr. Jones (Auto Shop) shows Chris Kanellos how an engine operates.

The Agriculture Department strove to provide students with good

practical knowledge and experience. Their goal was to enable them to better cope with repairs and the many odd jobs that are a part of the mechanical and scientific yet still agrarian living found in El Dorado County.

1. Mr. Bolton, Mrs. Martin, and Ms. Tetsell enjoy a home-cooked (?) meal. 2. Teachers crowd the faculty lounge for a chance to eat, talk and relax. 3. One of the many ROP instructors helps to prepare his pupils for the world of work. Opposite Page: 1. The custodians—John Miller, George Varonella, Bill Pulley (Head Custodian), and Loren Massaro—keep the school clean and comfortable. 2. Gwenna Antilock, Mrs. Wilma Hollingsworth, and Amber Parks provide smiling, friendly service in the cafeteria. 3. Bud Shoun (maintenance), Isaac Butts (custodian), and Gary Pike (custodian) work together to improve the school facilities. 4. Custodians smooth cement for a new walkway. 5. Mr. Shoun and Mr. Pike build a wall to prevent erosion. Not Shown: David Hodges, groundsman; Byron Thomas, poolsman; and Steve Kodelja, custodian.

Besides teachers and administrators, there were others who worked hard to make this year a good experience, unsung who did their jobs, rain or shine. The cafeteria workers, though no regular lunch hour existed, stayed to provide snack items for nutrition. The custodians had more to do this year, as they erected new walls and sidewalks, in answer to the erosion problem.

When the Seniors

the Teachers to a basketball game, they didn't realize the capabilities of the opponents they were taking on. The game was hot and close and thoroughly enjoyable for the audience, especially with the charming cheerleaders yelling their little hearts out on the sidelines. In the end, the faculty triumphed, with the score coming out 65-64 in their favor.

what a bunch of lovelies!

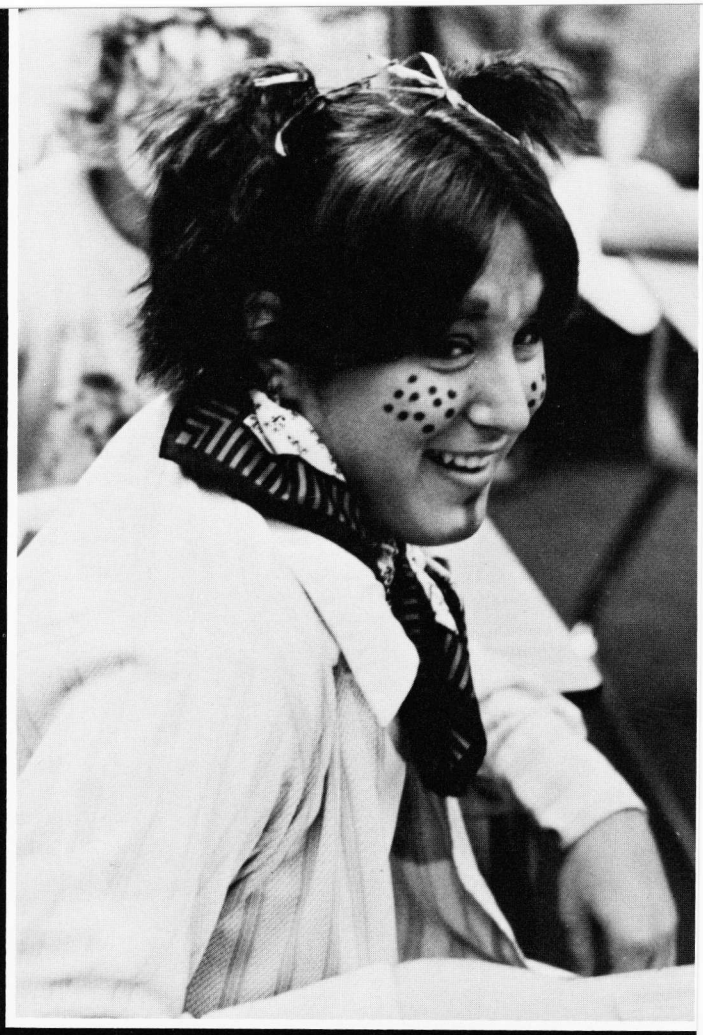

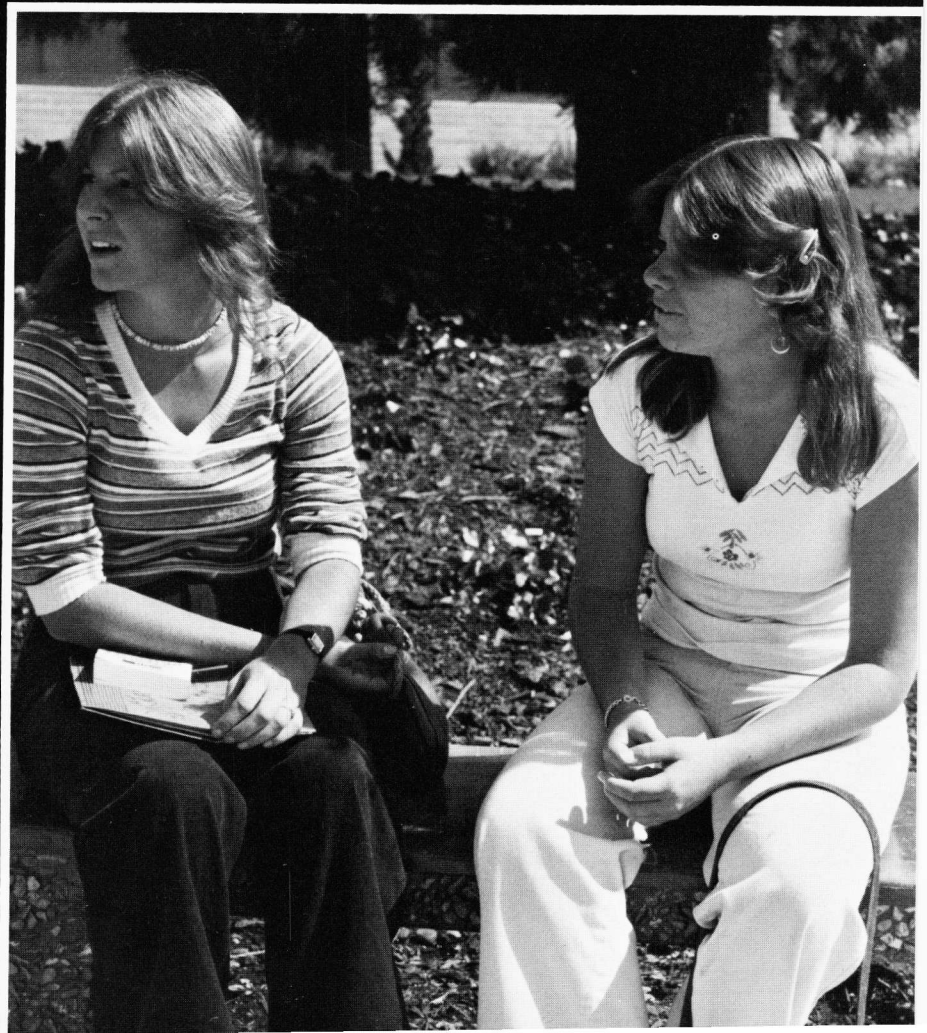

The total high school experience is an accumulation of activities, feelings, and moods. Perhaps more than any other class juniors are in this process. Too young for "senioritis" yet past the awkward freshmen year and the growing-pained sophomore year, juniors combined a sophistication with exuberance found only in their breed. Perhaps more than any other class juniors relished every minute of the year, ferretted out and capitalized on the value in each golden moment of their unique experience.

National

Merit

Scholarship Corperation consists of participating businesses and large corperations, who put together the scholarship for students scoring in the top half of of all high school juniors, on the preliminary scholastic aptitude test. Of those finalists who duplicate the scores on the scholastic aptitude test, only 14,000 make it to Finalist Standing. Of these 14,000, only one thousand $1,000 dollar scholarships are awarded.

Seniors studied hard and gained the

knowledge

that would carry them into their long and golden future.

The class of '79 went for the gold in many ways. They cheered on their teams at the games and their class at the rallies. They learned what they would need for college and made decisions that would change their lives and decide their future ahead.

Though the new schedule split up the seniors there was a sense of unity in the class. Each and every senior felt his importance and his role in the main leadership body at El Dorado.

The class of '79 will never forget the times here. In life, as it was at El Dorado, they will always go for the gold.

James Nerwinski contemplates his next move in the game of life.

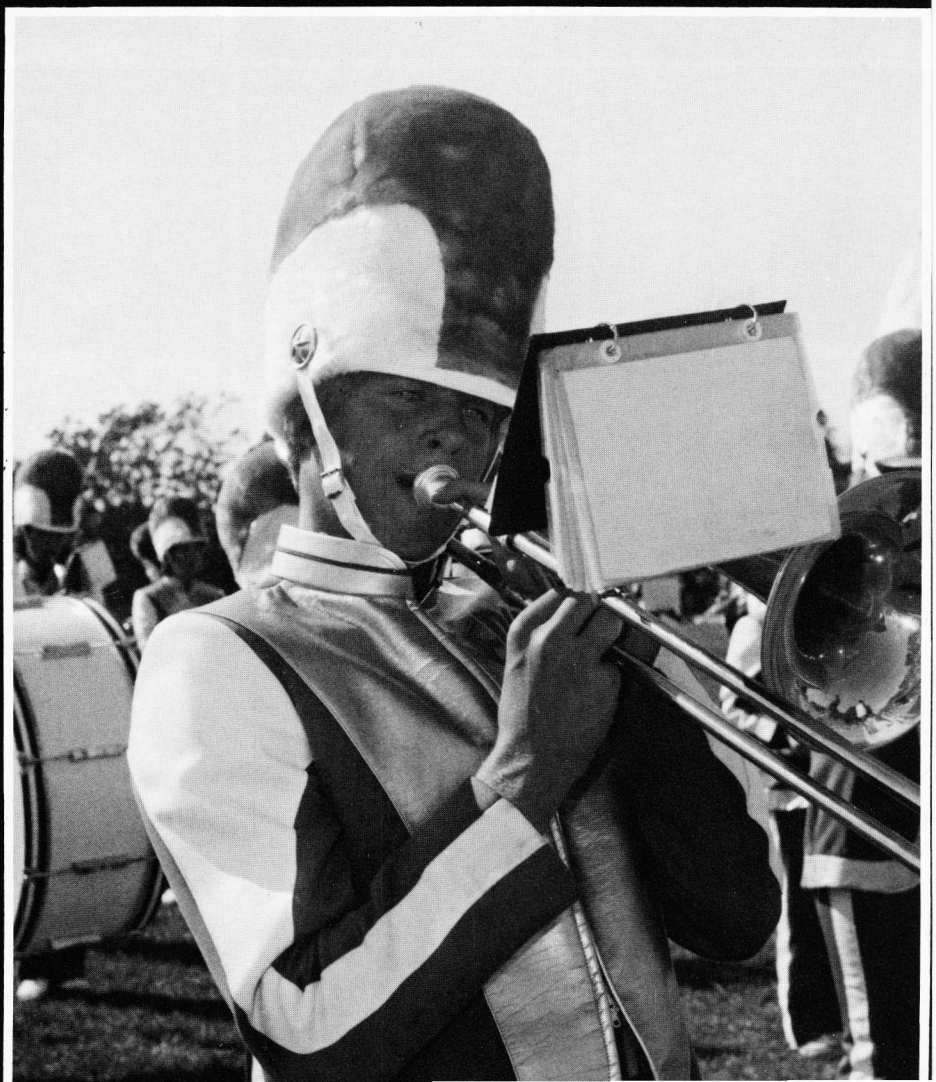

Even with the split schedule, clubs and organizations seemed to survive ## inspiration.

Organizations displayed great vigor by sponsoring school dances and helping to run the concession stands at home games. Organizations lent a hand in showing that El Dorado High School was "going for the gold."

Organizations

Editors:
Loretta Barraque and Rosie Carpender

Each autumn C.S.M.O. adds the spice and seasoning, the color and pagentry, the spirit and enthusiasm that revives the school after a long hot summer. Their vibrant personalities often spell the difference between a routine activity and a memorable event. No one forgets the

razzle

dazzle days of cheerleaders, songleaders, and other peppy people.

1. Varsity cheerleader Sue Schneider puts all she has into drawing a cheer from the crowd. 2. Songleaders, D. Hodnett, C. Jones, L. Linson, T. Jones, and varsity cheerleaders, S. Schneider, K. Walsh and T. Morris help the cougars "go for the gold". 3. The cheerleaders attempt to elicit some spirit from a crowd. Opposite page: 1. L. Willweber does a cheer in 50's style. 2. Kathy waves to a friend as Sue and Darci watch the rally. 3. The songleaders and cheerleaders applaud the band during halftime.

We Love our Team

1. Debbie McAdams and Penny Estes consider the outcome of the game. 2. Sheri Schneider, Maria Northridge and Pam Ross laugh with Bob Compton during halftime. 3. A little girl finds Sheri's shoulders a nice place to sit. 4. Maria Northridge explodes with spirit.

The

of the freshman cheerleaders helped add fun and excitement to the atmosphere of the school.

1. Freshman cheerleader Stacy Glass dances for the crowd at a rally. 2. Jeri Lynn Schneider and Pam Ross double-up on spirit. 3. Freshman cheerleaders Stacy Washabough, Stacy Glass, Jeri Lynn Schneider, Becky Campbell, and Debbie McKinney strive for perfect coordination in a cheer. 4. Becky Campbell and Stacy Glass discuss the up-coming game. 5. The C.S.M.O. holds up a banner and awaits the charging cougars.

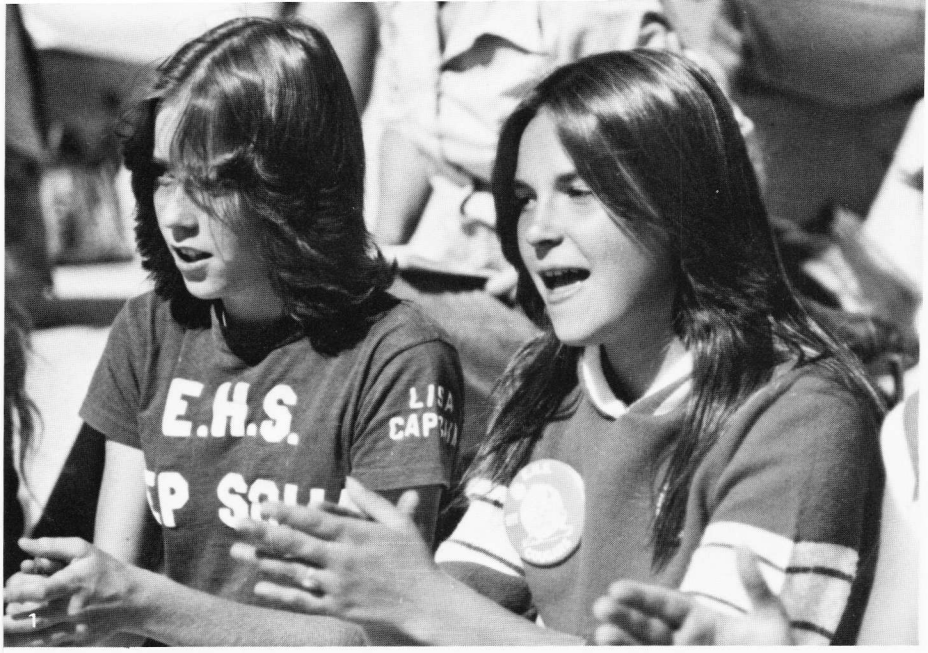

Chanting and singing frequently rose above the general noises of the crowd. Invariably such sounds eminated from the combined voices of the cheerleaders, pep club, songleaders, and drill team. Seldom at a loss for words, these groups often created a cacophony that somehow translated into spirit and umparalleled in any other setting. But whatever the sounds were to onlookers, they were music to the ears of those "going for the gold."

The sun glistening off golden instruments, bright uniforms, splashing color, the marching band added to the afternoon football games. Likewise throughout the year at rallies, athletic contests, apple hill, and other activities, the big blue music machine made each event memorable as well as melodic. With help from the drill team, tall flags, and baton twirlers the band enhanced its spectacular image.

1. The band members play the music with confidence. 2. The band marches around the field proudly. 3. Dan Gonzales throws his drumstick up during a song. 4. The band performs in great style during half time.

1. The tall flags Kathy Eddy, Debbie Worthington, Linda Vogal, Marcia Chandler, Kelly Clark, Sue Perpall, perform with the band during half time. 2. Kelly Clark clowns around during practice. 3. The drum section keeps the beat for the band.

The Students To Ashland was an organization of students interested in # Shakespeare.

They will travel to Ashland, Oregon in July, to visit the Shakespearean Festival held there yearly. While they are there, they will attend several plays, seminars, backstage tours, and lectures. To raise money they sold stationery, and worked a concession at the play "Annie Get Your Gun." The advisor was Mrs. Gibson.

Seniors to Washington consisted of 37 inspired and

devoted

seniors. They spent many long hours making preparations for their trip. They left on April 4, and returned on April 11, 1979. This year the seniors were expected to make a report pertaining to Washington before they were allowed to go.

The cost of the trip was $475 per student, although many of the students helped raise the money they needed by working at concessions, sponsoring a dance, having a paper and magazine drive, holding a huge crab feed, and numerous other fundraising activities.

Opposite Page: 1. Matt Houston explains the advantage of fund-raising events. 2. Beth corson makes sure there is a sufficient amount of crab on the table. 3. Joan Delfino demonstrates how to mix with her hands while Candy Kyburz, Anne Funk, and Kathy Kenworthy observe. 4. Seniors to Washington were: Row One: D. On November 7th voters went to the polls to vote on an issue to control growth through severely limiting building permits in the county.

Proposition 5

was soundly defeated by a 3 to 1 margin. Business people along with builders, developers, and those who supply them heaved a sigh of relief. Although proposition 5 drew attention to the need for planned growth, 1979 promises to be the biggest year in new construction the county has ever had.

Placerville's downtown is a quaint conglomeration of narrow streets and older buildings. Like most downtowns it needs a shot in the arm to remain a viable business district. Plaqued by poor traffic circulation and an acute shortage of parking, downtown merchants looked favorably upon a grandiose plan affectionately named The Downtown

Revitalization

Project. The scheme would transform Reservior Street, now a run down back alley, into a second artery for traffic as well as a 300 slot parking lot. In addition the project would open up 1500 lineal feet of business frontage. Merchants held their breaths as the city drew up plans, made models, applied for a construction grant from the Economic Development Agency, and finally sent four city council members to Washington D.C. to lobby for the project after E.D.A. offered to fund only half the project. If and when it will be built is still a question, but as one downtown business person succinctly put it, "We're dead without it!"

December 2nd Placerville caught the spirit with the annual Christmas

parade

Units from business organizations, the city, and schools strutted down Main Street in the chill December weather, warmed by their enthusiasm and the holiday season.

All in all the business and school communities worked together to provide a healthy climate for education and business. Both in spite of or because of the vast influx of new people into El Dorado County. As students left school each day, whether from the morning or afternoon sessions, they often headed downtown where they spent some of the estimated $546,000 spend by EHS students annually.

Best Wishes Class of "79"

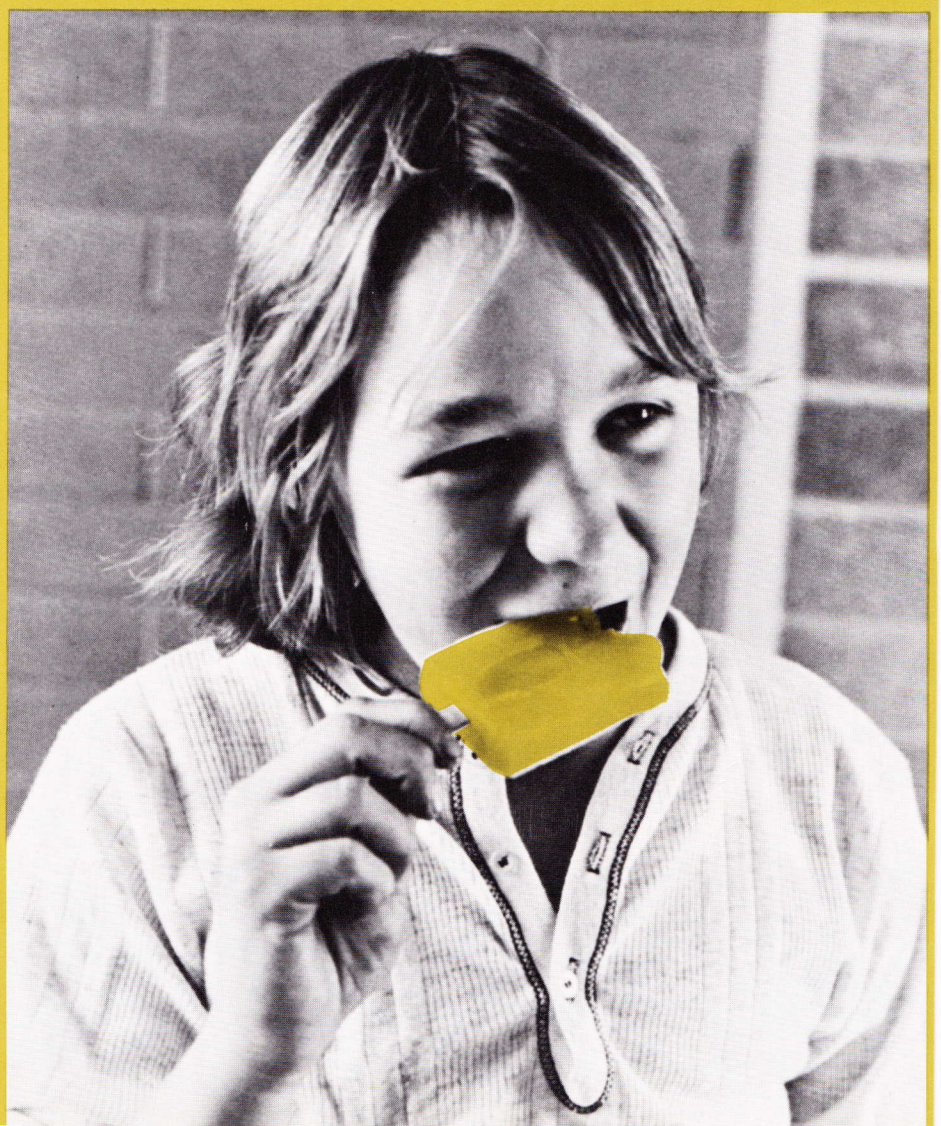

Gold comes in many forms: the glow of a sunrise, the championship of a tournament, the warmth of friendship, the moments caught in a yearbook. But, mostly, gold is found in people, people who are always

for a higher goal.

"Man's reach should always exceed his grasp."

Golden moments

Most of life's golden moments spring from # friendships.

We at El Dorado are known for our friendliness, courtesy and ability to get along well with others. It takes a special person to understand people and treat them with respect and kindness, to "kiss a few frogs" that might be sitting along the way, to give sympathy where it is needed and praise where it is due — in short, to love.

"Wherever there is a human being there is a chance for a kindness."
— Seneca

"You just call out my name, and you know,
wherever I am,
I'll come runnin' to see you again.
Winter, spring, summer or fall,
all you have to do is call,
and I'll be there — you've got a friend."

Faces are all around us, registering humor, doubt, happiness, concentration, silliness, hatred, fear, contentment. Pictures capture these emotions for eternity, but the people who felt them have gone on, progressed and changed; except for here, those moments are forgotten.

Those who succeed in reaching goals are individuals.

They are not loners, but when it comes to achieving what they want, they stand alone and "go for the gold."

There are three kinds of people in the world: Failures, Non-Achievers, and ## Achievers.

Failures do not set goals; Non-Achievers set goals but do nothing to achieve them, and Achievers consistently set goals and consistently reach them. These are they who not only go for the gold but get it.

Steve— Din really glad D got t know you this yar. D feel real lucky to have been able to sh the times we did in english. You are a special person, a I'm sure you'll always do wel that at least most of your dreams come true. Please remember we're not as the "brain" (YUK!) of English but as your friend. Take care, Jodi Ann

Whether on the athletic field, the classroom, or the world or work, El Dorado has contributed more than its share of achievers. Thousands of El Dorado students have come and gone with most making a positive contribution somewhere each day, representing thousands of man-years of success.

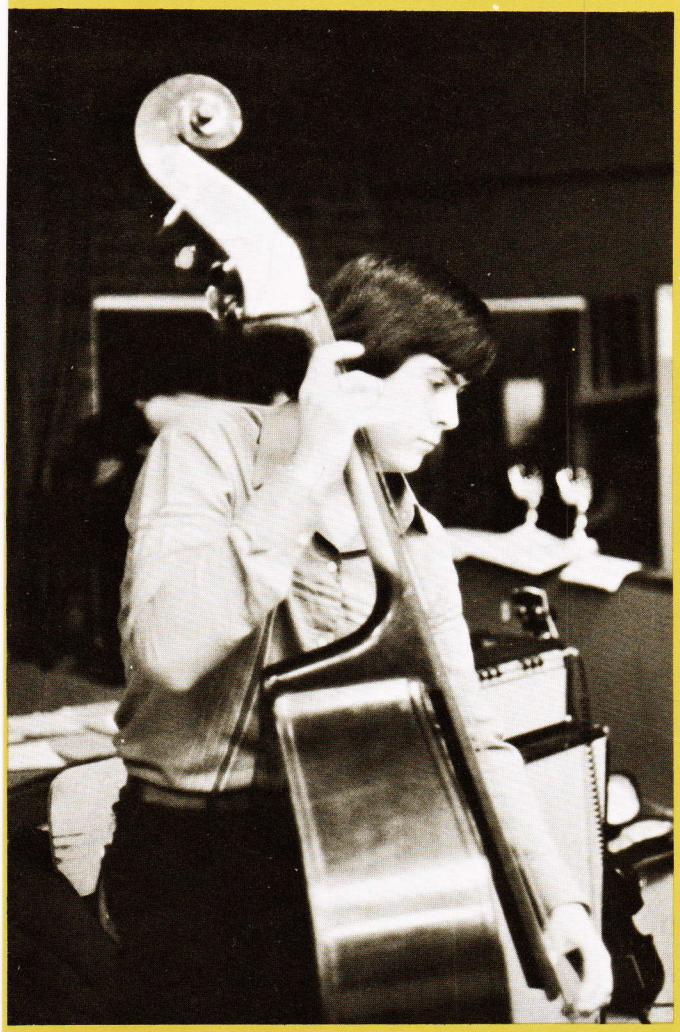

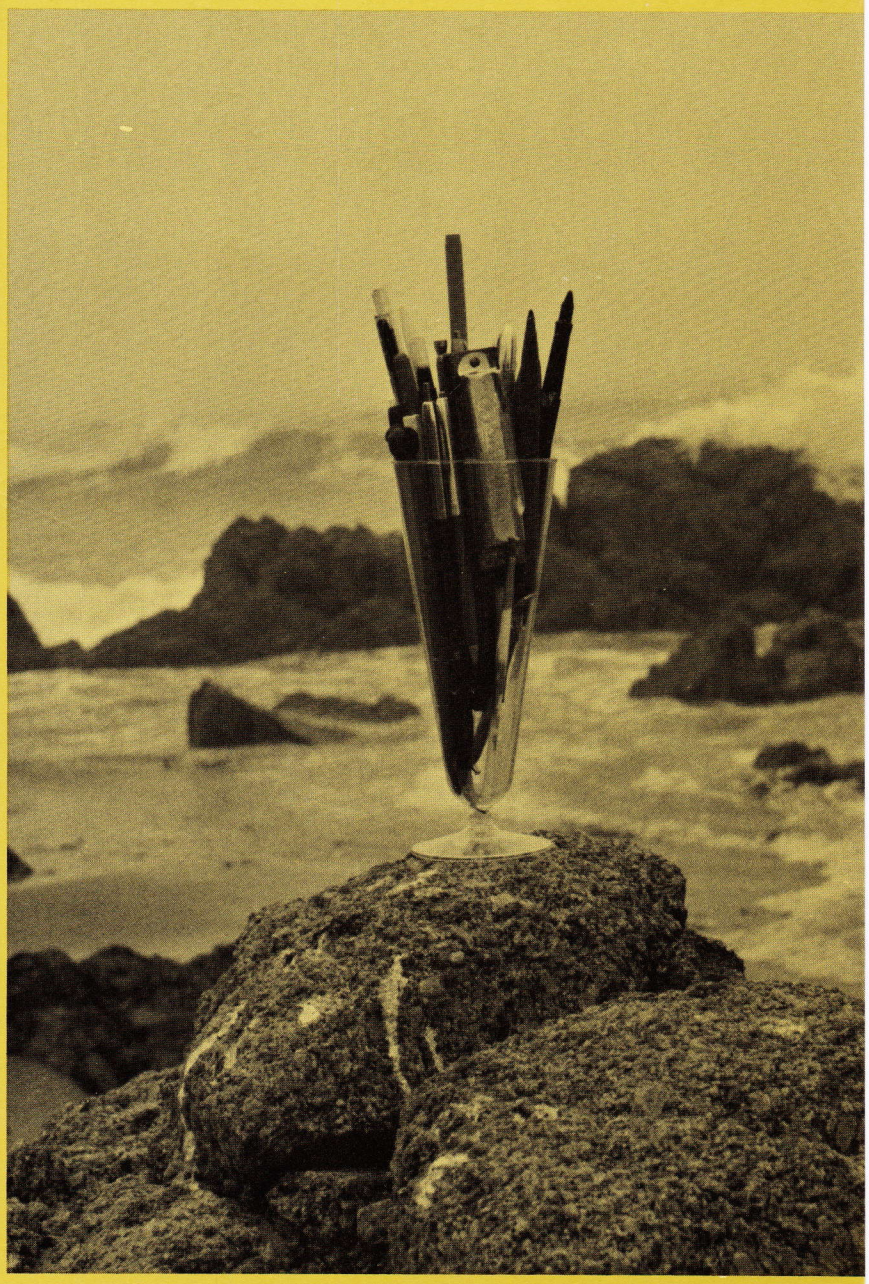

The goal, the gold, the unreachable star is only unreachable to those who won't try. We are only so small or so large as our minds let us be. Let it not be said of us that we did not make it, that we tried but life was too swift. The race we'll win; we'll

and make it. The star we'll touch; no, not touch—clutch.
